Typhoon Rakes Guam, Causes $100 Million In Damage

HONOLULU (AP) — Typhoon Karen—described as the worst tropical storm in Guam's history—has rendered the island nearly helpless, leaving hundreds injured, at least one dead and an estimated 100 million dollars in damage.

Karen ripped the tiny island —hub of the United States Pacific defense ring—late last night and early Monday, Guam time, with winds estimated at 105 knots.

The Navy's Pacific Fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor said a three-day warning of the big blow "saved countless lives."

Guamanian and U. S. military personnel and their dependents began digging out of the battered island.

Guam's acting governor, Manuel Guerrero, sent an urgent appeal to Washington to rush aid. He said, "entire territory devastated by Typhoon Karen."

Guerrero's message said 95 per cent of the island's civilian community, including government employe housing, was useless or destroyed.

Pacific Fleet headquarters said four of every five civilian homes had their roofs blown off.

The acting governor's message said George Washington High and Tumon Junior High schools were destroyed. Guam Memorial Hospital, the island's public works department and utilities agencies were extensively damaged, Guerrero said.

He asked the Office of Emergency Planning to declare Guam a disaster area.

Residents took refuge in shelters and government buildings. The Federal Aviation Agency said some dependants were to be taken to Wake Island.

Any removals or emergency airlifts to the island, however, were dependant on when Guam's airstrips could be cleared. The FAA reported all airstrips inoperable. Pacific Air Force planes were standing by to carry in supplies and equipment.

The Navy's tracking center at Guam gauged sustained winds of 135 knots last night and early today before personnel were forced to run for shelters. Messages received in Japan said winds gusted to 147 knots before measuring devices broke down.

Some 70,000 persons live there, about 40,000 natives or civilians from the United States. The other 30,000 are military men and their dependents, associated with the headquarters of U. S. Naval forces Marianas, other Navy installations or the Air Force's Strategic Air Command center for the Far East.

The island, just a dot on the map, is 30 miles long and four to nine miles wide.

6 Democrats Looking For Miller's Job

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Filing opens tomorrow for the strangest congressional campaign in the history of the United States.

Candidates have until Dec. 7 in which to place their nominating petitions with between 500 and 1,000 signatures of registered voters in the hands of a county clerk in one of the six counties of the First Congressional District, which includes Marin County.

Seventy days from tomorrow, after a campaign interrupted by Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's holidays, voters will cast ballots. The man who tallies the highest total, even though it not be a majority, will represent the district in Washington.

At least six Democratic candidates are definite aspirants, they told a Democratic caucus Saturday in Willits. Six other persons, including Mrs. Clem (Katharine) Miller, widow of the late congressman whose posthumous election created the situation, definitely took themselves out of contention.

LEADING CANDIDATE

Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, Northern California chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and twice before an unsuccessful candidate for the job, emerged a leading candidate. He would not ask anyone to endorse his candidacy, he said, but "if you ask me to run, I will do so."

The other five who told a caucus of more than 200 Democrats in Brooktrails Lodge that they wanted Democratic Party endorsement, but indicated they would not run without it, were:

Nick Kobseff, Nicasio tavern operator, who was not present but sent a telegram in which he said he would "like to toss my hat in."

ALSO MENTIONED

Martin Wener of Ukiah, Mendocino County supervisor.

Merle Orchard of Ukiah, former Mendocino County district attorney.

Two prominently mentioned persons definitely taking themselves out of the race were:

State Sen. Carl Christensen of Eureka("I am not a candidate, but I intend to support whomever you select") and Mrs. Elizabeth Gatov of Kent Woodlands ("Under no conceiv-

Marinites Observe Vets Day

Veterans Day in Marin was marked by only a few ceremonies scattered around the county today and yesterday.

The holiday was officially observed yesterday, although schools and city, county, state and federal offices were closed today.

Flags were put up in downtown Mill Valley this morning by Mill Valley Explorer Troop 34, under the direction of John T. Little, troop adviser. Many stores and homes in San Rafael and other communities also displayed flags.

A wreath was laid in front of Mill Valley City Hall yesterday at 11 a.m. by Veterans of Foreign Wars, Muir Woods Post 6741. A patriotic program and barbecue were held yesterday afternoon by Mill Valley American Legion Post 284.

Army reservists in Headquarters Company of the 362nd Regiment assembled at the Army Reserve Center in San Rafael to hear an address by Col. John R. Martindale, regiment commander. The company stood in silence for one minute at 11 a.m. in memory of the Americans who died in the two world wars and the Korean War.

More Showers Forecast Tonight

Sporadic showers started in Marin County around noon today. More were promised tonight and possibly tomorrow. Rain began in San Rafael just after 12 o'clock but stopped within 15 minutes. Two points in Mill Valley checked at almost the same time differed as to whether it was sprinkling.

It was showery at Point Reyes Station. In Novato there was some drizzle for a few minutes around noon, then sun broke through. Sausalito reported all dry.

Bowman Starts Recall Move Against Novato's Silva, Pozzi

Notices of intention to start recall proceedings were sent to Novato Mayor M. E. Silva and City Councilman Everett Pozzi by registered mail Saturday, Alfred W. Bowman said today.

The action came in the wake of the Novato City Council's 4-1 vote last Thursday night in favor of a depressed freeway on the present Highway 101 route through the heart of Novato. The vote wound up a special public hearing held by the council. At a previous hearing held by the California Division of Highways, a route by-passing the city (the "J" route) was favored.

Bowman, a member of the Novato Chamber of Commerce freeway committee, already has filed papers for recall of City Councilman John Angeloni. He said today he would start circulating petitions for Angeloni's recall on Thursday. Fourth councilman who voted for the through-town freeway route was Howard Schoof, elected last April. Mrs. Lucile Cannon voted against it. Bowman said he was not seeking to recall Schoof because, in running for election, Schoof did not campaign for re-routing the freeway.

Informed of Bowman's action, both Silva and Pozzi said

President, Aides Consult On Cuba; 42 Missiles Counted On Russ Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy and his top consultants on the Cuban crisis met for an hour and 45 minutes today at the White House, but there was no announcement of results.

Withdrawal of Cuban missiles from Cuban bases was one subject that was certain to have figured in the discussions.

The conference brought together not only the U.S. negotiators assigned to the United Nations during the Cuban crisis, but also the members of the executive committee of the National Security Council. The Security Council members have been meeting almost daily with Kennedy.

At the conclusion of the session, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., Adlai E. Stevenson, left the White House by the west basement entrance. With him—they all climbed into a black limousine—were John J. McCloy, chairman of Kennedy's Cuban crisis coordinating committee, and the two other committee members.

Kennedy had summoned the top Cuban crisis negotiators to the White House to discuss "developments to date" in their talks with Soviet and U.N. representatives.

The announcement of the meeting, issued by the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, did not elaborate. One development certain to be on the agenda is the Soviet missile withdrawal.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric confirmed Sunday the United States has counted 42 Russian missiles on ships steaming away from Cuba.

He stressed that without onsite inspection the United States cannot be certain whether the 42 were all Moscow sent in.

"The Soviets said there were 42," he said. "We have counted 42 going out. We saw fewer than 42 in U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba.

"Until we have so-called onsite inspection of the island of Cuba we could never be sure that 42 was the maximum number the Soviets brought into Cuba."

WEDDING NEAR

Shark Mangles Marinite's Leg

Farallones Skin Diver Excursion

He was reported in good condition today at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

French, who lives at 19 Elizabeth Way, San Rafael, is scheduled to be married next Saturday to Cam McMenamin, 23, also of San Rafael. She is a daughter of retired Army Lt. Col. and Mrs Frank J. McMenamin of 11A Chestnut Drive.

AT HOSPITAL

"If I can walk up the aisle, the wedding will go ahead," young French said from his hospital bed.

French and about 30 others were on a skin-diving expedition about four miles west of the Farallones. He had surfaced after protographing sea life 100 feet below and was heading back to their boat, the Sea Dog III, when the shark attacked without warning.

"First think I knew, it grabbed my hip and took me down about 15 feet," French said. "It was squeezing and biting all the way down my leg to the ankle.

"I stabbed at it with my speargun and it took off. That's the last I saw of it."

WITH FRENCH

A. F. Giddings Jr., who operates the Bamboo Reef Skin Diving Supply north of San Rafael with young French, was also a member of the diving expedition.

Giddings said he was swimming ahead of French. "The shark made only one run," Giddings recalled. "We swam back to help LeRoy to the boat. We saw the fin cutting through the water but then it disappeared."

French was taken to the Farallones Coast Guard Station where a helicopter picked him up and flew him to Harbor Emergency Hospital.

French said he was not able to fire his underwater spear gun but could use it only to

McInnis Says Russians Never Had It So Good

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

"If the people of Russia are oppressed and downtrodden, we certainly found no evidence of it.

"By our standards, they have little. But in their reckoning, they are well off. Their parents and grandparents never had it so good."

That is the conclusion of Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael, who led the Marin Executive Delegation to the USSR.

McInnis, reviewing his own impressions and those of other members of the delegation, commented that he did not find the Russian people dour or spiritless.

The Russian people do not want war. And they do not dislike Americans. But they have been thoroughly schooled in a thesis the Marin visitors heard over and over: "The American president is a puppet controlled

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

$1 Million In Pearls Stolen

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Every available man on the 65-officer Forth Worth police detective bureau searched today for clues to the identity of a mysterious burglar who jimmied a hotel door lock and walked away with 70 pounds of pearls valued at one million dollars.

Chief of detectives Andy Fournier said an all-points bulletin is out for the thief who entered the room of a Japanese pearl exporter Saturday night through a valet door. Fournier said Cecil Sanders, a hotel doorman reported seeing a man leaving about midnight with a bag similar to that containing the pearls.

The pearls taken included a golden yellow pearl, one of the largest and rarest of its kind. It was valued at $10,000.

Hikoji Sakata, a partner with his four brothers in the Sakata Pearl Co. Limited of Tokyo, said the collection included 57,000 pearls.

Asked why he had not put the pearls back in the hotel safe Sakata said "that was my biggest mistake." He then dropped to his knees and wept.

Coins Stolen At Truman Library

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Burglars who apparently knew exactly what they were after broke into the Truman Library here today and stripped two large cases containing a collection of coins dating back to 1789.

Dr. Phillip Brooks, head of the library staff, said it was impossible to set a value on the stolen items because "you cannot express historical values in terms of money."

"But they were very valuable and it would be my guess that the burglars knew exactly what they were after," he said.

Brooks described the collection as "one of the most valuable things in the library," which houses the personal papers and documents for former President Harry S. Truman.

Pope's Physician Dies

ROME (UPI)—Dr. Filippo Rocchi, 62, one of Pope John XXIII's physicians, died last night in a Rome clinic five hours after the Pope had visited him.

Fire Hits Reno Hotel

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Pre-dawn fire broke out on the second floor of the Riverside Hotel today, forcing 200 guests to flee.

The fire was doused soon after it broke out of a room and into the hall and no serious injuries were reported.

The fire was believed to have started in a janitor's alcove, but smoke was soon spreading throughout the seven-story structure.

"It could have been a very bad fire, but as it turned out it wasn't much," said Fire Chief Wagner Sorensen. "Thank God it wasn't another Golden."

He referred to the Golden Hotel which burned here last April with the loss of six lives.

Snow Geese Arrive

RODANTHE, N.C. (AP)—Thousands of snow geese began arriving yesterday for their annual winter stay in this Outer Banks area.

The birds, say oldtimers, have been coming to the Outer Banks each year since 1918 on Nov. 11 to spend the winter.

A wildlife refuge was built here in the 1930s to accommodate the geese. Officials said about half of the 30,000 snow geese in existence fly here each fall for the winter.

Bear Kills Woman

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A mother bear, enraged when a farm couple approached her three cubs in a corn field, killed one woman and injured seven other peasants in the ensuing melee, the Belgrade press reported yesterday.

The animal fought off peasants armed with scythes and sticks, shook off a shotgun blast, blinded one attacker and bit another. She was driven away by a worker on a tractor.

Rare Cranes Spotted

More than 1,000 delegates are attending the society's annual convention here.

Heart Fund Grows

NEW YORK (AP)—The public gave a record total of $27,135,317 during the 1962 campaign conducted by the American Heart Assn. and its affiliates last February.

In announcing this yesterday, the association said the sum was 2.66 per cent higher than the amount contributed in 1961.

Action In Congo

A message from the U.N. Command in Leopoldville yesterday said the U.N. air force would fly over the area to verify the reports and would announce later what action, if any, it would take against Katangan planes.

U.N. officials said they had "fairly reliable" reports that about 10 Katangan planes dropped at least 69 bombs Saturday in five successive strikes at objectives in North Katanga. There was no estimate of casualties. The reports told of bombing victims being evacuated.

Khrushchev Seen Gaining As Much As He Lost In Retreat From Cuba

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Strong evidence from Moscow suggests that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been helped as much as he has been hurt by the Cuban crisis. Indications are that he will have his way in preparing the U.S.S.R. for a long-pull economic cold war.

Close examination of what went on before, during and after the 45th October Revolution anniversary seems to justify speculation concerning developments of high significance in the global political-economic war.

A picture emerges of Khrushchev as chairman of a collective of Soviet leaders whose theories, doggedly pushed since the destalinization congress of 1956, now are being vindicated.

The collective thus has had the opportunity to apply a coup de grace to its internal enemies and turn its attention to Khrushchev's original program. This seemingly was based on the assumption that nuclear war would ruin the Soviet Union, and that the logical course was to prepare for economic war on a world scale.

This does not mean Communists will not grab opportunities where they find them. But it can mean that the overriding policy is "better safe than sorry." It can mean that so long as the United States and the West keep up their guard, caution will be the Kremlin watchword.

The Cuban adventure showed how close Moscow could come to blundering into nuclear war with recklessly warlike policies. It is even possible the missile buildup in Cuba was undertaken against Khrushchev's better judgment, that he was overruled when the decision was made some months ago to go ahead with it.

Indications now are that Khrushchev's side has won whatever debates went on in party councils regarding the decision to pull back the missiles.

Having won that argument, the collective is strengthened in holding back impatient Communists who want aggressive action in West Berlin and elsewhere.

All these things undoubtedly were dealt with during the parade of visits satellite leaders made to Moscow recently.

Walter Ulbricht, head of the East German Reds, has been nagging the Kremlin for quick and decisive Berlin action, because the problem adds to his headaches in an economically floundering satrapy.

But Ulbricht and company seem to have been told that they will have to wait. The Russians probably already have a peace treaty for East Germany drawn up and ready to be signed by the Red bloc at a given signal, but for a while there seems little chance this will be done.

Principally, the Kremlin seems preoccupied with putting off the time when it might have to take an action which would take the U.S.S.R. beyond the point of no return.

The whole Communist bloc is burdened with economic problems. It has, in addition, the problem of Red China, an ailing giant whose leaders are clamoring for tough action against the United States.

Obvious deep economic difficulties in East Germany, Bulgaria and to a lesser extent in other satellites also may be dictating attention to internal bloc problems as a matter of Communist world security.

The whole tone of the 45th anniversary celebration was one of moderation.

The keynote speech by Alexei Kosygin laid heavy emphasis on economic problems. He stressed the need to satisfy Soviet consumer demands for meat, butter, milk, shoes, clothing and dwellings.

All this may signify a significan turn in Soviet policy. It can mean that the present Soviet leadership has decided, with regard to Communist expansion, to make haste a little more slowly, at least while the Western world remains on the alert.

TV Program Of Alger Hiss Causes Many Cancellations

NEW YORK (AP) — A televised appearance of Alger Hiss on a program entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon" was met last night by a flood of phoned and telegraphed protests, cancellation of the program by several stations and picketing of network studios.

One Midwestern station carrying the program received a bomb threat but it proved to be a fake.

ABC said the taped program gave an honest summary of Nixon's career, including comments from persons applauding him.

Nixon, as a U.S. representative from California, started a 1948 congressional investigation of Hiss, then a high official in the State Department. The probe centered about charges by the late Whittaker Chambers that Hiss had been a member of a Communist underground cell.

Hiss later was convicted of perjury for denying he passed information to the Russians. Now out of prison, he is a New York City printing salesman.

Hiss said on the program that Nixon was a congressional investigator who was "less interested in developing the facts objectively than in seeking ways of making a pre-conceived plan appear plausible."

Hiss said he didn't know if Nixon was "poltically motivated." But, he added, "I certainly don't think that he was unaware of the political boost, the political soaring up into outer space that the hearings and the subsequent trial provided for him."

"If it hadn't been Mr. Nixon," Hiss went on, "perhaps someone else would have tried to jump into the same situation and benefit by it."

Hiss denied he held "any feelings of hostility" toward Nixon, but made clear that "I don't have any feelings of great personal warmth or affection."

Kansas Prairie Fire

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP)—A prairie fire yesterday swept over about 3,200 acres of central Kansas driven by 20 to 30-mile-an-hour winds.

Six firemen from Lyons were injured when a sudden gust of wind whipped the flames around them. Five were hospitalized for treatment of burns and smoke inhalation.

Fire fighters said they believed the blaze was started by careless hunters.

Cubans At U.S. Base Tell Of Grim Life With Castro

Fifty refugees from Castro are here now, although U. S. officials do not admit this. The Cubans tell of hunger, a shortage of doctors, police-state rule, and disaffection even among the people's militia.

They say the militia, the bulwark of Castro's military position, was disgruntled when it was put on short rice rations after being called up because of fear of a U. S. invasion. Two of Castro's soldiers were said to have deserted to this base, but there was no official confirmation.

Western intelligence experts estimate Castro has 200,000 men and women in the militia, and a regular army of 80,000 equipped with modern Soviet weapons.

Castro appears now to distrust the militia, refugees say. They report militiamen no longer can keep their rifles and machine guns while off duty and must account for all ammunition issued.

Besides the refugees, who climb the high steel, barbed-wire-topped fences or swim past Communist guards on the seaward side, Cuban workers at this base also are a source of information on life on the outside.

A worker employed on the base for 20 years said the people were overjoyed when it appeared last month President John F. Kennedy was about to crack down on Castro. But now he said the people are disappointed and downhearted.

"The medical situation in Cuba is very bad," he said. "I heard three days ago my friend died without medical attention. Castro is very short of doctors and he is trying to improvise doctors. Anybody who had any experience is now a doctor.

"They have a sickness in Oriente which they have many names for, but it is against the babies. They have high fever and diarrhea and then they die. I know of five or six babies who died in the last week. It is bad.

"In the last 15 months I say maybe 60 per cent of the people are against Castro. In this time of crisis it has worsened.

"When President Kennedy made his Oct. 22 speech announcing that Soviet missiles were in Cuba and must be removed, it made the people very happy but now they are downhearted. They are angry and hungry. They cannot get anything to eat.

"The United States is losing a lot of friends. People do not know what to do. People are just sick and worried."

He was asked about police-state conditions in the city of Guantanamo, 30 miles from this base.

"They have block committees and each block has a committee and they watch especially all who work on the base. We have so many friends who have disappeared. Two I know got shot," he replied.

"I guess I know a hundred friends who are in jail right now. They have what you call a mock trial. They get picked up and maybe questioned for two, three days. Then they are in jail for maybe two, three months before the family is allowed to visit them and then they find some got eight years to stay in jail."

NORSTAD SAYS NATO FORCES 'DEFICIENT'

PARIS (UPI)—Supreme Allied Commander Gen. Lauris Norstad warned today that NATO forces in Europe are "critically short" and suffer from "deficiencies of serious proportions."

Norstad expressed confidence, however, that Europe can be defended. He disclosed he has ordered a mobile forward defense in most of Central Europe rather than holding rear positions.

Norstad addressed the eighth annual conference of parliamentarians of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

The supreme Allied commander was to have retired from his post Oct. 31 but he was asked to stay a few months longer because of the Cuban crisis.

"The fact is,and I have made no secret of it, that our forces are critically short in a number of ways — there are deficiencies of serious proportions," Norstad told the 15-nation conference.

"We are still short certain major units. Many of those which we have are seriously short in combat and service support. There are notable deficiencies in available supplies and there is a general lag in furnishing the modern equipment without which our forces would have to fight at a great disadvantage."

Norstad added, however, that "within the limits and for the purposes of our directive from the political authorities, NATO Europe can be defended."

"But I must add—and hasten to add—that until the goals are fully met we are subjecting ourselves to unnecessary risks in the process of this defense," he added.

"What remains to be done is relatively small compared with what has already been accomplished. We have only a short distance to go but this is critical."

Norstad said he has ordered the commander-in-chief of Allied troops in Central Europe, Gen. Pierre Jaquot, "to prepare his forces to conduct a mobile defense in most forward areas rather than to hold rearward positions."

"While additional forces would be desirable," he said, "a forward defense can be maintained on a minimum basis if the requirements of our present program are fully met."

He said he recognized that the idea of moving NATO defense lines forward in this fashion involves a risk.

"But I also feel that on balance the effectiveness of our effort will be far greater than if we remain in a position that has been dictated by our plans up to recent months," he said.

Adenauer Doubts Pullout In Cuba; Has Vote Loss

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he is far from sure that Moscow is really removing its missiles and nuclear warheads from Cuba.

He said he finds it hard to believe that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev took the trouble of sending missiles, atomic warheads and other material to Cuba only to pack it up again like shirts and a toothbrush.

If Khrushchev wants negotiations with the West, Adenauer said, he must agree to ground control on Cuba which is a justified United States demand.

Another prerequisite for East-West negotiations, Adenauer said, is Russian agreement to a halt on nuclear testing and the control of nuclear weapons.

(The country's newspapers were quick to interpret the vote in Hesse as an important protest against the federal government's handling of the Der Spiegel case.

(The publisher of the news magazine Der Spiegel and four editors are under arrest on suspicion of committing treason by publishing military secrets. The government has been accused of high-handed methods, and Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss has been particularly criticized.

(In choosing a new state parliament, Hesse voters gave a majority—51 of the 96 seats—to the Social Democrats. This was a gain of three for the Socialists, who previously had to form a coalition with the Refugee party to govern the state.)

Jury Frees Mother In Baby's Death

LIEGE, Belgium (AP) — A 24-year-old mother acquitted of the mercy slaying of her deformed daughter visited the baby's grave yesterday for the first time.

A jury freed Suzanne Vandeput on Saturday although she admitted poisoning the 8-day old baby last May. The jury also acquitted four persons accused as accomplices.

Mrs. Vandeput, who took the sedative drug thalidomide during pregnancy, was accompanied to the grave by her husband, Jean, 35, and her mother, Mrs. Fernande Yesna, 50.

The baby's malformation was blamed on the drug.

They had been codefendants, along with Mrs. Vandeput's sister, Mrs. Monique de la Marck, and Dr. Jacques Casters, the family physician who prescribed a barbiturate.

INDIA ASKS U.S. FOR MILITARY AIRCRAFT

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today that India has asked the United States for military aircraft to bolster Indian defenses in the border war with Red China. He also asked for American machinery to produce arms in India.

The U.S. Embassy here confirmed that both requests were under consideration.

On the fighting fronts, India reported its troops had driven back two new Chinese Communist probing attacks in the northeast frontier area during the weekend.

A defense ministery spokesman said the engagements took place a few miles northeast of Jang, in the region of the monastery town of Towang, and in the far eastern stretch of the frontier near Walong.

The spokesman said two Indian patrols contacted Chinese Red troops near Walong and fire was exchanged. He said the Chinese troops "were forced to withdraw."

He said four Indian soldiers were wounded in the weekend engagements but Chinese Communist casualties were not known.

The report indicated that both Chinese Communist troops and Indians remained active in the vicinity of Walong, 16 miles south of the disputed McMahon line frontier near the Burma border.

This was the second shark attack on skin divers in the same general area this year and the second diving tragedy for the French family.

Last January, Floyd Pair Jr., 29, of North Sacramento was mauled by a shark while skin diving near the Farallones. He, too, survived by fighting off the shark.

In 1959, LeRoy's older brother, James E. French III, 25, nearly lost his life in a deep dive off Carmel. He suffered a severe case of "bends" and spent 48 hours in a decompression chamber at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard.

Two Boys, 15, Break Legs In Bike Wreck

Two 15-year-old Marin County youths suffered fractured left legs when their motorbike collided with a car on Highway 1 south of Stinson Beach Saturday, said the California Highway Patrol.

The bike operator, Harold King of 59 Geneva Way, Santa Venetia, was admitted to Marin General Hospital overnight and was released yesterday. His passenger, George Barney of 2328 Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood, was released after his leg was placed in a cast.

Officers said the boys were on the wrong side of the road on a blind curve when they met a car driven by Russell Clarence Kriescher, 23, of 647 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley.

Three persons were taken to Novato Hospital for examination and treatment following a collision at Highway 101 and Black Point Cutoff Saturday.

The Highway Patrol said a car driven by Robert Laurence Rapp, 46, of 1205 Ridgeway Heights, Novato, was hit by an auto driven by James William Murphy, 41, of 890 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Officers said Murphy failed to stop for a red light at the cutoff. Rapp was examined but found to be unhurt; Murphy had minor head injuries and a passenger, Donna Baldwin, 36, of 5 Hillside Avenue, Kentfield suffered a small facial cut.

Murphy was cited for failing to stop for the traffic light.

Two drivers involved in a collision on Highway 101 north of Linden Lane in San Rafael were treated for minor injuries last night at San Rafael General Hospital.

The highway patrol said Terry Ann Hasek, 59, of 458 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera, cut in front of another auto which was towing a racing car, colliding and causing all vehicles to go off the roadway. Miss Hasek's car crossed the divider and landed on the east shoulder of the highway, while the other two cars, driven by Salvador Teran Jr., 36, of San Francisco, went over an embankment on the west side.

Miss Hasek was admitted to the hospital with head and back bruises. Her condition today was termed satisfactory. Teran was treated for neck and back injuries and released.

Cheryl L. Cochran, 9, of Atwater, Merced County, was treated for forehead and knee cuts last night as result of a three-car accident on San Quentin Road west of Highway 101. She was a passenger with S/Sgt. Charles Henry Kannas, 28, of Atwater, an airman from Castle Air Force Base, whose car ran into the rear of an auto driven by Ralph Edward Green, 31, of Travelers Inn, San Rafael. She was sent to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Highway patrolmen said Greene had changed lanes to avoid a car ahead of him driven by Michael Edmond Nagy, 24, of 255 Sausalito Street, Corte Madera.

able set for circumstances am I a candidate").

Three others, Dr. George McCabe, Sonoma State College executive; John Dunlap, Napa attorney and party leader, and Everett Matzen, Petaluma mayor and former Assembly candidate, all declined to consider running.

Senator Rattigan, who said he had "no personal plans for Congress" and therefore was not a candidate, was asked after the meeting if that meant he would not run if he were endorsed by the Democratic caucus. He said he did "not think that a likely eventuality."

'AN EMBARRASSMENT'

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley, co-chairman of the meeting in Willits, called the number of candidates put forward "an embarrassment of riches." She said the Democrats are "pleased and honored to have so many high calibre men" available for the election.

The caucus made no endorsement, however. Instead it called an endorsing convention for next Saturday at 10 a.m. in El Rancho Motel, Santa Rosa. At that time all members of the State Central Committee living in the First District and all members of Democratic County Central Committees in the six counties, or their alternates, will be eligible to vote on the endorsement.

At Saturday's meeting no mention was made of at least two other Democrats, Marin Coroner Frank J. Keaton and San Francisco waiter Harold B. Treskunoff, who had indicated they, too, will seek the position.

WARNING GIVEN

There was, however, considerable warning given the Democrats that "there should be no fragmentation" of the party vote.

Don Bradley of Ross, one of the top state Democratic campaigners, gave this warning. Van Dempsey, executive secretary of the state central committee, told the Democrats to get busy registering voters for there are only about 15 days to do it and about 20 per cent of the Democrats are dropped from the rolls after each general election.

Meanwhile the Republicans set a meeting of their First District executive committee for next Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in the Eureka Inn, Eureka. The committee will discuss possible candidates and set up the ground rules for an endorsing convention to be held Nov. 24 in Ukiah or Santa Rosa.

Two Youths, 19, Hurt In Collision

Two 19-year-old Mill Valley youths were treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday night after their car missed a curve and crashed into trees near the municipal golf course.

The driver, Donald Sanders, of 9 Wilkins Place, was treated for cuts and bruises on his chest and held for X-rays. James Turk of 8-B La Verne Avenue was treated for a bruised left arm.

Sanders was driving toward Mill Valley, according to police officer Keith Cramer. His car left the road on a curve between the entrance to Scott Highlands and the municipal golf clubhouse, went over the bank and hit the trees.

Nerves Produce Variety Of Ills
by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Too many of us have been told, your troubles is nerves, just nerves.
Nervousness is not unusual. But it should not be dismissed lightly. More and more doctors are coming to the conclusion that nervous tension is the result of a chemical imbalance in the body.
Nerves can cause an upset stomach, pains in the chest, legs and other parts of the body. What causes these pains and the chemical imbalance in the body?
Your spine consists of 24 bone segments. These bones sit on top of each other. They have a hole in the center and through this hole passes your spinal cord and the nerves to all parts of your body.
A fall, a sudden twist or even poor posture may move one of these spinal segments of vertebrae slightly out of line. Nerves become pinched when this happens and a chemical imbalance can result. You begin to feel irritable and have pains and eventually break down in health.
Chiropractors use X-ray and other scientific instruments to determine whether your nervous tension is caused by a misaligned spine. They are well-trained to correct such defects and help restore your health.
Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201 (Adv.)

No Fire Alarm

The town of Corte Madera now has gone four weeks without a fire alarm, Chief Frank Nelson reported today. The last alarm was Oct. 14.

'COPTER'S DRAMATIC RESCUE

Crewman from hovering U.S. Navy helicopter is partially-submerged, four-place plane in the waters off Midland Beach, Staten Island yesterday. The plane was ditched in the ocean by pilot Leslie Morris, 25, when his power failed while flying three passengers, a man and two young girls. The passengers were removed from sinking plane by a rowboat and a police helicopter. Navy crewman attached tow rope to plane so it could be hauled to shallow water.

Russians Never Had It So Good

entirely by Wall Street profiteering war-mongers."

Their mental picture of these "profiteering warmongers," believes McInnis, is probably as unreal (and of about the same vintage) as the standard American cartoon characterization of a generation ago in which the Russian was always a Bolsevik with wild eyes and wild whiskers — and a smoking bomb in each hand.

They do not want to attack us, but they fear we will attack them. More, however, the Marinites were told by one informed Russian, they fear attack by Germany or China.

What the Russians have is poor by our standards. This applies to their material goods and to their liberties. But both are good by their own standards.

A two-room Russian apartment with 110 square feet of floor space is standard housing for two couples. But there are always waiting lists for apartments. Those who have none must move in with someone who has—further crowding them—or they must live in basements or whatever they can find. McInnis found near a large Moscow apartment district an area of dwellings constructed of sheds and packing cases which he called "exactly like our Hoovervilles of the depression."

Those who have the apartments, even though they are crowded, consider themselves lucky. The apartments are equipped with gas stoves, gas or electric refrigerators, hot and cold running water. Their parents did not have these things.

Most of the plumbing is in disrepair—even in first-class hotels, such as the Ukrainia Hotel where the Marinites stayed in Moscow. But a generation ago, most Russian housing had no plumbing.

In a Russian election, the voters are presented with only one candidate, who has been chosen by a Communist Party committee. "But we have the vote," they told the Americans. "We never had the vote before."

Much of the equipment in their buildings has been constructed on a standardized pattern that was obsolete in Western Europe and America even before the Revolution of 1917. They admit they made some mistakes in design, but the job of equiping the country "from scratch" precluded redesigning. This became even more true after many buildings were destroyed in World War II.

They are a people busy catching up. And they believe they will catch up. And somewhere along the line, they are convinced, the American capitalist economy will collapse. Then the "Wall Street profiteering war mongers" will force the United States to attack the USSR. "And then," they say sadly, "we will have to wipe you out."

Meantime, they are not building fallout shelters. McInnis asked about that several times. Each time, he was told immediately that they do not believe in fallout shelters.

These busy people, poorly housed, mostly poorly paid, nevertheless turn out in great numbers for opera, ballet, puppet shows — and there "they are extremely enthusiastic," said McInnis.

The teen-agers have another enthusiasm, too: American jazz. Under Stalin, it was forbidden. Under Khrushchev, it was discouraged until last year. Now the restraint is off.

McInnis, Glenn W. Sleezer and William R. Seeger went to one of four "jazz clubs" in Moscow. They had to wait a half-hour to get in, for only as many are admitted as there are tables to accommodate.

Inside they found a small dance floor surrounded with tables. Sandwiches, mineral water, wines, fresh fruit, and ice cream dishes were sold. A five-piece orchestra played American jazz which McInnis found "not bad at all."

And the crowd of young dancers "looked just exactly like high school and college kids in the U.S.," he said.

McInnis made no effort in the USSR to explore his own business specialty — insurance. With all property held and income controlled by the government, there would appear little need for insurance anyhow.

He and his fellow tourists wound up believing that "the more such exchange of visits there can be both ways, the better it will be for all of us." To show they meant it, they told their principal Moscow guide (a woman) that if she and her husband (an attorney) could visit Marin, the Marin delegation would "pick up the tab" for $1,000 of their expenses.

She said she would try. But Mayor McInnis doubts she will make it. The travel between the U.S.A. and USSR is still mostly one way.

Silva, Pozzi Targets In Recall Move

they had expected it from his earlier statements.

In the charges against Mayor Silva, Bowman held that Silva failed to disqualify himself from voting at the council's hearing "although publically requested to do so on the grounds that he prejudged the hearing at the council's adjourned meeting of Oct. 16 when he declared he would not vote for the J route." Bowman had asked that Silva disqualify himself.

Silva was also charged with saying that he would vote against the adoption of a master plan.

Bowman charged Pozzi with changing his support from the "C" route to the "E" (present) route "just so he could get at Mr. Alfred Bowman." It was also charged that he owns land on the present route, where his ready-mix concrete plant is located.

Bowman, in announcing the move to recall Silva and Pozzi, recited some of the history of the freeway location issue in Novato.

In 1956, the Marin County Board of Supervisors adopted a North Marin master plan which showed the future freeway following its present route through downtown Novato.

In the campaign of 1959 for incorporation of Novato, a major argument for incorporation was that it would give Novato some control over the freeway location.

Novato was incorporated Jan. 12, 1960. On March 17, the new city council voted 5-to-0 to protest a Division of Highways plan for a dirt-fill elevated freeway on the present route. Silva and Pozzi were members of that council.

The new city government hired Mrs. Mary Summers, then Marin County planning director, to make a special study of freeway routes, although her department had prepared the North Marin Master Plan showing the freeway on the present highway route. On May 5, 1961, Mrs. Summers submitted the report of her study. In it, she advocated a freeway east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks.

The Novato Planning Commission last Jan. 22 recommended a route east of town. On Feb. 6, Councilman Charles R. Johnson became the first in the city government to publicly advocate the present route, reading a statement in favor of it at the council meeting. He did not seek re-election last April.

At a special meeting on Feb. 20, Angeloni and Johnson voted for the present route, with Silva, Pozzi and Mayor Wayne Womack (who also did not seek re-election) voting against it.

At a series of meetings during the summer, the Division of Highways presented several proposed routes east of town. On Aug. 22, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack officially recommended the "J" route. At the highway commission's hearing on Sept. 27, Mrs. Summers (who had meantime retired and been succeeded as county planning director by B. D. Dobbs) also endorsed the "J" route.

GOP Conservatives, Liberals Start Big Battle For Party Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The firing on the right and the left already has begun in what promises to be an 18-month battle between conservatives and liberals for control of the Republican party.

By the time the Republican National Convention meets in mid-1964, delegates will have before them the results of presidential primaries, the record of the Republicans in Congress and the performance of party governors in choosing a presidential candidate. No one is doubting that President Kennedy will be the democratic standard bearer.

Meantime the prospects point to plenty of intraparty battling.

Last Tuesday's election gave both sides some fresh ammunition.

The party's liberals could point to the re-election of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in New York and to the victories in governor races of George Romney in Michigan and William W. Scranton in Pennsylvania as marking a trend toward moderatism, if not liberalism, within the party. They could cap this with the notation that a couple of candidates regarded as liberals won key Senate races in the two biggest states. They are Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), and Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.).

Beyond this the liberals could demonstrate to their party brethren that extreme rightism does not pay by citing the defeat of four John Birch Society members in California.

Against this the conservatives could point to the gain of four new Republican House seats in the South, where the winning margin for either 1964 presidential candidate might lie if results in other sections of the country are close.

They could cite the narrow escape of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., from defeat by a Republican candidate as evidence that there is inbred Dixie antagonism to the Kennedy administration's policies—particularly on integration— that could be reflected by substantial electoral defection from the president in that area in 1964.

The conservatives' biggest victory produced a new contender for national recognition in the re-election of Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky.).

Morton, former Republican National Chairman, won easily in a race that was expected to be much tighter. Although he served as national chairman at the designation of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Morton is regarded by those who know him well as just about as conservative as Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

The party conservatives could feel reassured that their viewpoint is going to be amply represented in the minority leadership in the new Congress.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) will be back running the Republican show in the House. In the Senate, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois again will be directing the minority floor operations and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) will be running the GOP Policy Committee.

That the liberals are disturbed at this prospect was demonstrated when Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) came forward the other day with a proposal that Republicans who consider themselves progressives band together to work for their objectives.

Case said any such grouping should include Rockefeller, Javits, Kuchel, Romney, Scranton, Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Rep. John V. Lindsay of New York.

Because the liberals tend not to run in a crowd and because they don't always agree on who is liberal enough to be one of them, probably nothing tangible will come from this proposal.

Fishermen Expect Fair Catch Of Crab

"A fair catch" of crab is expected, Antone Caruso, owner of Caruso's Bait Tackle and Supplies, Sausalito, said today.

Caruso said he has been so informed by friends at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco.

"North of the gate the catch is not too good but it is reported good south of the gate," he said.

Sausalito crab men left yesterday on their first run of the season and are expected to return tomorrow. The season opens at 12:01 a.m. tomorrow.

Fresh crab is expected to retail at up to $1 a pound and be on sale by 10 a.m. tomorrow, according to Albert Spandaro, a director of the Crab Boat Owners' Assn.

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)— "He's alive! He's alive."

Cheers echoed yesterday through the abandoned shafts of an old Colorado gold mine as tired and grimy rescuers pulled to safety a 23-year-old airman burried 14 hours in the murky depths.

Airman 2/C Chester West of Rye, N.Y., fell 200 feet down a shaft in the Idaho Bride mine. He was injured seriously.

West and Airman Robert I. Hanson, 19, of Wittenburg, Wis., were exploring the mine three miles west of here in the central Rockies when West plunged down the shaft Saturday afternoon.

Norman Blake, district state mine inspector and about 35 volunteers began searching for West.

Once West was found, it took rescuers three hours to bring him out of the winding tunnels.

"The kid's just darn lucky to be alive," said Dr. Freeman D. Fowler, who examined West. West was taken to a Denver hospital, where officials said he had a collapsed lung, broken cervical vertebra and other injuries. Hanson was treated for shock but was in good condition.

West's widowed mother, Hermine West, and her daughter Julia, 22, a student nurse at Cornell Medical Center, arrived in Denver from their Rye, N.Y., home last night by plane.

Betts Should Be Cleared Or Convicted Of Charges

There were many charges and counter charges hurled during the recent campaign and it is best that most of them be forgotten.

However, there was one charge which worried us at the time and still worries us, a charge dealing with operation of one of our highest state fiscal offices and a charge which from here did not seem to be adequately answered.

We are referring to the charge made against State Treasurer Bert Betts.

The charge, made we admit by his opponent in the election, was that he knowingly had permitted one of his principal aides to organize and benefit from an investment firm while a member of the state treasurer's staff. Further, that another member of Betts' staff is still connected with this firm and that Betts himself made investments which were profitable partly because of state money deposited with the concern in which he invested.

We are not attempting to determine the truth or untruth of these charges. As we said, we were not convinced by the explanations we heard during the campaign, so we still are left with an uneasy feeling about our state treasurer.

Betts had threatened to sue his opponent over these charges, but he never got around to it. Since he was re-elected, he can't complain he was harmed by the charges, so no suit.

And the uneasiness remains.

Why can't we have a non-partisan investigation?

Why doesn't the Sacramento County grand jury look into the matter? That is a body with the power and the facilities to take an unbiased look at the situation.

We think it is just as important that Bert Betts be cleared of such a charge as it is that he be found guilty of it.

Sacramento grand jury, take it away!

Canine Adoption Board

The Marin County Humane Society is right up to date in its methods of finding homes for orphaned puppies and kittens.

Although we understand they have no trained social workers and require no statements of financial competence, they do have an adoption board.

We made this discovery recently when we acquired a canine cutie from this agency. We also received a letter three months after the "adoption" respectfully inquiring as to whether the dog was "well adjusted" to his new environment.

We didn't dare tell them the truth that he was running the house. After all, their psychiatrist might not like it.

UNDERWATER THROUGH CHANNEL

The first man ever to swim the English Channel underwater had to overcome a bout with seasickness to do it.

With his underwater breathing apparatus, energy pills and fresh supplies of oxygen from his companions in a boat, the Florida man made the crossing in 18 hours. A cage beneath the surface of a motorboat guided him.

"It was the greatest display of fortitude and determination I have ever seen," was the comment of one man who had witnessed many a surface crossing.

The record-breaking swimmer declared the worst thing was the mental strain of swimming in darkness, plus being seasick.

So long as there are challenges to meet and goals to be achieved, man will attempt to conquer them.

While the everyday problems of life may be all the challenge you may face, by the grace of God and hard work you too can overcome them. The important thing is never to stop trying.

"In doing good let us not grow tired; for in due time we shall reap if we do not relax." (Galatians 6:9)

Inspire me to set for myself and those who depend on me, O Lord, goals that are meaningful and helpful to others.

Columnist Comes Up With Some Interesting Facts From Mailbag

There are about 35,000 U.S. marriages each year with one or both partners 65 or older.

The older they are, the more likely they are to choose younger mates. Among bridegrooms in the 75-and-up bracket, 12 per cent picked brides at least 25 years younger; 18 per cent of brides in the same age group wed men 10 or more years younger.

It's against the law in the Sudan to send leeches through the mails.

The oldest tomb to unknown American soldiers is in Trinity churchyard in New York City. Called the "Martyrs' Monument," the tomb honors American troops who died in British prison camps during the Revolutionary War.

Researchers have discovered that the tears a woman sheds when emotionally upset are chemically different from those she weeps while peeling onions.

The New York Telephone Co. reports some novel uses for its massive Manhattan directory, which runs to nearly 1,800 pages. A young baseball catcher threaded rope through one and employed it as a chest protector. A South American banana firm bought old directories to bullet-proof its trucks.

Highway safety signs: in Maryland: "Be late, Mr. Jones—not the late Mr. Jones." In Delaware: "Take your time, not your life. Drive safely."

MANY THINK Franklin D. Roosevelt invented the presidential press conference. Actually, Woodrow Wilson held the first general one in the White House on March 15, 1913, just 11 days after taking office.

Since the end of World War II, new life-saving drugs have reduced U.S. tuberculosis deaths by 83 per cent, influenza deaths, 90 per cent, and deaths from syphilis by 79 per cent.

Several Years To Fix Entrance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

San Rafael needs a lobbyist at Sacramento.

After several years of study on how to relieve the Irwin Street underpass impasse, we are now told work on this project cannot be started for at least two more years.

Meanwhile it will become increasingly easier to bypass San Rafael than to undergo its unpleasant entrance confusion.

Editorials Helped Marking Ballots

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In behalf of the many confusing issues in regards to the voting public prior to June and November elections, may I take the opportunity at this time to thank all of you in helping me and probably many others to make up my mind to come up with a ballot where each and every issue went through the mental mill of pro and con.

Your ability to explain the issues in plenty of time without the need of the booklet that comes with the preliminary ballot is very helpful to many I am sure. For some time now, I have been saving the editorial page, which I consider the pulse of the public in general and much information to the individual who has limited time on hand.

The booklet in question contains the lingo of professional men, hardly fully understandable to many with a limited vocabulary like myself. To read your paper I don't feel the need for a dictionary to find out the meaning of words so common in the booklet.

On Nov. 6, I felt that I was so well informed about the yes and no decisions on the ballot that for the first time I was able to argue about decisions I have made, in fact I was able to convince my better-half to mark her's the same way, which in reality gave me two votes for sure, and for better or worse.

Anyway, I would like to let you know that I would mark my ballot the same as I did on Nov. 6, even if my decisions didn't pan out according to my wishes on some of the issues.

I noticed that some of your recommendations didn't quite make it either.

Missed The Point Of Miller Vote

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In his column of Nov. 8, Chip Day describes the Democratic victory for the First Congressional District as a cold and calculated effort which exploited the tragic death of Clem Miller and won even Marin County.

The true significance of the victory has completely escaped him. And that was the voluntary outpouring of hundreds of people who loved and respected Clem Miller and asked what they could now do so that Clem Miller would not have died in vain. It was they who turned the tide.

It is much more difficult to regroup and push ahead when your standard bearer is gone.

Mr. Day gives the impression of a phony flag waving. There is a great deal of that in political campaigns, but he was unable to grasp that this was a true grass roots movement and thus the genuine article. The voters responded because they recognized that this was a genuine feeling of patriotic endeavor.

I will never be able to prove my next statement. But it is my own conviction that Clem Miller would have won by a much larger figure had he been alive to do his own campaigning. As is, there were still many people who did not wish to see the county spend additional funds for a special election and hence voted for his opponent.

It is true that newspapermen are notoriously cynical. But let us not go so far as to deny the song of the bird and call it a croak. People are capable of selfless deeds and this was one of them.

A Monument Of Desecration

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It was with regret that I read your article "Approval Granted Hilltop Slicing," Tuesday, Nov. 6.

This article should have been read by every Marin County citizen.

We have seen the hillside scars in Corte Madera and Larkspur and now beautiful Lucas Valley.

At least one planner, Felix Warburg, had the guts to rebel and say "I can't see reason to allow people to shave off the tops of hills just to provide fill." There are other sources.

The people of Marin can look at our scarred and marred hillsides and thank David Van Pelt and the Planning Commission for this monument of desecration.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Four traffic lanes were opened for the first time on the highway north of San Rafael and this was triumphantly hailed as end of a "death road."

Lack of volunteers forced closing of a ground observation station which has been searching the skies for enemy aircraft over the Lagunitas School.

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael was declared in danger of air attack due to reluctance of male citizens to volunteer as air raid wardens.

Granville D. Whittaker visited his San Rafael family only evenings when he could borrow a third class seaman's uniform because he lost all his clothes in the sinking of the destroyer O'Brien at Guadalcanal. He was provided with "civies" by the Red Cross on arrival at the naval receiving station at San Francisco, but was prevented by Navy regulations from appearing in public out of uniform.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Most incontrovertible statement of the year was made by a 15-year-old on an essay submitted to a students' prize contest on the subject of "Prehistoric Times." "In prehistoric times," he sated boldly, "books were very scarce."

There's a fellow down in Asbury Park who vows he hasn't spoken to his wife in four months. He remains cheerful, however. "I'm confident—and you can quote me on this," says he, "that my turn will soon be due."

Writes Stoddard King:
An author owned an Asterisk,
And kept it in his den,
For his lusty tales (which had large sales)
Of frail and loving men.
And always, when he reached the point
Where carping censors lurk,
He called upon his Asterisk
To do his dirty work.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

It All Depends On Where You Get News And What Day You Celebrate

On election night an I-J reporter was going from precinct to precinct in Tiburon collecting results for the paper and radio station KTIM.

Normally she was welcomed. However, one precinct inspector, obviously devoted to her duties, was reluctant to have her talley-ers disturbed and suggested:

"Can't you get all the information you need by listening to the radio?"

SIGN AT Embee Market, Belvedere:

"Embee will be open Sunday, Nov. 11, Veterans Day. We will be closed Nov. 12 to celebrate Veterans Day."

ENID FOSTER, Sausalito artist, who fell about a month ago, has left Marin General Hospital and gone to a convalescent hospital.

She is "coming along well" it is reported. However, she has asked for no visitors for a few days.

WILLIE YEE of Marin Fruit Co., Sausalito, is 71. He has been in business about 45 years and has one of the oldest businesses under the same management in the waterside city.

However, he may have to move since the ground has been sold from under him for a contemplated development.

Mrs. Raymon Wilson says Sausalito can't get along without Willie and it has been suggested that he sell vegetables on the sidewalk as Willie Kee used to do.

A PUSSY WILLOW on Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, fell the day of the big storm and the Poughkeepsie Journal in New York had a story about it.

Said the Associated Press story headed, "With God All Things Are Possible."

"A strong gust of wind blew a 25-foot pussy willow across a driveway on Evergreen Avenue. A housewife cut off branches in the rain to get her car out of the garage to meet her husband. An hour later another gust blew the tree upright again."

F. S. EZEKIEL of Mill Valley likes old cars and so when he moved to Corte Madera recently, he got special permission from authorities to tow his 1922 black Jewett touring car over Alto Grade, Highway 101.

"Doc" Ezekiel pulled with his car and Hank Pierroz sat in the Jewett, held fast the wheel and, as Hank said, "watched the wind make the fan go around all the way over the grade."

THE OTHER DAY, while we were away, a small sparrow flew in the front door through the house to the kitchen and banged into the window, falling into the sink unconscious.

Aunt Bess, a visitor, advised women and children "pick him up by the tail and put him out-of-doors." But no one budged.

So she picked him up in her hands, warmed him for a few moments until he came to, then took him to the door and he flew away.

"That's what we all need," said Aunt Bess, "to be kept warmed."

Cuban Crisis, India Invasion Coming Together Have Great World Effect

WASHINGTON — We appear to have come to one of those moments in history when the state of things, which for good or evil, was fairly steady, is suddenly shaken up. No one can now see better than dimly what will be the new shape of things.

But we can, though tentatively, see some of the implications and side effects of the two obvious major crises we are now living through — the one in this hemisphere around Cuba and the other in Asia around the invasion of India.

AS FOR CUBA, though the full agreement about verification of the removal of the strategic weapons is still to be worked out, there is no doubt that the United States has the upper hand in this part of the world. If Castro attempts to frustrate the implementation of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, he will lay himself open to heavy penalties from a tightened blockade.

Castro has been deprived of the military protection of the Soviet Union, and if he is to replace it with some guarantee besides the promise of the United States not to invade him, his best course is to invite the Organization of American States to make Cuba a neutralized island which will concentrate its attention on its own internal development.

WHAT IS happening in Cuba is having far reaching effects not only in Latin America but, almost certainly, in Africa and the Middle East and Asia. Cuba itself is not interesting to Africans and Arabs and Asians. But by conjunction with the Chinese invasion of India, the effects of the Cuban affair are compounded.

Both in Cuba and in India the Soviet Union has had to water down or write off the promises of support which it had made.

India's foreign policy under Nehru has, as he himself has confessed, been based on an illusion. But what was the illusion? Not that the Chinese were too kind to hurt India: Red China has been ting at the Indian frontier five years. The Indian illusion was that the Soviet Union was the paramount power in the Communist orbit and that it would and could prevent China from committing a serious aggression against India.

IT IS NOT, I think, an exaggeration to say that these parallel and coinciding crises in the Americas and in Asia have reduced dramatically the value of the Soviet guarantee to a distant country.

This will have great reverberations in the underdeveloped and unaligned and newly-liberated nations. They will no longer have India as their leader and their spokesman and their example, for India will no longer be unaligned.

Not being myself a Kremlinologist, I do not know what will be the effect of the two great crises on the internal situation of the Soviet Union. But if we suppose that in the crunch the vital interests of the Soviet Union will be put ahead of the Communist ideology, then, so it now appears, the Soviet Union may be entering upon an internal conflict of enormous proportions.

'49ers Find New Ways To Mess Things Up'—Hickey

Failing to win in three tries on the home turf, the San Francisco 49ers travel to Los Angeles this week battling to even the score with the Rams.

After losing 38-24 to the Detroit Lions at Kezar Stadium yesterday, Coach Red Hickey had some solace as he said, "We got beat by a pretty good ball club. I hope this game might have served one purpose if nothing else. It proved the boys were trying."

The 49ers battled the Lions to a 17-17 deadlock until Dick Lane intercepted a Bill Kilmer pass near the end of the first half and Detroit turned it into the go-ahead touchdown.

Earlier, defensive end Sam Williams had picked off a John Brodie aerial and ran 22 yards unmolested to the San Francisco goal.

"We certainly find new ways to mess things up," commented Hickey referring particularly to the crucial interceptions. "We played a much better game than we did against Baltimore."

The 49ers find themselves gripped by a four-game losing streak dropping consecutive games at Green Bay and to Los Angeles, Baltimore and Detroit in San Francisco.

To date, the Rams have only the one victory in the National Football League — the 28-14 verdict over the 49ers who have posted a 3-6 mark.

Detroit Coach George Wilson was generally non-commital yesterday but did say he couldn't understand why the Lions allowed the 49ers to score more points than other teams and then scored their highest totals against the 49ers. The Lions won 45-21 in the first meeting.

In the see-saw first half, the 49ers scored first on a nine-yard pass from Brodie to Clyde Conner after Leo Nomellini had recovered a Nick Pietrosante fumble at the Lions 23.

Williams' interception quickly squared accounts and the Lions went ahead on Wayne Walker's 22-yard field goal. A Kilmer to Jim Johnson pass netted 73 yards as the 49ers swept back to go ahead 14-10 on J. D. Smith's one-yard smash.

Milt Plum passed 23 yards to Pat Studstill to go into the lead again and Tommy Davis evened the count at 17-17 with an 11-yard field goal.

From then on, it was all Lions as Pietrosante's one-yard smash for a touchdown came four plays after Lane's interception, Ken Webb crashed a yard for the fourth Lion touchdown and Tom Watkins sprinted 29 for the fifth. A Brodie to Monty Stickles pass brought the 49ers their final score.

Abe Woodson, the defensive halfback who also specialized in kick returns, set two team records and tied an NFL mark.

His 210 yards on six kickoff returns was one 49er record and equalled the league mark shared by Herby Adderley of Green Bay and Johnny Sample of Pittsburgh. Joe Arenas set the former 49er mark in 1955 against Cleveland.

Woodson's 935 yards in kickoff returns in nine games to date already has smashed the 49er season mark of 801 set by Joe Arenas in 12 games in 1956.

Stanford To Make A Clean Sweep; 49ers Win Back Some Fans, But . . .

RANDOL

Where there is smoke, there is fire. Two weeks ago, this column brought you the exclusive story on the imminent departure of "Cactus Jack" Curtice from Stanford University coaching scene. When the USC Trojans pasted the Indians last Saturday, the smoke cleared away enough for some of the other metropolitan writers to see the fire.

Now it can be told that the Stanford brass has been receiving applications for some time, and that when the big clean-up takes place, it will be a clean sweep, with an entire new staff taking over.

With rumors spreading rapidly, just about every available man in the country has been named with the exception of Dick Nixon. Prominently mentioned are Frankie Albert of Stanford and 49er fame, Bill Johnson of the 49er staff, Gary Kirkorian, who did some sharp pitching for the Cards but lacks coaching experience, Bill Clerk, who works under Jim Owens at Washington, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, and Cecil Coleman of Fresno State.

WHOEVER IS selected, you can bet that the country club atmosphere down on the Farm will be a thing of the past. Some of the influential old grads, especially in the southern part of the state, would like Curtice to check out immediately, instead of waiting for the Big Game, but the odds are against it.

MEANWHILE, BACK at the ranch, the lines are being sharply divided in the discussions of the future of Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers. Take your choice. Blame the sorry showing of the 49ers on (1) Hickey, (2) the players, (3) the fans, and (4) the front office.

The Detroit Lions hung another one on the 49ers yesterday, 38 to 24, but the game itself was entertaining, and won back some of the fans who were ready to desert the sinking ship.

To his credit, Hickey gave the game back to his number one quarterback, John Brodie, who ran the game well. At the same time, Brodie was mainly responsible for the loss when two wild pitches gave the Lions their two touchdown margin. With a little more luck the Niners might have lifted themselves into a win, but the Lions were clearly the better team and deserved the victory.

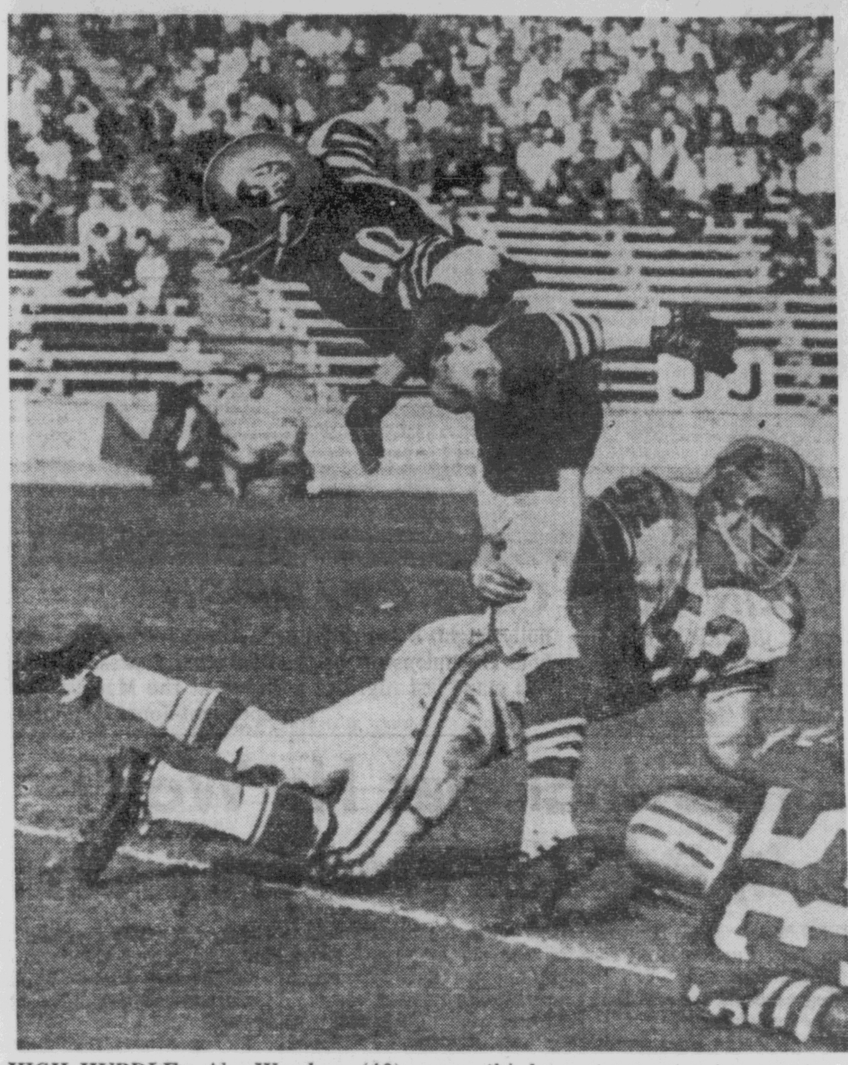
IF NOTHING else, Hickey's personnel changes pointed up the possibility that the best men have not been playing in their best spots all year. Carl Kammerer was outstanding as middle linebacker, making tackles all over the field and adding to the 49er pass defense. His work far surpasses that of John Thomas.

Elbert Kimbrough showed the sharpest tackling of the day, even putting big Nick Pietrosante out of commission in a head-on meeting. Tackling by other 49ers left something to be desired on a number of occasions. Rookie Leon Donohue did a great job in his first real test.

For the first time in several games, Brodie "re-discovered" the short pass, which is the obvious key to success in any attack mounted by the Niners, making other plays work. Running some of R. C. Owens' patterns, Jim Johnson broke loose for 11 receptions, a new record for the locals.

AND ABE WOODSON showed again that he is the best in the league on punt and kickoff returns with a total of 210 yards. Abe's runs have to be the high spot of a dismal year.

The 49ers hit the road for three weeks, meeting the L.A. Rams, the St. Louis Cards, and the Minnesota Vikings before returning home against the Greenbay Packers. Strangely enough, the Niners could win all but one of these games if they put out as they did against the Lions. It would help.



HIGH HURDLE—Abe Woodson (40) of 49ers, former national collegiate hurdles champion, goes over human hurdle Dave Lloyd of Detroit Lions on third quarter punt return yesterday. Woodson tied a league record for kickoff returns as a highlight for 49ers yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

PACKERS ROMP, RATED GREATEST IN HISTORY

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Green Bay Packers are gaining ever-increasing support as the greatest pro football team of all time, although one National League brain strangely reluctant to climb on the bandwagon is their own coach, Vince Lombardi.

After trampling their first nine opponents of the 1962 season, the Packers are attracting favorable comparison to the Chicago Bears "Monsters" of the early 1940's and such post-war powerhouses as the Philadelphia Eagles, Detroit Lions, Cleveland Browns and Baltimore Colts.

One of the strongest of Packer-backers is Nick Skorich of the Eagles, who suffered through "the longest and worst day of my coaching career" as Green Bay annihilated Philadelphia, 49-0, yesterday.

"I think Green Bay is the greatest team of the past two decades with its depth and perfect balance in running and passing," commented Skorich. "Their secret is great blocking and play execution. And with their depth, they can lose players like Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler without suffering."

And what does lugubrious Lombardi have to say about that?

IMPOSSIBLE?

"It would be impossible to go all the way undefeated in this league. Every team is up for us. I thought the Eagles would be inspired and a lot tougher."

Ignoring Lombardi, the Packers appear headed for the first undefeated season in the NFL since the Bears went 11-0 in 1942. Counting the last regular-season game of 1961 and the championship playoff, the Packers now have won 11 in a row, and 24 of their last 28 NFL games dating back to 1960.

While the Packers were piling up a league record 37 first downs in manhandling the Eagles, the New York Giants and the Washington Redskins emerged as the two clubs who will battle it out for the Eastern Division championship.

DALLAS DOUSED

The Giants doused the hopes of the Dallas Cowboys with a 41-10 shellacking while the Redskins just about put the Cleveland Browns out of the running with a 17-9 victory.

The Detroit Lions preserved their forlorn Western Division chances with a 38-24 victory over the San Francisco 49ers, while the Chicago Bears edged the Minnesota Vikings, 31-30; the Pittsburgh Steelers upset the St. Louis Cardinals, 26-17, and the Baltimore Colts defeated the Los Angeles Rams, 14-2.

Jim Taylor, the league's leading rusher, scored four touchdowns and gained 141 yards in 25 carries to help hand the Eagles their worst defeat since 1933. Taylor, with 14 touchdowns and 1,075 yards, appears headed for league records in both departments.

LONG DRIVES

The Packers lost the ball through an interception on their first series of downs, but the next seven times they gained possession they scored 86, 89, 85, 76, 71, 66 and 65 yards. They wound up with a total of 694 yards on offense.

On defense, they held the Eagles to a net yardage total of 54. Green Bay now has yielded only 61 points in nine games for an average of approximately one touchdown a game.

Tom Moore, replacement for Hornung, scored twice and threw a 25-yard TD pass to Dowler. Hornung, who wissed three previous games because of a bruised knee, played only briefly at Philadelphia.

TITTLE STARS

Meanwhile, back in the Eastern Division, Y. A. Tittle, Del Shofner and Frank Gifford were the offensive stars of the Giants' win at Dallas. Tittle's passes gained 315 yards, two reaching Shofner and one Gifford for touchdowns. Gifford also scored on a six-yard run and Shofner caught a third TD toss, this one a 41-yarder from Ralph Guglielmi.

The crowd of 45,668 was the largest ever to watch a regular season game in either the NFL or the rival American League at the Cotton Bowl.

Washington sandwiched a pair of touchdowns by Don Bosseler around a 29-yard field goal by Bob Khayat to take a 17-0 lead and then held off the Browns despite injuries to four defensive players. Three pass interference penalties aided the Redskins in their first two touchdowns, placing the ball on the two and the one for Bosseler's easy bucks.

The victory gave Washington a 5-2-2 record compared to 7-2 for the division-leading Giants.

Almost Win, But Raiders Sink, 28-20

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's luckless Raiders, accustomed to the taste of defeat, lost their most disappointing game of the season yesterday as they sank before the Houston Oilers 28-20 in the last eight minutes of play.

Defying the law of averages —the Raiders have lost 15 in a row in 1961 and 1962 —the Oilers scored twice in the last quarter to come from behind and win what appeared to be a certain Oakland victory. The Raiders remained at the bottom of Western Division of the American Football League.

The Raiders meet Buffalo at Oakland next Sunday to try for their first victory in 10 tries this season.

Outplayed as far as statistics go, the Raiders held their lead against the Oilers until quarterback George Blanda connected with fullback Charlie Tolar for a 35-yard scoring play that took the lead.

A few minutes later, linebacker Gene Babb snagged an Oakland pass and ran 31 yards for the final tally. Oakland's hopes were shot.

Tars Knocked Off

Independent-Journal Sports
Monday, Nov. 12, 1962 7

The College of Marin Tars, their eight-game victory streak broken, will try to regroup themselves for their big battle Friday night against Santa Rosa Junior College.

The Mariner victory skein was snapped Saturday night in Redding where the gridders of Shasta College edged College of Marin, 22-18. The loss dropped the Tars into a tie for second place in the Golden Valley Conference with Shasta, both with 3-1 league records.

Santa Rosa J.C., winner over Napa College Friday, 40-0, is in first place with a 4-0 league mark.

Shasta scored a touchdown in the first period and two more in the final quarter. Marin fell short in its bid for a come-from-behind victory as the Tars scored three TDs in the final stanza but failed on their trys for PATs.

IDENTICAL TDs

Roger Grant, Shasta halfback, ran all three touchdowns, all in the same place—around left end. His first score was from two yards out, and his second two TD runs were from the 59 and 50-yard markers.

College of Marin came out strong in the final quarter, scoring first on a three-yard plunge over left tackle by Scott Moriarty on the first play of the period. Moriarty helped set up the TD with a 43-yard scamper late in the third quarter. On the play preceding the tally, a 16-yard pass from Curtis Embry to Jim Lucas was ruled complete because of pass interference by Shasta, bringing the ball to the three and paving the way for Moriarty's plunge.

Then with 4:00 left in the game, Embry hit Lucas for a 21-yard aerial good for the touchdown. Two minutes later, Embry threw a string of four passes, the last to Ray Edwards for a six-yard touchdown.

RECOVERED FUMBLES

Trailing 22-18 with only 30 seconds remaining, the Tars recovered a Shasta fumble on the College of Marin 49-yard line. Embry tried a couple of passes before the final gun went off, but they fell incomplete.

Embry completed 20 of 27 passes for the night, good for 282 yards. The tars also rushed for 121 yards, giving them a total of 403 yards gained.

Shasta ran for 260 yards and passed for 29, giving the home town club a total of 289 yards gained.

The difference in the game were the extra points. While College of Marin failed in its three tries, Shasta made two of three tries good for four points, one on an end run by Mik Lidell and the other on a pass to Mike Cicel from his brother, Tom Cicel.

SCORING

Warriors Hold Lead, But It's Precarious

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Perched precariously atop the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn., San Francisco's Warriors take time out for travel today as they head for St. Louis.

The second place Hawks and the Warriors tangle tomorrow in their see-saw struggle for firsts place.

The Warriors took the wind out of the Chicago Zephyrs, 113-108, in their last game Saturday night at San Francisco. It was the 13th straight time the Warriors have beaten Chicago.

The game was highlighted by the battle between centers Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco and Walt Bellamy of Chicago. The Stilt came up with 57 points while holding Bellamy — the league's second best scorer — to 29 points.

Al Attles had 16 points for San Francisco, George Lee 15 and Tom Gola 14.

Terry Dichinger, the former Prudue star, had 28 for Chicago.

The Zephyrs led only once in the game, early in the second quarter, but pulled to a 102-102 tie with four minutes left. However, Guy Rodgers came through with his first bucket of the night, followed by Gola and Chamberlain, and the Warriors pulled away.

Redwood Blanks Terra Linda To Tie Tam For Lead

20-0 Win Gives Giants 4-0 Record In League

BY RALPH CHATOIAN

The Marin Athletic League football race is knotted up today with Tamalpais and Redwood tied for the top spot with four wins and no (0) losses.

The stage is being set for a great season finale when the two teams meet on Thanksgiving morning in a game which could be for the undisputed championship.

Redwood threw the league into a tie Saturday afternoon when the Giants overpowered the Terra Linda Trojans 20-0 before 2,400 fans in College of Marin Stadium.

It was quarterback Jim Troppmann throwing and backs Steve Solinsky, Dave Auerbach and Dav Cox running as the Giants manhandled the Trojans and gave them their fourth loss against one victory.

Redwood scored its three touchdowns on the ground, one in each the first, second and third quarters.

The first score came with 4:10 left in the opening period after a Terra Linda fumble on its own 39-yard line. After a pair of runs by Auerbach and two by Solinsky, Redwood move dthe ball to the Terra Linda 16. Then, on a third and five situation, Auerbach skirted left end, ran through a horde of Terra Linda tacklers and rambled into the end zone standing up.

Troppmann kicked the extra point, giving the Giants a 7-0 lead.

GIANTS DRIVE

The next Giant TD came after a march from their own 37-yard line, a drive which took nine plays. After a 15-yard penalty gave the Giants third and 23, Troppmann, who collected a total of 73 yards in the air, completed a 21-yard pass to Jerry Rumsey. A power play over left tackle by Solinsky gave Redwood a first down on its 48-yard line.

Five plays later, Cox broke through right tackle from the Trojan 25-yard stripe and raced into the end zone. A Troppman place kick was no good, but the Giants had already gone 13 points ahead.

Late in the third period it was Auerbach who again scored a touchdown for the Giants on a well-executed blast through left tackle from the 36-yard marker.

KEY BLOCK

Auerbach broke through a hole over his own left tackle and cut to the outside. There was just one Trojan defender between Auerbach and the end zone by the time he reached the 25-yard line, but the lone defender was cut down on a crunching block by Solinsky, allowing Auerbach to cross into pay dirt untouched.

Solinsky, who had been sidelined a good part of the season because of an injury, had a big day, both running and blocking. The tough fullback picked up 84 yards in 14 carries for an even 6.0 average.

Auerbach picked up 89 yards in nine carries and Cox collected 55 yards in only five carries to provide the Giants with the needed rushing punch.

TERRIFIC DEFENSE

And the Giants defense was terrific, allowing only 52 yards on the ground. In four league games, only one touchdown has been scored against the rugged defenders of Redwood.

Jerry Daniele, hard-running Terra Linda halfback, was again the top ground-gainer for the Trojans, picking up 58 yards rushing, more than the net yardage of the team. Quarterback Dick Schultze was dumped four times behind his own line which resulted in 32 lost yards.

But Schultze remained the league's top passer as he threw 10 completed passes in 28 attempts for 92 yards. But three of his tosses were picked off for interceptions by the alert Redwood defensive backfield.

THREE FUMBLES

Although piling up a total of 321 yards — 248 on the ground and 73 in the air — the Redwood gridders were penalized 100 yards and lost the ball on fumbles three times. But all three fumbles came in the final period when head coach Bob Troppmann was allowing his reserves to see some action.

Before Redwood and Tam meet in the headliner on Thanksgiving morning, the Giants will take on Marin Catholic (0-5) and Tam will oppose powerful Novato (3-1).

GRIDIRON HOEDOWN —Is it a good old-fashion country hoedown? It's a dance illusion that occurred as Detroit defensive halfback Dick Lane (81) tackled 49ers Jim Johnson (37), after Johnson hauled in a third quarter pass in Kezar Stadium yesterday.

Curtice Indicates He Won't Quit, But The Pressure's On

STANFORD (AP) — Football Coach Jack Curtice is on the spot at Stanford.

Being asked is the question, "Will he be rehired?"

For this is the final season on Cactus Jack's five-year agreement and the personable mento hasn't come up with a winner.

There is no official statement yet in the situation since the Indians have two games left, but the Curtice position appears precarious at best.

When the University of Southern California whipped the Indians 39-14 last Saturday, many believed the rug was out from under the man who came here in 1958 and last year was president of the National Football Coaches Assn. He has not had a winning season and his 1962 record stands at 3-5.

In the five seasons to date, Curtice teams have only a 12-36 record.

Rumor has it that Curtice will become a top executive with the coaches' association after this season.

Curtice, however, indicated he won't quite when he said yesterday, "I came to Stanford to do the best job I could. And I've been doing the best I know how. I'm trying to do a building job, and I'm pleased with the way the boys have been coming along. I hope to be able to continue."

On Saturday, the Indians host San Jose State and winning that one will make little difference in the Curtice situation since the neighboring Spartans have won but once this season — an upset over University of the Pacific.

Then on Nov. 24 at Berkeley comes the traditional "Big Games" against California. That afternoon could find two men on spots—Curtice and Marv Levy whose California Bears have only one victory to show for 1962.

Redwood High To Start School Officials Assn.

Nine Redwood High School boys recently formed an organization which will provide elementary schools with student officials to referee elementary school athletic games.

The organization is called the Redwood High School Officials Assn. Student officials are Terry Jarcih, Jim Carr, Phil Weil, Jack Peetz, Tom Vowell, Rick Kline, Dennis Anderson, Collie Janda, and Ken Goodreau.

"We hope this organization will continue year to year for the elementary schools need officials and professionals are far too expensive," Goodreau, head of the group, stated.

The officials association activities will begin next month.

Compare Scores: San Diego Is Big

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Ever hear of San Diego State College? No! Well, comparative scores indicate the Aztecs are 57 points better than Notre Dame.

San Diego State last weekend upended University of Pacific, 32-18. Pacific several weeks ago edged Washington State, 13-12. Washington State dumped Stanford, 21-6. Stanford earlier upset Michigan State, 16-13, and the Spartans smashed Notre Dame, 31-7.

Al Geiberger Sets Tourney Record In Almaden Open

SAN JOSE (AP) — Three years ago, a young professional golfer just out of college won his first money on the tour with a seventh place finish worth $270 in the Almaden Open Golf Tournament.

Yesterday, Al Geiberger, now only 25, not only finished first, but set a tournament record of 273 for 72 holes, 15 under par. The victory for the former University of Southern California star was worth $1,200 and boosted his earnings for the year to over $33,000 in tournaments both on and off the official PGA tour.

His opening round Thursday of 65 was a course and tournament record.

Geiberger chopped six strokes off the old record, 279 shot by Jim Ferrier last year. Ferrier was injured and could not compete this year in the fifth renewal of the event.

Peace In Amateur Sports War Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — Under direct pressure from President John F. Kennedy, the AAU and NCAA are expected to sign a pact today ending the bitter, two-and-one-half-year war for control of amateur sports in the United States.

The President's brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, was here to sit in as mediator at a meeting called by Kenneth "Tug" Wilson, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee.

The President was reported gravely concerned over the effect of the battle between the Amateur Athletic Union, governing body of the many U. S. amateur sports, and rival federations formed with the sanction of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. which runs the college show.

Leaders of the three new college federations — track and field, basketball and gymnastics — issued a statement today in which they said they agreed to the broad principles worked out at an earlier exploratory meeting in Washington, D. C., Oct. 26-27.

FOUR PRINCIPLES

The college federations listed the four broad principles of settlement as the following:

1. The new federations and the AAU would enter into a signed agreement.

2. The U. S. Track and Field Federation would consider ways and means of cooperating with the AAU in regard to international recognition.

3. Dual sanctioning of competition in the United States would be put into operation.

4. Federation members would be asked to make their facilities and personnel available for AAU events in accordance with established sanctioning policies.

L.A. STATE QUARTERBACK CALLS HIS PLAY

At odds with coach Bud Adams during the season, the senior quarterback ignored a play sent in by the coach against Long Beach State and called his own pattern. Adams quickly pulled Bond out of the game.

Bond went into the locker room with the team at halftime, but as the rest of the club rested he got dressed and left the stadium.

Long Beach State won the game, 23-22.

America has always set the world an example in science, business and trade, and intellectual progress. But its great mission could fail if we forget the pressing needs of higher education.
Our higher institutions are sharing a crisis. Colleges are in a squeeze. Some face shortages, and all have the besetting prospect of twice the number of applicants in less than 10 years!
We must remember to support our colleges, see to it they have good laboratories, modern classrooms and a staff of competent teachers.

Seventh Straight Win; Cal Bows To Washington

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California's Trojans, patiently waiting for their ticket to be drawn in the 1962 national football championship lottery, are holding their most impressive number of the season—39.

That's how many points USC ran up in smashing Stanford 39-14 Saturday for its highest score and seventh straight victory of the year.

The Trojans stood No. 2 in the Associated Press poll last week, but No. 1 Northwestern washed itself out of contention with a 37-6 loss to Wisconsin.

The poll has seemed like little more than a lottery this year with leading teams losing almost as fast as they reach the pinnacle.

USC, however, looks like an outstanding contender for the West Coast's first national championship since the Trojans themselves won in 1939. Only Navy, UCLA and Notre Dame—all at home—stand between Troy and the eyes of the pollsters.

Elsewhere in the West Saturday, once-beaten and once-tied Oregon smashed Washington State 28-10, once-beaten and twice tied Washington routed California 27-0, the Air Force upset UCLA 17-11, Oregon State blanked Idaho 32-0, Fresno State nipped San Jose 20-14 and San Diego State upset Pacific 32-18.

Stanford Coach Jack Curtice said, "I would personally call the Trojans the No. 1 team in the nation," after he watched three quarterbacks account for the five USC touchdowns.

BREAK ICE

Tom Lupo's field goal broke the scoring ice for the winners. Then Pete Beathard ran 4 and 1 yards for two touchdowns set up by his passes to 6-foot-5 end Hal Bedsole.

Bill Nelsen, Beathard's replacement at quarterback, passed for two touchdowns in the second half and third-stringer Craig Fertig ran 5 yards for a last quarter score.

"Stopping their attack is like squeezing a lump of dough with your first," said Curtice. "You crush it and it pops out between your fingers."

Trojan Coach Johnny McKay didn't want to get involved in a discussion of national supremacy—but he admitted "the boys certainly want that rating."

HOMECOMING WIN

Oregon delighted a homecoming crowd by overcoming a 10-7 halftime deficit with two third period touchdowns and another in the fourth. Mel Renfro scored twice, once on a 76-yard pass play from Bob Berry, and set a one-season school record of 12 touchdowns.

California held Washington scoreless for more than 35 minutes, but six pass interceptions finally caught up with the Bears as Washington scored twice in each of the final quarters. Junior Coffey scored three touchdowns, the last on a 47-yard sideline dash.

This week's schedule: California at Kansas, San Jose at Stanford, UCLA at Washington, Navy at USC, Washington State at Idaho, Oregon at Ohio State, Colorado State at Oregon State, Pacific at Fresno State.

Snead, Palmer Cop World Golf Title

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—The United States possessed its third straight Canada Cup golf crown today but the American tandem of Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead almost lost it on the treacherous 10th hole of the Jockey Club course.

Hole No. 10 is a par 4, 466-yard dogleg to the right which appears harmless enough but it lined with hidden obstacles.

It was there that Palmer three-putted for a bogey 5. Snead did even worse. The Slammer from the West Virginia hills hooked his drive near the towering pine trees, slammed an iron shot over the back of the green, hit a bank trying to reach the velvet and wound up with a 6.

Argentina's Roberto de Vincenzo won the individual championship with a final round 68, two under par for the 6,746-yard layout.

Snead, who had led the tournament during its first three days, skyrocketed to a closing 74 yesterday, firing four bogies in addition to the double bogey.

TEAM TITLE

Palmer's 1-under-par 69 protected the lead of the Americans, who finished with an overall score of 557 for the 72-hole test for the cream of the stars from 33 nations. The grand total left Palmer and Snead two strokes ahead of De Vincenzo and Fidel DeLuca, who fashioned a 559 total.

Australia trailed the Argentines in third with 569. England was fourth with 572 and France fifth with 585.

De Vincenzo used 276 strokes in the four rounds, outnumbering Palmer and Peter Alliss of England by two shots. Palmer and Alliss had 278s. Then came the aging Snead at 279, good for fourth.

A year ago, Snead, 50, teamed up with Jimmy Demaret to win in Puerto Rico and with Palmer for a U.S. victory in 1960 in Dublin, Ireland. His 272 in Puerto Rico last year was an individual record.

The United States has also won the title on two other occasions in this 9-year-old event.

Moore Ready For Cassius

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Veteran heavyweight Archie Moore was making final preparations today for Thursday night's elimination bout with young Cassius Clay.

He said he was in "perfect shape" and "could go 20 rounds tonight if I had to."

Columbia Is Conccerned Over Lack Of Progress In Alliance Program

By WATSON SIMS

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Guillermo Leon Valencia expressed deep concern today about lack of progress in President John F. Kennedy's 20-billion-dollar Alliance for Progress program.

"Hungry people are expectant and waiting," he said. "It would be very dangerous to keep them waiting too long."

Government statistics give a gloomy picture of the plight of Colombia's 15 millions:

Most are underfed.

Per capita income is $183 a year; in the United States it is more than $2,200.

Forty per cent can't read or write.

Nearly 700,000 children do not attend school because of a lack of facilities.

The nation needs 280,000 housing units for improved living conditions.

"When I visited the United States last spring, I was told Colombia would be a showcase for Alliance for Progress," Valencia told an interviewer. "The showcase is ready and waiting but there is very little to put into it."

The program is a good one, the president said.

"It could transform Latin America in a magnificent way, to the advantage of the United States and all countries concerned," he added. "But the Alliance for Progress must make more progress if our hopes are to be achieved."

Colombia, with former President Alberto Lleras Camargo at the helm, was the first country in Latin America to submit a long-range plan for the program a year ago.

It proposed 22,000 new classrooms, 43,066 housing units, irrigation projects, agricultural development and industrial programs to create thousands of new jobs. In 10 years, the Colombian planners figured, per capita income could be increased to $286 a year.

The total investment would amount to 8.4 billion dollars, of which 1.7 billion would come from abroad, mostly from the United States.

But Valencia said "all too little" has come Colombia's way so far.

About 49 million dollars was spent in the first year of President Kenendy's program. Another 150 million was committed but has not been disbursed.

Valencia says Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba regime is trying to gain a foothold in his nation by arming and financing bandits in remote mountain areas.

The bandits have been killing an estimated 100 persons a month in isolated northern and western districts.

Widespread banditry has been an outgrowth of political feuds that raged for 20 years until 1958, when a coalition government was organized.

Woman Gives Up –Checks No Good

A tinge of conscience must have prompted a San Rafael woman to ask police to take her into custody for writing bad checks.

Julie Annette Janelle of Carmel Hotel, San Rafael, at 4:45 p.m. Saturday asked San Rafael police to keep her from writing bad checks. She showed them where she had written $437 in bad checks, according to police reports.

When some of the bad checks had been verified, she was booked into the Marin County jail on that charge with bail set at $525.

Scientist Disagrees On Calorie Requirement

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has no really accurate idea of how many calories any person should consume daily in order to be properly nourished despite the widely used scientific charts of daily calorie requirements, said Dr. Henry Borsook who is a biochemist and thinks of nutrition chemically.

Medical science needs few things more than it needs greater accuracy in this regard because, in his opinion, the charts are on the high side, especially in prescribing daily calories for middle-aged and elderly people. The charts allow them 2,500 if they're physically inactive and Borsook believed the accurate requirement would be below 2,000.

He was indulging in some "plain talk about nutrition," (a subject usually engulfed in hogwash as a chemist looks at it) for the benefit of students and faculty of the California Institute of Technology where he is professor of biochemistry.

One plain chemical fact is that chemically the body cares not a rap where essential nutritional substances come from; chemically it makes no difference whether calcium comes from milk or cheese "or from the chalk cliffs of Dover," he said.

"If I were in charge of an orphan asylum, I wouldn't serve the children any milk. I would provide the essential nutrients of milk—the protein, calcium and vitamins — far more cheaply from other sources such as beans, powdered chalk and vitamin concentrates. With the money I saved I would give the kids some luxuries that they would get some fun out of."

Switching his plain talk to protein, he asked and answered the question of how much protein does a person need daily. "If all our protein were meat, the most expensive source, it would be a surprisingly small amount—about two ounces," he said. if only a fifth of the protein in our diet was meat and the rest was a mixture of bread or beans, we would do very well."

As for vegetables and fruits, he said they were urged upon people mainly because of their vitamins. "But as far as vitamins are concerned, a good multivitamin pill makes the eating of vegetables and fresh fruit unnecessary, and it is a lot cheaper and easier."

Bersook was not advocating the substitution of a few daily nutritional pills for eating. In this view that is not practical.

"Let's say we need 2,000 calories, which is 20 per cent below the standard," he said. "Taking only digestible material, and considering only its dry weight, for 2,000 calories we need aobut 400 grams. That is about nine-tenths of a pound. It is impossible to get nine-tenths of a pound into a couple of pills."

Most of the nutritional diseases affect people who eat very few kinds of food, and "nutritional safety is in variety," he said. To cut down on variety in things eaten "is to court the danger of running into a shortage of one or more essential amino acids."

Body chemistry must have amino acids to build the human proteins which operate the body and eight of them are obtainable only in food.

Water District Promotes Two

George T. Eames and Bill G. Grant, both of San Rafael, have been promoted by the Marin Municipal Water District.

Eames, a 14-year employee of the water district, was named superintendent of construction and maintenance. He will be in charge of operations at all construction yards in the district.

Grant, a 11-year employee, was appointed supervisory engineer, taking charge of the district's engineering department. He has been project engineer in charge of design and construction of the district's Nicassio Dam.

Among prehistoric animals known to have existed in the San Francisco Bay Area was a three-toed horse similar to today's modern species.

Two Stolen Cars Quickly Recovered

Quick recovery of two stolen cars was reported yesterday by Marin County sheriff's office.

Kenneth W. Jones of 484 Holly Street, Terra Linda, reported a 1962 Thunderbird stolen from in front of his house the preceding night. It was found at 3:30 p.m. in front of 2658 Las Gallinas Avenue.

Donald Mackay of 36 Juno Road, Tiburon, reported at 8:50 p.m. Saturday that his pickup truck and $1,000 in power tools had been taken from Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School. It was intact at 9:20 p.m. on Miller at Almonte Avenue.

Molly Merrill Becomes Bride Of Bill Sterling In Sausalito

Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito was the setting Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Mary Olive (Molly) Merrill and William (Bill) Sterling.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holbrook Merrill Jr. of Sausalito, and he is the son of Stanford University President Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling and Mrs. Sterling.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 1 o'clock by the Rev. Richard Trelease of Shawnee Mission, Kan.

MOLLY WAS given in marriage by her father, and she received her vows wearing the wedding gown of her great grandmother, Mrs. Frank Moulton of Atherton. It was a full length, simply designed dress of white satin. With it she wore the lace mantilla that had belonged to her late Godmother, Mrs. Silas Palmer of Atherton.

Molly's attendants were her two sisters, Jenefer and Alice Merrill of Sausalito, the bridegroom's two sisters, Susan and Judith Sterling of Stanford, and Cressy Wallace of Kentfield. They were gowned identically in princess styled dresses of soft cream colored wool.

Flower girls were the bride's cousins, Amy and Martha Latham, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Mark Latham of Palo Alto, and Abigail and Anne Carver, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carver of Woodside. Their frocks were of cream colored linen.

BILL'S BEST man was Richard Guggenhime of San Francisco. Escorting guests to their seats were Kemp Crawford and Brian Catlin of New York, Michael Erlin of Palo Alto and Robert Moore of Stanford.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at "Elmwood" in Atherton, the home of Molly's Godfather, Silas Palmer.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE left by plane for Lausanne, Switzerland, where the benedict is an assistant to one of the professors at IMEDE, a management development institute.

THE NEW MRS. Sterling is a graduate of Dominican Convent Upper School and of Stanford University and studied last year at the Sorbonne in Paris, visiting in Switzerland during the summer. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Merrill of Menlo Park and the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lane Clemans.

The bridegroom was graduated from Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., and Stanford University and spent a year as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford. He is the grandson of Albert Morley Shaver of Ontario, Canada, and the late Rev. and Mrs. William Sterling.

"Fun with Wine and Foods," a talk by Leon Adams of Sausalito will be presented Thursday by chairman Mrs. Clayton D. Mote as the program for members and guests of the Sausalito Woman's Club. It will start at 2:30 p.m.

As a newspaper reporter, traveler, researcher, connoisseur of fine wines and gourmet foods, as well as lecturer and freelance writer, Adams has studied wines and other beverages, their history and cultural role in ancient and modern society.

His writings on wine include "The Common Sense Book of Wines," "The Wine Study Course" and "The Common Sense Book of Drinking."

He is also executive secretary of the Society of Medical Friends of Wine.

To Write A Book Requires Talent, Study, Practice

By MARGARET COUSINS
Senior Editor, Doubleday & Co.

NEW YORK (UPI) — So you want to write a book? Almost everybody does, if my experience as an editor can be trusted.

And, a surprising number of people plan to write one when they get the time. Time is certainly a basic requirement for writing a book and few who have not tried it will realize how much.

Along with time, there are other considerations before embarking on such a project.

Talent is a loosely-defined term and very difficult to pinpoint, but it is more than a leaning or a desire. Talent is a creative impulse and it is a necessary portion of the writer's equipment.

Talent is innate and cannot be learned. It can only be discovered.

FEW PEOPLE are born without a talent for something, but it does not follow that all people are born with a talent for writing simply because writing is a ubiquitous form of communication.

The means of expressing this talent — that is, the craft of writing—must be learned, as any other art must be learned, by study and practice.

The publication of a book one has written is roughly similar to a concert for a musician. It is not reasonable to expect to publish a book just because you can put sentences together.

Style, which is the writer's instrument, is a distillation of study and practice, trial and error, a familiarity with the nuances of language, which enables the writer to construct a vehicle for elusive thought, to give words to the individuality unique in him. In short, craft in writing, like craft in any medium, is skill.

However, it may look to you, all writing is hard work. It is solitary and confining and it is necessary to love it to pursue it.

WHETHER THE writing concerned is the sort of expository prose which appears in directions on a label, or a long novel, the writer must be committed to a passion for communication of his ideas if he hopes for genuine success.

Considerations of money, fame or status are therefore idle. There are many easier ways to arrive at fortune or celebrity status.

If you want to write a book you should have primarily talent, craft and commitment. If these conditions sound idealistic, I admit it freely. But idealism is intrinsic in the writing profession. Some portion of these three things are part of every good book and surely no one proposes to write a bad one.

IN THE HUNDREDS of manuscripts we examine every year, one or the other of these is often lacking.

However, a gleam of talent will be nurtured by editors indefinitely, in the hope that the writer will learn his craft or get around to committing himself.

THE PUBLISHER gambles hard money as well as the dedication of the editorial staff and a long chain of distribution on every book that he publishes.

Book production is costly and there is no way to persuade a person to read a book. The publisher makes the writer's work available to the reader, but the writer must intrigue the reader by what he has to say. No publisher can do this for him.

A book takes a good deal more than time, but if you write a good one, it is almost certain to be published.

Holiday Bazaar Planned On Sunday

St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild is preparing for its holiday bazaar, and president of the guild Mrs. Robert W. Andrews has appointed Mrs. Edmund J. Coyne and Mrs. Raymond Cerutti chairmen for the Sunday event. It will be given in the school auditorium on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael. Doors will open after the 6 a.m. mass.

Mothers of the school children and women throughout the parish have been busy for weeks making the items, which will include Thanksgiving decorations for the home.

St. Rafael's Catholic Ladies Aid, the Catholic Daughters of Court St. Raphael, the Catholic youth organization and Scout groups are also contributing articles.

Breakfast will be served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Raymond W. Swanson.

Proceeds from the bazaar will be used for equipment for the school kitchen.

Father Objects That Children Have No Clear Idea Of History

"I object to the way history is taught," a father writes. "Nowadays it is combined with many other subjects. I'm afraid the children never get a clear picture of human development. My son is in high school. He doesn't know that anything happened before the Middle Ages. My daughter is in sixth grade. She is almost totally unaware of the past. What can I do to teach them?"

I'm sorry for your experience. I believe your children are unusual. However I can understand your desire to supplement their school history instruction. In my home we had history lessons, for many years. My wife and I taught our children what we thought they needed to know. I suggest you do the same.

The best book for the home history teaching of elementary school children is Hillyer's "A Child's History of the World." It was written long ago, by the headmaster of a famous private school. The publishers have brought out new editions, keeping it up to date. It gives a simple, understandable account of the rise and fall of many civilizations, and of the lives of most of our world leaders. You can order a copy at any bookstore. Your daughter will love it. Possibly your son will, too.

There are many good books for high schoolers. One of the best is Henrick Van Loon's "The Story of Mankind." For teen-agers who read well, H. G. Well's "Outline of History" can be recommended. With the world as it is today knowledge of history is very important.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Should the partisan political bias of an author influence the way he writes history textbooks?" L. D. N.

(A) No, it should not. An exception comes when books or pamphlets are labeled clearly as partisan, presenting one point of view. They can be used by senior high school teachers to show pupils how to judge propaganda. But the basic textbooks should be entirely nonpartisan.

Japanese Tobis Can Be Made From Regular Stretch Socks

By EUNICE FARMER

"I have not been able to locate any Japanese socks to wear with my Japanese flip-flops. Besides being fine on the beach, these rubber-thonged sandals are useful indoors, even in cold weather, if worn with a divided sock.

"I stitched down the center of a pair of stretch socks, from the toe to about two inches down, and back again to the toe, leaving a space of about one-fourth inch between the two seams. I repeated this about ⅛-inch outside the first stitching, for reinforcement, before slitting between the seams. One side has room for the first or large toe, and the other side will accommodate the rest.

"The socks seem even more comfortable than ordinary socks when worn with loafers or tennis shoes."

Mrs. Clarice Scott, Norfolk, Va., is this week's winner of a tailor trix pressing board for this helpful suggestion.

"Would you please tell me how to make a 'broomstick skirt?' My mother made one for me many years ago. It was very full and pretty, and it seems to me that the skirt had a permanent pleated effect."

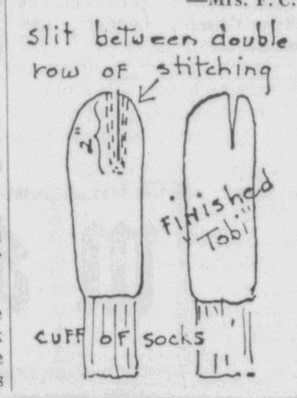
—Mrs. G.M.

Dear Mrs. G.M.:

I'm sorry but I have no information on this type of skirt. If any of you readers have made one, please let us know how it is done. I will be happy to give the instructions in this column.

"I bought some quilted material to make my young daughter a skirt and weskit. Would you please tell me how to finish the seams and hem?"

—Mrs. F. C.



Dear Mrs. F. C.:

There are several ways you could finish these seams. Perhaps the best way is to bind the seams in matching bias binding. You could also turn under about ⅛ inch of the seam allowance and machine stitch close to the edge. Since quilted fabric has a tendency to separate, it is a good idea to finish the seams in some way other than pinking them. The hem may be made in the ordinary way, using hem tape.

The weskit would serve "double duty" if you would make it completely reversible and use a contrasting color to complement the quilted fabric. This type of fabric is practical because it requires little pressing and is sturdy.

"I have a pattern that calls for a rolled hem. I'm uncertain about how this is done and need your help."—Mrs. G.F.S.

Dear Mrs. G.F.S.:

This is a very tiny finish to a garment that is done by hand. There is a little trick that will make this hand hemming easier. Machine stitch about ¼ inch from the cut edge of your garment. Trim the excess fabric to about ⅛ inch from stitching line. Carefully roll this edge and hand-whip with tiny invisible stitches. The machine stitching is especially helpful when hemming sheer fabrics such as chiffon because it keeps the edge from stretching.

Mrs. W. A. F. says:

"I make hundreds of aprons for the Scouts to sell from odds and ends of material left over from sewing for my girls and grandchildren. It is a plain cut apron with a quilted band on the bottom. Since many women use the bottom of their aprons as a pot holder, you can see how handy this would be. The quilting is done all the way across the bottom. However, I make it wider at each end to fit the hand. You can use worn out blankets for padding the quilted sections.

Please send questions and "new ideas" to Sew Simple so that we may share them with all the gals who sew from coast to coast. Send your mail to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

Scholarship Winner To Address P-TA

Miss Ruby Yaryan, a Marinite who attended the University of London for one year on a Rotary scholarship, will be the speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Wade Thomas Parent Teacher Assn.

Miss Yaryan studied for her Ph.D. in psychology while in London. She will speak on the differences between the academic training in England and the United States and on the problems of living abroad.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Social Work Background For Old Mill P-TA's President

Presiding over Old Mill this year is the job of Mrs. M. James Norton, former music chairman.

She and her husband, James, head counselor at San Rafael High School, and their children, Brent, 14, Kirk, 8 and Krista, 5, moved to Marin from Walnut Creek three years ago.

"Lou" Norton was reared in Salt Lake City, where she attended the University of Utah, graduating with major in education. Much of her study has been in the area of speech therapy, and from this grew an interest in the field of social work.

AFTER GRADUATE study in the school of social work she was employed by the Salt Lake County welfare department and the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. Also for a short period Mrs. Norton did speech therapy through the Crippled Children's Assn. Her last "work away from home" was in rural areas of Contra Costa County, where she did foster home study and licensing for the child welfare department.

With the move to Mill Valley came an end to anything resembling a quiet life. Not only did the old home need alterations, but Mill Valley proved provocative. Since the two areas which interest Mrs. Norton are education and mental health, it was natural for her to become active in P-TA and to become membership chairman for the Marin County Mental Health Assn.

MRS. NORTON'S attitude toward P-TA can best be described in her own words — "through P-TA participation we have the opportunity of assuming our share of responsibility for children everywhere."

Others named to serve on the Old Mill board this year are honorary vice president William Lovvorn, and Mesdames J. A. Fuller, vice president; Christopher Dyer-Bennett, program chairman; Richard Nelson, secretary; George Hebert, treasurer; Benjamin Upham, fiance officer; and Dennis Trulove, parliamentarian.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Talented Bridge Player Sets Grand New Record For Game

A talented friend of mine set a new record the other day by watching a television program, talking to his secretary on the phone, and mixing a batch of Martinis—all while playing a bridge hand.

It was an historic occasion, so I carefully recorded the hand:

West dealer
Both sides vulnerable

	NORTH ♠ 9 7 4 3 ♡ A J 9 3 2 ◇ A 10 ♣ A 7
WEST ♠ A K Q J 8 ♡ 7 5 ◇ Q 9 4 ♣ K J 6		EAST ♠ 10 6 ♡ 4 ◇ K 8 7 3 ♣ 10 9 8 5 3 2
	SOUTH ♠ 5 2 ♡ K Q 10 8 6 ◇ J 6 5 2 ♣ Q 4

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	2 ♡
Pass	4 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ K

West led spades until South ruffed the third round.

STARTS LEAD

South next started to lead a card from his hand but put it back when we told him he was in dummy. Muttering something about playing bridge with a bunch of lawyers, and stirring the Martinis moodily, South got to his hand by ruffing a spade.

Then he led a diamond and lost a finesse to East's king.

Back came a club to dummy's ace, and South had to lose a club trick. South could get to his hand only once, with the last trump; he needed two entries to set up and cash the jack of diamonds.

SLIGHT ERROR

South made a slight error in his play. He should draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and king instead of with the king and ace.

This leaves him in his own hand to make a diamond play while he still has two trumps.

East wins with the king of diamonds and knocks out the ace of clubs, but South has two entries to his hand.

CASH ACE

He can cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a spade, and ruff a diamond in dummy.

When the queen of diamonds drops South can get back to his hand with a trump to cash the jack of diamonds.

We were so proud of South's new record that we didn't mind his slight error in the play of the hand.

But there was some objection to the way he mixed the Martinis.

We have reason to believe he used castor oil instead of vermouth.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 12, the 316th day of 1962 with 49 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1920, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis was appointed the first "czar" of big league baseball.

In 1948, the war crimes tribunal in Japan sentenced former Premier Tojo and six colleagues to die by hanging for World War II misdeeds.

A thought for the day: Robert Frost said: "Most of the change we think we see in life is due to truths being in and out of favor."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

It's Unfair To Call Elderly Person Old Or Sick If Just Acting His Age

VAN DELLEN

A 75-year-old person may be sick rather than old. This is an important distinction to make, especially if he is suffering from malnutrition anemia, or a transient illness. But it is not fair to call him old or sick if he simply is acting his age.

According to Dr. Robert Kemp of Liverpool, many men and women of 75 or more years of age are frail, unsteady, forgetful, untidy, selfish, petty, repetitive, boring, or confused about people and places. They doze during the day and are wakeful at night. In addition, they are fearful of death.

THIS IS NORMAL for their age and comparable to the antics of children and teenagers in their age group. It is true that not every oldster has these characteristics and not every child behaves in the same way.

Many of these traits are bothersome to middle aged members of the family but it is surprising how often a cause can be found. Furthermore, they are not medical problems even though the physician usually is called to make Grandpa eat, or to restore zest or an interest in life to Grandma, who prefers to sit in a rocking chair doing nothing. On the other hand, Doctor Kemp suggests that the physician must determine whether a 75-year-old person is "fit though old, fit and old but neglected, old and emotionally unstable, or whether he is old and physically or mentally ill."

IT IS EASY to blame every symptom, peculiarity, or mental disturbance on hardening of the arteries or old age. Many elderly persons are better off without a physician's care, if it implies they are sick or older than they really are. It makes them more feeble, pessimistic, and ill.

We want to avoid misunderstanding by saying that the elderly should be under the care of a physician for bona fide illnesses such as heart disease, high blood pressure, cataracts, or other diseases. But the physician will have just as much trouble as the family trying to convince the old-timer that he needs non-medical help, that he should try to remember, and that he ought to eat. The main thing is to stop worrying about getting old and helpless.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ENLARGED EYEBALLS

Mrs. Z. writes: Is there some disease or deficiency connected with oversized eyeballs? My husband has protruding eyeballs and my 4-year-old son has large eyes.

REPLY

The commonest cause of this condition is an overactive thyroid gland but now and then the condition is hereditary and has no relation to disease. In such individuals, prominent eyeballs are handed down from generation to generation.

WEIGHT GAIN IN PREGNANCY

Mrs. D. R. writes: Should a pregnant woman be alarmed if only nine pounds were gained in the first six months?

REPLY

This is a below average gain but not unusual. If you have been under the care of a physician, and he is not concerned, there is no reason for you to worry.

KNEE REFLEXES

M. P. writes: My 13-year-old daughter has no reaction to knee taps. Is this important?

REPLY

The reflex response to knee taps varies and may be suppressed completely in normal persons. It is more significant when one side is more or less active than the other.

CAN BUNIONS RECUR?

D. K. writes: Can bunions grow back after they are removed surgically?

REPLY

Not as a rule, but the question is difficult to answer because the term, bunion, is misused frequently.

NOTICE INVITED SEALED BIDS

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF IMPROVEMENTS IN BRET HARTE DRAINAGE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT, CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

Pursuant to the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and to resolution of the City Council of the City of San Rafael, Marin County, California, directing this notice, said City Council hereby invites sealed bids and proposals for doing the work and improvements described in Resolution of Intention No. 2606 in the above entitled matter. Said Resolution of Intention is hereby referred to for a description of said work and improvements, the lines and grades to which it is to be done, a description of the district to be assessed to pay for the costs and expenses thereof, the bonds to be issued, and for all further particulars contained in said Resolution of Intention. Reference is hereby further made to the plans and specifications and detailed drawings for said work on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, in accordance with which said work shall be done.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the City Council of the City of San Rafael has heretofore established a prevailing rate and scale of wages for work to be done, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 1770 and 1773 of the California Labor Code. Said scale of prevailing rates so determined is, by this reference, incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

The contractor shall, in the performance of the work and improvements, conform to the Labor Code of the State of California and other laws of the State of California applicable thereto, with the exception only of such variations as may be required under the special statutes pursuant to which proceedings hereunder are taken and which have not been superseded by the provisions of the Labor Code. Preference to labor shall be given only in the manner provided by law. Veterans and resident local labor shall be given preference by the contractor whenever possible, if skill and working ability permit without increasing the ultimate cost of the work and improvement to the City Council of the City of San Rafael.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check payable to said City of San Rafael and certified by a responsible bank for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate of the proposal or by a bond for said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions, or by a corporate surety in said amount satisfactory to the Engineer of Work.

Said proposals or bids shall be delivered on or before the hour of 2:00 P.M. on the 10th day of December, 1962, at the office of the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, City Hall, San Rafael, California, which said time and place are hereby fixed as the time and place of a public meeting at which said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared, will be calculated by the Engineer of Work of Bret Harte Drainage Assessment District, their report returned to the City Clerk, and the report of the results of the bidding and the calculations of the Engineer of Work will be reported to the City Council of the City of San Rafael at the next regular meeting thereof. The City Council of the City of San Rafael reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this necessary for the public good, and also the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the City of San Rafael.

Plans, specifications and contract documents are available at the office of the Engineer of Work, DAN COLEMAN ENGINEERING, 1255 Post St., San Francisco, California, Suite 1255, upon the payment of $20.00, which sum will be refundable upon return of the plans and specifications in good condition.

DOES YOUR SON SAY,
"WHY CAN'T WE STAY IN ONE PLACE LIKE OTHER PEOPLE?"

No wonder Johnny is bewildered and unhappy. Once again he has had to leave playmates behind, move into a strange neighborhood, enter a strange school. Why don't his parents buy a home and stop this endless moving?

Johnny's father says: "Sure, I'm going to buy a home some day."

Wisdom says: "Buy it now!" Now, when Johnny needs it most . . . when Johnny's father and mother are young enough to enjoy the home with their children . . . when Johnny's father is at the beginning of one of his longest earning periods.

This is a good time to buy a home, probably the best in the history of this county. For the manner in which homes are financed nowadays puts home ownership on a better basis than ever before. The cost of a home can be paid off over a long period of time. Monthly payments are usually LESS than you would have to pay in rent for the same type of property. Give a thought to buying NOW . . . and when you do, be sure and call a Marin County REALTOR, a member of

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Tiburon Travel Service Opens Under Direction Of Bert Talbot

"Talbot of Tiburon Travel Service," a new business at 9 Main Street, Tiburon, has been opened by Bert Talbot, a Marin newcomer now living at 2313 Vistazo East.

Talbot has been connected with transportation for more than 20 years. He held several executive posts with Northwest Orient Airlines, and established its Philippine operation in 1947.

Asked why he chose Tiburon to start his business, Talbot named the combination of scenery and interesting living. "If you must travel to appreciate California, then let me name some of the places of the greatest contrast," he said.

BERT TALBOT
Opens travel agency

ON THE SUBJECT of travel, American Express reports 50,000 Americans will circle the globe this year—55,000 in 1963. Most of them will go by air between the first of October and end of March, averaging six to eight weeks for the trip. Around 3,000 to 5,000 sail to the Orient, then continue by air. Chief interest seems to center around the Far East and South Pacific.

Round the world travel has doubled from two years ago. Reasons are expanded tour programs, stopover privileges and economy fares. A round-the-world ticket costs little more than a round trip to distant points.

Travel representatives advise: Don't rush! Many people want to squeeze in Honolulu, Tokyo and Hong Kong within four weeks. To see them right you should allow at least five.

LOCH LOMOND Shopping Center expects to get its construction start this week with the driving of pilings. First unit here will be the 18,000-square foot market of Michael Gary and Harry and Ralph Hartunian—completion five or six months away.

VOLKSWAGEN'S one-millionth vehicle to become registered in the U. S. was put on the road sometime during the last two weeks in October and followed closely the usual quiet changeover from one year's VW vintage tag to another.

The only noticeable change in 1963 Volkswagens, and a minor one, at that, is the lining of the interior roof. It's now plastic, easier to keep clean than the former soft cloth. I've always thought this should have been done earlier, but VW doesn't go for numerous annual changes.

Marin dealers Leon C. Felto Co. in San Rafael and Mill Valley Volkswagen will be selling the 1963s—when they are available. Total allotment is 40 to 45 cars a month, and the shipload that came in Friday was already sold. It takes about six weeks between order and delivery.

LARKSPUR floral decorator Katherine Eubanks demonstrated her artistry yesterday to members of the Southern California Retail Florists Assn. at that organization's annual Christmas Holiday School in Los Angeles.

JOHN F. KELLY of Sausalito has been appointed an Allstate Insurance representative in the San Rafael area, acting for Allstate's safety crusade, Allstate Insurance Club and handling multiple insurance lines.

Parents Hope To Organize Aphasia Class

Parents of children suffering from aphasia (loss of speech due to brain damage) are trying to organize a special class in Marin County.

Horace Hill of 269 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, explained that the state recommends at least six children before a class is set up.

"We know of three or four children with aphasia in the county," said Hill. "We are trying to find if there are any more so that a class can be started here." Once a class is started, most of the cost would be reimbursed by the state, he explained.

Anyone interested should contact Hill, or Mrs. Dare Morgan at the Marin County Society for Crippled Children.

Hill, an insurance broker, served on the Marin County Grand Jury in 1957. He has a 9-year-old son who attends a special class in Berkeley every day because there is no class available in Marin.

Eichler Will Speak Wednesday

Joseph Eichler, president of Eichler Homes Inc., will speak at the 11th annual joint service club luncheon Wednesday noon at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Jess J. France Jr., president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, will discuss the past and future growth of San Rafael.

The luncheon is sponsored by the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. San Rafael Lions Club is host this year. Robert Ritter, chairman of the Chamber's civic development committee, arranged the program and speakers.

Sale Of Wade Thomas School Buildings Set

Bids will be opened for sale of structures on the Wade Thomas School site at an adjourned meeting of San Anselmo School District trustees at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Isabel Cook School.

A progress report on plans and specifications for the Wade Thomas School addition will be made by architect Eugene Crawford. A curricular report on science instruction will also be given.

THE COLLEGE OF MARIN
COMMITTEE ON CONCERTS AND LECTURES
Cordially invites you to hear the Berkeley Chamber Singers in a Concert of Unusual Choral Music at 8:30 p.m., Friday, November 16, Olney Hall, at the Kentfield Campus.
Tickets are free and may be obtained at the college bookstore from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Firm Date For Center Acceptance Due

This will be the first regular session in two weeks, although a short special meeting on Civic Center matters was held last Monday.

Green has indicated his hope that the much-discussed acceptance date can be stated with certainty by tomorrow. Tentatively the date has been set for next Friday. Authority for a compromise deal with the contractor, allowing price concession instead of replacement of least damaged floor tiles, eased the situation.

Taking a long look ahead, Administrator Alan Bruce will place before the supervisors his ideas for the second or Hall of Justice Wing project on the Civic Center.

Though this may not come for four years, Bruce has indicated that he needs authority for starting preliminary work on space, cost and time estimates along with other matters.

A considerable backlog of business promises a lengthy session tomorrow including 26 communications for the morning starting at 9 a.m., and several other items normally on the communications agenda placed with Department of Public Works business starting at 1:30 p.m.

These include the administrator's request for Stage II planning on the Civic Center, his plan for moving into the Administration Building, the county medical director on a Civic Center first aid station, and the county counsel's current views on the Civic Center stop-work order of last year.

Public Works business will include consideration of Division of Highways ideas about the new road connection to the county airport north of Novato, as well as the division's notice of a Shoreline Highway meeting Nov. 29.

After 21 planning matters, the supervisors at 3 p.m. will hear the appeal of Marin County Abstract and Title Co. on its desire to place a filling station on a parcel of land near Trestle Glen and Tiburon Boulevard.

Permit For Church To Planners

A request to build a new church in the Terra Linda section of San Rafael will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

The congregation of Aldersgate Methodist Church, now meeting in the Terra Linda Community Center, has asked for a use permit to build its church on Nova Albion Way near Monticello Drive.

The proposed church site is near the Nazareth House and the new convalescent hospital planned by Dr. Rafael G. Duffcy Jr.

Construction of the first phase of the church, a 4,969-square-foot fellowship hall and classroom building, is expected to begin next spring, according to Frayne Fennie, building committee chairman.

The commission also will consider architectural approval for a 30-unit apartment building on Nova Albion Way as part of its agenda of 25 items.

Youth Joins Navy

Roger Lee Craft III, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lee Craft Jr., 1710 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, enlisted in the Navy last week and was sent to the Naval Training Center at San Diego for 10 weeks of basic training.

Robin Hand President Of Dance Club

Typhoon Rakes Guam, Causes $100 Million In Damage

HONOLULU (AP) — Typhoon Karen—described as the worst tropical storm in Guam's history—has rendered the island nearly helpless, leaving hundreds injured, at least one dead and an estimated 100 million dollars in damage.

Karen ripped the tiny island —hub of the United States Pacific defense ring—late last night and early Monday, Guam time, with winds estimated at 105 knots.

The Navy's Pacific Fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor said a three-day warning of the big blow "saved countless lives."

Guamanian and U. S. military personnel and their dependents began digging out of the battered island.

Guam's acting governor, Manuel Guerrero, sent an urgent appeal to Washington to rush aid. He said, "entire territory devastated by Typhoon Karen."

Guerrero's message said 95 per cent of the island's civilian community, including government employe housing, was useless or destroyed.

Pacific Fleet headquarters said four of every five civilian homes had their roofs blown off.

The acting governor's message said George Washington High and Tumon Junior High schools were destroyed. Guam Memorial Hospital, the island's public works department and utilities agencies were extensively damaged, Guerrero said.

He asked the Office of Emergency Planning to declare Guam a disaster area.

Residents took refuge in shelters and government buildings. The Federal Aviation Agency said some dependants were to be taken to Wake Island.

Any removals or emergency airlifts to the island, however, were dependant on when Guam's airstrips could be cleared. The FAA reported all airstrips inoperable. Pacific Air Force planes were standing by to carry in supplies and equipment.

The Navy's tracking center at Guam gauged sustained winds of 135 knots last night and early today before personnel were forced to run for shelters. Messages received in Japan said winds gusted to 147 knots before measuring devices broke down.

Some 70,000 persons live there, about 40,000 natives or civilians from the United States. The other 30,000 are military men and their dependents, associated with the headquarters of U. S. Naval forces Marianas, other Navy installations or the Air Force's Strategic Air Command center for the Far East.

The island, just a dot on the map, is 30 miles long and four to nine miles wide.

6 Democrats Looking For Miller's Job

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Filing opens tomorrow for the strangest congressional campaign in the history of the United States.

Candidates have until Dec. 7 in which to place their nominating petitions with between 500 and 1,000 signatures of registered voters in the hands of a county clerk in one of the six counties of the First Congressional District, which includes Marin County.

Seventy days from tomorrow, after a campaign interrupted by Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's holidays, voters will cast ballots. The man who tallies the highest total, even though it not be a majority, will represent the district in Washington.

At least six Democratic candidates are definite aspirants, they told a Democratic caucus Saturday in Willits. Six other persons, including Mrs. Clem (Katharine) Miller, widow of the late congressman whose posthumous election created the situation, definitely took themselves out of contention.

LEADING CANDIDATE

Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, Northern California chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and twice before an unsuccessful candidate for the job, emerged a leading candidate. He would not ask anyone to endorse his candidacy, he said, but "if you ask me to run, I will do so."

The other five who told a caucus of more than 200 Democrats in Brooktrails Lodge that they wanted Democratic Party endorsement, but indicated they would not run without it, were:

Nick Kobseff, Nicasio tavern operator, who was not present but sent a telegram in which he said he would "like to toss my hat in."

ALSO MENTIONED

Martin Wener of Ukiah, Mendocino County supervisor.

Merle Orchard of Ukiah, former Mendocino County district attorney.

Two prominently mentioned persons definitely taking themselves out of the race were:

State Sen. Carl Christensen of Eureka ("I am not a candidate, but I intend to support whomever you select") and Mrs. Elizabeth Gatov of Kent Woodlands ("Under no conceiv-

Marinites Observe Vets Day

Veterans Day in Marin was marked by only a few ceremonies scattered around the county today and yesterday.

The holiday was officially observed yesterday, although schools and city, county, state and federal offices were closed today.

Flags were put up in downtown Mill Valley this morning by Mill Valley Explorer Troop 34, under the direction of John T. Little, troop adviser. Many stores and homes in San Rafael and other communities also displayed flags.

A wreath was laid in front of Mill Valley City Hall yesterday at 11 a.m. by Veterans of Foreign Wars, Muir Woods Post 6741. A patriotic program and barbecue were held yesterday afternoon by Mill Valley American Legion Post 284.

Army reservists in Headquarters Company of the 362nd Regiment assembled at the Army Reserve Center in San Rafael to hear an address by Col. John R. Martindale, regiment commander. The company stood in silence for one minute at 11 a.m. in memory of the Americans who died in the two world wars and the Korean War.

More Showers Forecast Tonight

Sporadic showers started in Marin County around noon today. More were promised tonight and possibly tomorrow. Rain began in San Rafael just after 12 o'clock but stopped within 15 minutes. Two points in Mill Valley checked at almost the same time differed as to whether it was sprinkling.

It was showery at Point Reyes Station. In Novato there was some drizzle for a few minutes around noon, then sun broke through. Sausalito reported all dry.

Bowman Starts Recall Move Against Novato's Silva, Pozzi

Notices of intention to start recall proceedings were sent to Novato Mayor M. E. Silva and City Councilman Everett Pozzi by registered mail Saturday, Alfred W. Bowman said today.

The action came in the wake of the Novato City Council's 4-1 vote last Thursday night in favor of a depressed freeway on the present Highway 101 route through the heart of Novato. The vote wound up a special public hearing held by the council. At a previous hearing held by the California Division of Highways, a route by-passing the city (the "J" route) was favored.

Bowman, a member of the Novato Chamber of Commerce freeway committee, already has filed papers for recall of City Councilman John Angeloni. He said today he would start circulating petitions for Angeloni's recall on Thursday. Fourth councilman who voted for the through-town freeway route was Howard Schoof, elected last April. Mrs. Lucile Cannon voted against it. Bowman said he was not seeking to recall Schoof because, in running for election, Schoof did not campaign for re-routing the freeway.

Informed of Bowman's action, both Silva and Pozzi said

President, Aides Consult On Cuba; 42 Missiles Counted On Russ Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy and his top consultants on the Cuban crisis met for an hour and 45 minutes today at the White House, but there was no announcement of results.

Withdrawal of Cuban missiles from Cuban bases was one subject that was certain to have figured in the discussions.

The conference brought together not only the U.S. negotiators assigned to the United Nations during the Cuban crisis, but also the members of the executive committee of the National Security Council. The Security Council members have been meeting almost daily with Kennedy.

At the conclusion of the session, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., Adlai E. Stevenson, left the White House by the west basement entrance. With him—they all climbed into a black limousine—were John J. McCloy, chairman of Kennedy's Cuban crisis coordinating committee, and the two other committee members.

Kennedy had summoned the top Cuban crisis negotiators to the White House to discuss "developments to date" in their talks with Soviet and U.N. representatives.

The announcement of the meeting, issued by the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, did not elaborate. One development certain to be on the agenda is the Soviet missile withdrawal.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric confirmed Sunday the United States has counted 42 Russian missiles on ships steaming away from Cuba.

He stressed that without on-site inspection the United States cannot be certain whether the 42 were all Moscow sent in.

"The Soviets said there were 42," he said. "We have counted 42 going out. We saw fewer than 42 in U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba.

"Until we have so-called on-site inspection of the island of Cuba we could never be sure that 42 was the maximum number the Soviets brought into Cuba."

WEDDING NEAR

Shark Mangles Marinite's Leg

Farallones Skin Diver Excursion

LeRoy French, 24, of San Rafael, son of auto dealer James E. French Jr., fought off a shark near the Farallon Islands yesterday and escaped with a mangled left leg but no broken bones.

He was reported in good condition today at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

French, who lives at 19 Elizabeth Way, San Rafael, is scheduled to be married next Saturday to Cam McMenamin, 23, also of San Rafael. She is a daughter of retired Army Lt. Col. and Mrs Frank J. McMenamin of 11A Chestnut Drive.

AT HOSPITAL

"If I can walk up the aisle, the wedding will go ahead," young French said from his hospital bed.

French and about 30 others were on a skin-diving expedition about four miles west of the Farallones. He had surfaced after protographing sea life 100 feet below and was heading back to their boat, the Sea Dog III, when the shark attacked without warning.

"First think I knew, it grabbed my hip and took me down about 15 feet," French said. "It was squeezing and biting all the way down my leg to the ankle.

"I stabbed at it with my speargun and it took off. That's the last I saw of it."

WITH FRENCH

A. F. Giddings Jr., who operates the Bamboo Reef Skin Diving Supply north of San Rafael with young French, was also a member of the diving expedition.

Giddings said he was swimming ahead of French. "The shark made only one run," Giddings recalled. "We swam back to help LeRoy to the boat. We saw the fin cutting through the water but then it disappeared."

French was taken to the Farallones Coast Guard Station where a helicopter picked him up and flew him to Harbor Emergency Hospital.

French said he was not able to fire his underwater spear gun but could use it only to

McInnis Says Russians Never Had It So Good

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

"If the people of Russia are oppressed and downtrodden, we certainly found no evidence of it.

"By our standards, they have little. But in their reckoning, they are well off. Their parents and grandparents never had it so good."

That is the conclusion of Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael, who led the Marin Executive Delegation to the USSR.

McInnis, reviewing his own impressions and those of other members of the delegation, commented that he did not find the Russian people dour or spiritless.

The Russian people do not want war. And they do not dislike Americans. But they have been thoroughly schooled in a thesis the Marin visitors heard over and over: "The American president is a puppet controlled

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

$1 Million In Pearls Stolen

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Every available man on the 65-officer Forth Worth police detective bureau searched today for clues to the identity of a mysterious burglar who jimmied a hotel door lock and walked away with 70 pounds of pearls valued at one million dollars.

Chief of detectives Andy Fournier said an all-points bulletin is out for the thief who entered the room of a Japanese pearl exporter Saturday night through a valet door. Fournier said Cecil Sanders, a hotel doorman reported seeing a man leaving about midnight with a bag similar to that containing the pearls.

The pearls taken included a golden yellow pearl, one of the largest and rarest of its kind. It was valued at $10,000.

Hikoji Sakata, a partner with his four brothers in the Sakata Pearl Co. Limited of Tokyo, said the collection included 57,000 pearls.

Asked why he had not put the pearls back in the hotel safe Sakata said "that was my biggest mistake." He then dropped to his knees and wept.

Coins Stolen At Truman Library

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Burglars who apparently knew exactly what they were after broke into the Truman Library here today and stripped two large cases containing a collection of coins dating back to 1789.

Dr. Phillip Brooks, head of the library staff, said it was impossible to set a value on the stolen items because "you cannot express historical values in terms of money."

"But they were very valuable and it would be my guess that the burglars knew exactly what they were after," he said.

Brooks described the collection as "one of the most valuable things in the library," which houses the personal papers and documents for former President Harry S. Truman.

Pope's Physician Dies

ROME (UPI)—Dr. Filippo Rocchi, 62, one of Pope John XXIII's physicians, died last night in a Rome clinic five hours after the Pope had visited him.

Fire Hits Reno Hotel

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Pre-dawn fire broke out on the second floor of the Riverside Hotel today, forcing 200 guests to flee.

The fire was doused soon after it broke out of a room and into the hall and no serious injuries were reported.

The fire was believed to have started in a janitor's alcove, but smoke was soon spreading throughout the seven-story structure.

"It could have been a very bad fire, but as it turned out it wasn't much," said Fire Chief Wagner Sorensen. "Thank God it wasn't another Golden."

He referred to the Golden Hotel which burned here last April with the loss of six lives.

Snow Geese Arrive

RODANTHE, N.C. (AP)—Thousands of snow geese began arriving yesterday for their annual winter stay in this Outer Banks area.

The birds, say oldtimers, have been coming to the Outer Banks each year since 1918 on Nov. 11 to spend the winter.

A wildlife refuge was built here in the 1930s to accommodate the geese. Officials said about half of the 30,000 snow geese in existence fly here each fall for the winter.

Bear Kills Woman

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A mother bear, enraged when a farm couple approached her three cubs in a corn field, killed one woman and injured seven other peasants in the ensuing melee, the Belgrade press reported yesterday.

The animal fought off peasants armed with scythes and sticks, shook off a shotgun blast, blinded one attacker and bit another. She was driven away by a worker on a tractor.

Rare Cranes Spotted

More than 1,000 delegates are attending the society's annual convention here.

Heart Fund Grows

NEW YORK (AP)—The public gave a record total of $27,135,317 during the 1962 campaign conducted by the American Heart Assn. and its affiliates last February.

In announcing this yesterday, the association said the sum was 2.66 per cent higher than the amount contributed in 1961.

Action In Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Congo Command is threatening action against secessionist Katanga's air force after reports of bombings in North Katanga.

A message from the U.N. Command in Leopoldville yesterday said the U.N. air force would fly over the area to verify the reports and would announce later what action, if any, it would take against Katangan planes.

U.N. officials said they had "fairly reliable" reports that about 10 Katangan planes dropped at least 69 bombs Saturday in five successive strikes at objectives in North Katanga. There was no estimate of casualties. The reports told of bombing victims being evacuated.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Strong evidence from Moscow suggests that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been helped as much as he has been hurt by the Cuban crisis. Indications are that he will have his way in preparing the U.S.S.R. for a long-pull economic cold war.

Close examination of what went on before, during and after the 45th October Revolution anniversary seems to justify speculation concerning developments of high significance in the global political-economic war.

A picture emerges of Khrushchev as chairman of a collective of Soviet leaders whose theories, doggedly pushed since the destalinization congress of 1956, now are being vindicated.

The collective thus has had the opportunity to apply a coup de grace to its internal enemies and turn its attention to Khrushchev's original program. This seemingly was based on the assumption that nuclear war would ruin the Soviet Union, and that the logical course was to p repare for economic war on a world scale.

This does not mean Communists will not grab opportunities where they find them. But it can mean that the overriding policy is "better safe than sorry." It can mean that so long as the United States and the West keep up their guard, caution will be the Kremlin watchword.

The Cuban adventure showed how close Moscow could come to blundering into nuclear war with recklessly warlike policies. It is even possible the missile buildup in Cuba was undertaken against Khrushchev's better judgment, that he was overruled when the decision was made some months ago to go ahead with it.

Indications now are that Khrushchev's side has won whatever debates went on in party councils regarding the decision to pull back the missiles.

Having won that argument, the collective is strengthened in holding back impatient Communists who want aggressive action in West Berlin and elsewhere.

All these things undoubtedly were dealt with during the parade of visits satellite leaders made to Moscow recently.

Walter Ulbricht, head of the East German Reds, has been nagging the Kremlin for quick and decisive Berlin action, because the problem adds to his headaches in an economically floundering satrapy.

But Ulbricht and company seem to have been told that they will have to wait. The Russians probably already have a peace treaty for East Germany drawn up and ready to be signed by the Red bloc at a given signal, but for a while there seems little chance this will be done.

Principally, the Kremlin seems preoccupied with putting off the time when it might have to take an action which would take the U.S.S.R. beyond the point of no return.

The whole Communist bloc is burdened with economic problems. It has, in addition, the problem of Red China, an ailing giant whose leaders are clamoring for tough action against the United States.

Obvious deep economic difficulties in East Germany, Bulgaria and to a lesser extent in other satellites also may be dictating attention to internal bloc problems as a matter of Communist world security.

The whole tone of the 45th anniversary celebration was one of moderation.

The keynote speech by Alexei Kosygin laid heavy emphasis on economic problems. He stressed the need to satisfy Soviet consumer demands for meat, butter, milk, shoes, clothing and dwellings.

All this may signify a significan turn in Soviet policy. It can mean that the present Soviet leadership has decided, with regard to Communist expansion, to make haste a little more slowly, at least while the Western world remains on the alert.

TV Program Of Alger Hiss Causes Many Cancellations

NEW YORK (AP) — A televised appearance of Alger Hiss on a program entitled "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon" was met last night by a flood of phoned and telegraphed protests, cancellation of the program by several stations and picketing of network studios.

One Midwestern station carrying the program received a bomb threat but it proved to be a fake.

ABC said the taped program gave an honest summary of Nixon's career, including comments from persons applauding him.

Nixon, as a U.S. representative from California, started a 1948 congressional investigation of Hiss, then a high official in the State Department. The probe centered about charges by the late Whittaker Chambers that Hiss had been a member of a Communist underground cell.

Hiss later was convicted of perjury for denying he passed information to the Russians. Now out of prison, he is a New York City printing salesman.

Hiss said on the program that Nixon was a congressional investigator who was "less interested in developing the facts objectively than in seeking ways of making a pre-conceived plan appear plausible."

Hiss said he didn't know if Nixon was "poltically motivated." But, he added, "I certainly don't think that he was unaware of the political boost, the political soaring up into outer space that the hearings and the subsequent trial provided for him."

"If it hadn't been Mr. Nixon," Hiss went on, "perhaps someone else would have tried to jump into the same situation and benefit by it."

Hiss denied he held "any feelings of hostility" toward Nixon, but made clear that "I don't have any feelings of great personal warmth or affection."

Kansas Prairie Fire

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP)—A prairie fire yesterday swept over about 3,200 acres of central Kansas driven by 20 to 30-mile-an-hour winds.

Six firemen from Lyons were injured when a sudden gust of wind whipped the flames around them. Five were hospitalized for treatment of burns and smoke inhalation.

Fire fighters said they believed the blaze was started by careless hunters.

Cubans At U.S. Base Tell Of Grim Life With Castro

Fifty refugees from Castro are here now, although U. S. officials do not admit this. The Cubans tell of hunger, a shortage of doctors, police-state rule, and disaffection even among the people's militia.

They say the militia, the bulwark of Castro's military position, was disgruntled when it was put on short rice rations after being called up because of fear of a U. S. invasion. Two of Castro's soldiers were said to have deserted to this base, but there was no official confirmation.

Western intelligence experts estimate Castro has 200,000 men and women in the militia, and a regular army of 80,000 equipped with modern Soviet weapons.

Castro appears now to distrust the militia, refugees say. They report militiamen no longer can keep their rifles and machine guns while off duty and must account for all ammunition issued.

Besides the refugees, who climb the high steel, barbed-wire-topped fences or swim past Communist guards on the seaward side, Cuban workers at this base also are a source of information on life on the outside.

A worker employed on the base for 20 years said the people were overjoyed when it appeared last month President John F. Kennedy was about to crack down on Castro. But now he said the people are disappointed and downhearted.

"The medical situation in Cuba is very bad," he said. "I heard three days ago my friend died without medical attention. Castro is very short of doctors and he is trying to improvise doctors. Anybody who had any experience is now a doctor.

"They have a sickness in Oriente which they have many names for, but it is against the babies. They have high fever and diarrhea and then they die. I know of five or six babies who died in the last week. It is bad.

"In the last 15 months I say maybe 60 per cent of the people are against Castro. In this time of crisis it has worsened.

"When President Kennedy made his Oct. 22 speech announcing that Soviet missiles were in Cuba and must be removed, it made the people very happy but now they are downhearted. They are angry and hungry. They cannot get anything to eat.

"The United States is losing a lot of friends. People do not know what to do. People are just sick and worried."

He was asked about police-state conditions in the city of Guantanamo, 30 miles from this base.

"They have block committees and each block has a committee and they watch especially all who work on the base. We have so many friends who have disappeared. Two I know got shot," he replied.

"I guess I know a hundred friends who are in jail right now. They have what you call a mock trial. They get picked up and maybe questioned for two, three days. Then they are in jail for maybe two, three months before the family is allowed to visit them and then they find some got eight years to stay in jail."

NORSTAD SAYS NATO FORCES 'DEFICIENT'

PARIS (UPI)—Supreme Allied Commander Gen. Lauris Norstad warned today that NATO forces in Europe are "critically short" and suffer from "deficiencies of serious proportions."

Norstad expressed confidence, however, that Europe can be defended. He disclosed he has ordered a mobile forward defense in most of Central Europe rather than holding rear positions.

Norstad addressed the eighth annual conference of parliamentarians of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

The supreme Allied commander was to have retired from his post Oct. 31 but he was asked to stay a few months longer because of the Cuban crisis.

"The fact is,and I have made no secret of it, that our forces are critically short in a number of ways — there are deficiencies of serious proportions," Norstad told the 15-nation conference.

"We are still short certain major units. Many of those which we have are seriously short in combat and service support. There are notable deficiencies in available supplies and there is a general lag in furnishing the modern equipment without which our forces would have to fight at a great disadvantage."

Norstad added, however, that "within the limits and for the purposes of our directive from the political authorities, NATO Europe can be defended."

"But I must add—and hasten to add—that until the goals are fully met we are subjecting ourselves to unnecessary risks in the process of this defense," he added.

"What remains to be done is relatively small compared with what has already been accomplished. We have only a short distance to go but this is critical."

Norstad said he has ordered the commander-in-chief of Allied troops in Central Europe, Gen. Pierre Jaquot, "to prepare his forces to conduct a mobile defense in most forward areas rather than to hold rearward positions."

"While additional forces would be desirable," he said, "a forward defense can be maintained on a minimum basis if the requirements of our present program are fully met."

He said he recognized that the idea of moving NATO defense lines forward in this fashion involves a risk.

"But I also feel that on balance the effectiveness of our effort will be far greater than if we remain in a position that has been dictated by our plans up to recent months," he said.

Adenauer Doubts Pullout In Cuba; Has Vote Loss

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he is far from sure that Moscow is really removing its missiles and nuclear warheads from Cuba.

He said he finds it hard to believe that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev took the trouble of sending missiles, atomic warheads and other material to Cuba only to pack it up again like shirts and a toothbrush.

If Khrushchev wants negotiations with the West, Adenauer said, he must agree to ground control on Cuba which is a justified United States demand.

Another prerequisite for East-West negotiations, Adenauer said, is Russian agreement to a halt on nuclear testing and the control of nuclear weapons.

(The country's newspapers were quick to interpret the vote in Hesse as an important protest against the federal government's handling of the Der Spiegel case.

(The publisher of the news magazine Der Spiegel and four editors are under arrest on suspicion of committing treason by publishing military secrets. The government has been accused of high-handed methods, and Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss has been particularly criticized.

(In choosing a new state parliament, Hesse voters gave a majority—51 of the 96 seats—to the Social Democrats. This was a gain of three for the Socialists, who previously had to form a coalition with the Refugee party to govern the state.)

Jury Frees Mother In Baby's Death

LIEGE, Belgium (AP) — A 24-year-old mother acquitted of the mercy slaying of her deformed daughter visited the baby's grave yesterday for the first time.

A jury freed Suzanne Vandeput on Saturday although she admitted poisoning the 8-day old baby last May. The jury also acquitted four persons accused as accomplices.

Mrs. Vandeput, who took the sedative drug thalidomide during pregnancy, was accompanied to the grave by her husband, Jean, 35, and her mother, Mrs. Fernande Yesna, 50.

The baby's malformation was blamed on the drug.

They had been codefendants, along with Mrs. Vandeput's sister, Mrs. Monique de la Marck, and Dr. Jacques Casters, the family physician who prescribed a barbiturate.

INDIA ASKS U.S. FOR MILITARY AIRCRAFT

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today that India has asked the United States for military aircraft to bolster Indian defenses in the border war with Red China. He also asked for American machinery to produce arms in India.

The U.S. Embassy here confirmed that both requests were under consideration.

On the fighting fronts, India reported its troops had driven back two new Chinese Communist probing attacks in the northeast frontier area during the weekend.

A defense ministery spokesman said the engagements took place a few miles northeast of Jang, in the region of the monastery town of Towang, and in the far eastern stretch of the frontier near Walong.

The spokesman said two Indian patrols contacted Chinese Red troops near Walong and fire was exchanged. He said the Chinese troops "were forced to withdraw."

He said four Indian soldiers were wounded in the weekend engagements but Chinese Communist casualties were not known.

The report indicated that both Chinese Communist troops and Indians remained active in the vicinity of Walong, 16 miles south of the disputed McMahon line frontier near the Burma border.

This was the second shark attack on skin divers in the same general area this year and the second diving tragedy for the French family.

Last January, Floyd Pair Jr., 29, of North Sacramento was mauled by a shark while skin diving near the Farallones. He, too, survived by fighting off the shark.

In 1959, LeRoy's older brother, James E. French III, 25, nearly lost his life in a deep dive off Carmel. He suffered a severe case of "bends" and spent 48 hours in a decompression chamber at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard.

Two 15-year-old Marin County youths suffered fractured left legs when their motorbike collided with a car on Highway 1 south of Stinson Beach Saturday, said the California Highway Patrol.

The bike operator, Harold King of 59 Geneva Way, Santa Venetia, was admitted to Marin General Hospital overnight and was released yesterday. His passenger, George Barney of 2328 Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood, was released after his leg was placed in a cast.

Officers said the boys were on the wrong side of the road on a blind curve when they met a car driven by Russell Clarence Kriescher, 23, of 647 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley.

Three persons were taken to Novato Hospital for examination and treatment following a collision at Highway 101 and Black Point Cutoff Saturday.

The Highway Patrol said a car driven by Robert Laurence Rapp, 46, of 1205 Ridgeway Heights, Novato, was hit by an auto driven by James William Murphy, 41, of 890 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Officers said Murphy failed to stop for a red light at the cutoff. Rapp was examined but found to be unhurt; Murphy had minor head injuries and a passenger, Donna Baldwin, 36, of 5 Hillside Avenue, Kentfield suffered a small facial cut.

Murphy was cited for failing to stop for the traffic light.

Two drivers involved in a collision on Highway 101 north of Linden Lane in San Rafael were treated for minor injuries last night at San Rafael General Hospital.

The highway patrol said Terry Ann Hasek, 59, of 458 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera, cut in front of another auto which was towing a racing car, colliding and causing all vehicles to go off the roadway. Miss Hasek's car crossed the divider and landed on the east shoulder of the highway, while the other two cars, driven by Salvador Teran Jr., 36, of San Francisco, went over an embankment on the west side.

Miss Hasek was admitted to the hospital with head and back bruises. Her condition today was termed satisfactory. Teran was treated for neck and back injuries and released.

Cheryl L. Cochran, 9, of Atwater, Merced County, was treated for forehead and knee cuts last night as result of a three-car accident on San Quentin Road west of Highway 101. She was a passenger with S/Sgt. Charles Henry Kannas, 28, of Atwater, an airman from Castle Air Force Base, whose car ran into the rear of an auto driven by Ralph Edward Green, 31, of Travelers Inn, San Rafael. She was sent to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Highway patrolmen said Greene had changed lanes to avoid a car ahead of him driven by Michael Edmond Nagy, 24, of 255 Sausalito Street, Corte Madera.

able set for circumstances am I a candidate").

Three others, Dr. George McCabe, Sonoma State College executive; John Dunlap, Napa attorney and party leader, and Everett Matzen, Petaluma mayor and former Assembly candidate, all declined to consider running.

Senator Rattigan, who said he had "no personal plans for Congress" and therefore was not a candidate, was asked after the meeting if that meant he would not run if he were endorsed by the Democratic caucus. He said he did "not think that a likely eventuality."

'AN EMBARRASSMENT'

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley, co-chairman of the meeting in Willits, called the number of candidates put forward "an embarrassment of riches." She said the Democrats are "pleased and honored to have so many high calibre men" available for the election.

The caucus made no endorsement, however. Instead it called an endorsing convention for next Saturday at 10 a.m. in El Rancho Motel, Santa Rosa. At that time all members of the State Central Committee living in the First District and all members of Democratic County Central Committees in the six counties, or their alternates, will be eligible to vote on the endorsement.

At Saturday's meeting no mention was made of at least two other Democrats, Marin Coroner Frank J. Keaton and San Francisco waiter Harold B. Treskunoff, who had indicated they, too, will seek the position.

WARNING GIVEN

There was, however, considerable warning given the Democrats that "there should be no fragmentation" of the party vote.

Don Bradley of Ross, one of the top state Democratic campaigners, gave this warning. Van Dempsey, executive secretary of the state central committee, told the Democrats to get busy registering voters for there are only about 15 days to do it and about 20 per cent of the Democrats are dropped from the rolls after each general election.

Meanwhile the Republicans set a meeting of their First District executive committee for next Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in the Eureka Inn, Eureka. The committee will discuss possible candidates and set up the ground rules for an endorsing convention to be held Nov. 24 in Ukiah or Santa Rosa.

Two Youths, 19, Hurt In Collision

Two 19-year-old Mill Valley youths were treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday night after their car missed a curve and crashed into trees near the municipal golf course.

The driver, Donald Sanders, of 9 Wilkins Place, was treated for cuts and bruises on his chest and held for X-rays. James Turk of 8-B La Verne Avenue was treated for a bruised left arm.

Sanders was driving toward Mill Valley, according to police officer Keith Cramer. His car left the road on a curve between the entrance to Scott Highlands and the municipal golf clubhouse, went over the bank and hit the trees.

Nerves Produce Variety Of Ills
by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Too many of us have been told, your troubles is nerves, just nerves.

Nervousness is not unusual. But it should not be dismissed lightly. More and more doctors are coming to the conclusion that nervous tension is the result of a chemical imbalance in the body.

Nerves can cause an upset stomach, pains in the chest, legs and other parts of the body. What causes these pains and the chemical imbalance in the body?

Your spine consists of 24 bone segments. These bones sit on top of each other. They have a hole in the center and through this hole passes your spinal cord and the nerves to all parts of your body.

A fall, a sudden twist or even poor posture may move one of these spinal segments of vertebrae slightly out of line. Nerves become pinched when this happens and a chemical imbalance can result. You begin to feel irritable and have pains and eventually break down in health.

Chiropractors use X-ray and other scientific instruments to determine whether your nervous tension is caused by a misaligned spine. They are well-trained to correct such defects and help restore your health.

entirely by Wall Street profiteering war-mongers."

Their mental picture of these "profiteering war-mongers," believes McInnis, is probably as unreal (and of about the same vintage) as the standard American cartoon characterization of a generation ago in which the Russian was always a Bolsevik with wild eyes and wild whiskers — and a smoking bomb in each hand.

They do not want to attack us, but they fear we will attack them. More, however, the Marinites were told by one informed Russian, they fear attack by Germany or China.

What the Russians have is poor by our standards. This applies to their material goods and to their liberties. But both are good by their own standards.

A two-room Russian apartment with 110 square feet of floor space is standard housing for two couples. But there are always waiting lists for apartments. Those who have none must move in with someone who has—further crowding them—or they must live in basements or whatever they can find. McInnis found near a large Moscow apartment district an area of dwellings constructed of sheds and packing cases which he called "exactly like our Hoovervilles of the depression."

Those who have the apartments, even though they are crowded, consider themselves lucky. The apartments are equipped with gas stoves, gas or electric refrigerators, hot and cold running water. Their parents did not have these things.

Most of the plumbing is in disrepair—even in first-class hotels, such as the Ukrainia Hotel where the Marinites stayed in Moscow. But a generation ago, most Russian housing had no plumbing.

In a Russian election, the voters are presented with only one candidate, who has been chosen by a Communist Party committee. "But we have the vote," they told the Americans. "We never had the vote before."

Much of the equipment in their buildings has been constructed on a standardized pattern that was obsolete in Western Europe and America even before the Revolution of 1917. They admit they made some mistakes in design, but the job of equiping the country "from scratch" precluded redesigning. This became even more true after many buildings were destroyed in World War II.

They are a people busy catching up. And they believe they will catch up. And somewhere along the line, they are convinced, the American capitalist economy will collapse. Then the "Wall Street profiteering war mongers" will force the United States to attack the USSR. "And then," they say sadly, "we will have to wipe you out."

Meantime, they are not building fallout shelters. McInnis asked about that several times. Each time, he was told immediately that they do not believe in fallout shelters.

These busy people, poorly housed, mostly poorly paid, nevertheless turn out in great numbers for opera, ballet, puppet shows — and there "they are extremely enthusiastic," said McInnis.

The teen-agers have another enthusiasm, too: American jazz. Under Stalin, it was forbidden. Under Khrushchev, it was discouraged until last year. Now the restraint is off.

McInnis, Glenn W. Sleezer and William R. Seeger went to one of four "jazz clubs" in Moscow. They had to wait a half-hour to get in, for only as many are admitted as there are tables to accommodate.

Inside they found a small dance floor surrounded with tables. Sandwiches, mineral water, wines, fresh fruit, and ice cream dishes were sold. A five-piece orchestra played American jazz which McInnis found "not bad at all."

And the crowd of young dancers "looked just exactly like high school and college kids in the U.S.," he said.

McInnis made no effort in the USSR to explore his own business specialty — insurance. With all property held and income controlled by the government, there would appear little need for insurance anyhow.

He and his fellow tourists wound up believing that "the more such exchange of visits there can be both ways, the better it will be for all of us." To show they meant it, they told their principal Moscow guide (a woman) that if she and her husband (an attorney) could visit Marin, the Marin delegation would "pick up the tab" for $1,000 of their expenses.

She said she would try. But Mayor McInnis doubts she will make it. The travel between the U.S.A. and USSR is still mostly one way.

Silva, Pozzi Targets In Recall Move

they had expected it from his earlier statements.

In the charges against Mayor Silva, Bowman held that Silva failed to disqualify himself from voting at the council's hearing "although publically requested to do so on the grounds that he prejudged the hearing at the council's adjourned meeting of Oct. 16 when he declared he would not vote for the J route." Bowman had asked that Silva disqualify himself.

Silva was also charged with saying that he would vote against the adoption of a master plan.

Bowman charged Pozzi with changing his support from the "C" route to the "E" (present) route "just so he could get at Mr. Alfred Bowman." It was also charged that he owns land on the present route, where his ready-mix concrete plant is located.

Bowman, in announcing the move to recall Silva and Pozzi, recited some of the history of the freeway location issue in Novato.

In 1956, the Marin County Board of Supervisors adopted a North Marin master plan which showed the future freeway following its present route through downtown Novato.

In the campaign of 1959 for incorporation of Novato, a major argument for incorporation was that it would give Novato some control over the freeway location.

Novato was incorporated Jan. 12, 1960. On March 17, the new city council voted 5-to-0 to protest a Division of Highways plan for a dirt-fill elevated freeway on the present route. Silva and Pozzi were members of that council.

The new city government hired Mrs. Mary Summers, then Marin County planning director, to make a special study of freeway routes, although her department had prepared the North Marin Master Plan showing the freeway on the present highway route. On May 5, 1961, Mrs. Summers submitted the report of her study. In it, she advocated a freeway east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks.

The Novato Planning Commission last Jan. 22 recommended a route east of town. On Feb. 6, Councilman Charles R. Johnson became the first in the city government to publicly advocate the present route, reading a statement in favor of it at the council meeting. He did not seek re-election last April.

At a special meeting on Feb. 20, Angeloni and Johnson voted for the present route, with Silva, Pozzi and Mayor Wayne Womack (who also did not seek re-election) voting against it.

At a series of meetings during the summer, the Division of Highways presented several proposed routes east of town. On Aug. 22, State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack officially recommended the "J" route. At the highway commission's hearing on Sept. 27, Mrs. Summers (who had meantime retired and been succeeded as county planning director by B. D. Dobbs) also endorsed the "J" route.

GOP Conservatives, Liberals Start Big Battle For Party Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The firing on the right and the left already has begun in what promises to be an 18-month battle between conservatives and liberals for control of the Republican party.

By the time the Republican National Convention meets in mid-1964, delegates will have before them the results of presidential primaries, the record of the Republicans in Congress and the performance of party governors in choosing a presidential candidate. No one is doubting that President Kennedy will be the democratic standard bearer.

Meantime the prospects point to plenty of intraparty battling.

Last Tuesday's election gave both sides some fresh ammunition.

The party's liberals could point to the re-election of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in New York and to the victories in governor races of George Romney in Michigan and William W. Scranton in Pennsylvania as marking a trend toward moderatism, if not liberalism, within the party. They could cap this with the notation that a couple of candidates regarded as liberals won key Senate races in the two biggest states. They are Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), and Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.).

Beyond this the liberals could demonstrate to their party brethren that extreme rightism does not pay by citing the defeat of four John Birch Society members in California.

Against this the conservatives could point to the gain of four new Republican House seats in the South, where the winning margin for either 1964 presidential candidate might lie if results in other sections of the country are close.

They could cite the narrow escape of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., from defeat by a Republican candidate as evidence that there is inbred Dixie antagonism to the Kennedy administration's policies—particularly on integration— that could be reflected by substantial electoral defection from the president in that area in 1964.

The conservatives' biggest victory produced a new contender for national recognition in the re-election of Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky.).

Morton, former Republican National Chairman, won easily in a race that was expected to be much tighter. Although he served as national chairman at the designation of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Morton is regarded by those who know him well as just about as conservative as Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

The party conservatives could feel reassured that their viewpoint is going to be amply represented in the minority leadership in the new Congress.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) will be back running the Republican show in the House. In the Senate, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois again will be directing the minority floor operations and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) will be running the GOP Policy Committee.

That the liberals are disturbed at this prospect was demonstrated when Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) came forward the other day with a proposal that Republicans who consider themselves progressives band together to work for their objectives.

Case said any such grouping should include Rockefeller, Javits, Kuchel, Romney, Scranton, Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Rep. John V. Lindsay of New York.

Because the liberals tend not to run in a crowd and because they don't always agree on who is liberal enough to be one of them, probably nothing tangible will come from this proposal.

Fishermen Expect Fair Catch Of Crab

"A fair catch" of crab is expected, Antone Caruso, owner of Caruso's Bait Tackle and Supplies, Sausalito, said today.

Caruso said he has been so informed by friends at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco.

"North of the gate the catch is not too good but it is reported good south of the gate," he said.

Sausalito crab men left yesterday on their first run of the season and are expected to return tomorrow. The season opens at 12:01 a.m. tomorrow.

Fresh crab is expected to retail at up to $1 a pound and be on sale by 10 a.m. tomorrow, according to Albert Spandaro, a director of the Crab Boat Owners' Assn.

Airman Buried In Old Mine Pit Is Rescued

Cheers echoed yesterday through the abandoned shafts of an old Colorado gold mine as tired and grimy rescuers pulled to safety a 23-year-old airman burried 14 hours in the murky depths.

Airman 2/C Chester West of Rye, N.Y., fell 200 feet down a shaft in the Idaho Bride mine. He was injured seriously.

West and Airman Robert I. Hanson, 19, of Wittenburg, Wis., were exploring the mine three miles west of here in the central Rockies when West plunged down the shaft Saturday afternoon.

Hanson made his way to the highway and hailed a motorist, who notified officials.

Norman Blake, district state mine inspector and about 35 volunteers began searching for West.

Once West was found, it took rescuers three hours to bring him out of the winding tunnels.

"The kid's just darn lucky to be alive," said Dr. Freeman D. Fowler, who examined West. West was taken to a Denver hospital, where officials said he had a collapsed lung, broken cervical vertebra and other injuries. Hanson was treated for shock but was in good condition.

West's widowed mother, Hermine West, and her daughter Julia, 22, a student nurse at Cornell Medical Center, arrived in Denver from their Rye, N.Y., home last night by plane.

Betts Should Be Cleared Or Convicted Of Charges

There were many charges and counter charges hurled during the recent campaign and it is best that most of them be forgotten.

However, there was one charge which worried us at the time and still worries us, a charge dealing with operation of one of our highest state fiscal offices and a charge which from here did not seem to be adequately answered.

We are referring to the charge made against State Treasurer Bert Betts.

The charge, made we admit by his opponent in the election, was that he knowingly had permitted one of his principal aides to organize and benefit from an investment firm while a member of the state treasurer's staff. Further, that another member of Betts' staff is still connected with this firm and that Betts himself made investments which were profitable partly because of state money deposited with the concern in which he invested.

We are not attempting to determine the truth or untruth of these charges. As we said, we were not convinced by the explanations we heard during the campaign, so we still are left with an uneasy feeling about our state treasurer.

Betts had threatened to sue his opponent over these charges, but he never got around to it. Since he was re-elected, he can't complain he was harmed by the charges, so no suit.

And the uneasiness remains.

Why can't we have a non-partisan investigation?

Why doesn't the Sacramento County grand jury look into the matter? That is a body with the power and the facilities to take an unbiased look at the situation.

We think it is just as important that Bert Betts be cleared of such a charge as it is that he be found guilty of it.

Sacramento grand jury, take it away!

Canine Adoption Board

The Marin County Humane Society is right up to date in its methods of finding homes for orphaned puppies and kittens.

Although we understand they have no trained social workers and require no statements of financial competence, they do have an adoption board.

We made this discovery recently when we acquired a canine cutie from this agency. We also received a letter three months after the "adoption" respectfully inquiring as to whether the dog was "well adjusted" to his new environment.

We didn't dare tell them the truth that he was running the house. After all, their psychiatrist might not like it.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

UNDERWATER THROUGH CHANNEL

The first man ever to swim the English Channel underwater had to overcome a bout with seasickness to do it.

With his underwater breathing apparatus, energy pills and fresh supplies of oxygen from his companions in a boat, the Florida man made the crossing in 18 hours. A cage beneath the surface of a motorboat guided him.

"It was the greatest display of fortitude and determination I have ever seen," was the comment of one man who had witnessed many a surface crossing.

The record-breaking swimmer declared the worst thing was the mental strain of swimming in darkness, plus being seasick.

So long as there are challenges to meet and goals to be achieved, man will attempt to conquer them.

While the everyday problems of life may be all the challenge you may face, by the grace of God and hard work you too can overcome them. The important thing is never to stop trying.

"In doing good let us not grow tired; for in due time we shall reap if we do not relax." (Galatians 6:9)

Inspire me to set for myself and those who depend on me, O Lord, goals that are meaningful and helpful to others.

Columnist Comes Up With Some Interesting Facts From Mailbag

There are about 35,000 U.S. marriages each year with one or both partners 65 or older.

The older they are, the more likely they are to choose younger mates. Among bridegrooms in the 75-and-up bracket, 12 per cent picked brides at least 25 years younger; 18 per cent of brides in the same age group wed men 10 or more years younger.

It's against the law in the Sudan to send leeches through the mails.

The oldest tomb to unknown American soldiers is in Trinity churchyard in New York City. Called the "Martyrs' Monument," the tomb honors American troops who died in British prison camps during the Revolutionary War.

Researchers have discovered that the tears a woman sheds when emotionally upset are chemically different from those she weeps while peeling onions.

The New York Telephone Co. reports some novel uses for its massive Manhattan directory, which runs to nearly 1,800 pages. A young baseball catcher threaded rope through one and employed it as a chest protector. A South American banana firm bought old directories to bullet-proof its trucks.

Highway safety signs: in Maryland: "Be late, Mr. Jones—not the late Mr. Jones." In Delaware: "Take your time, not your life. Drive safely."

MANY THINK Franklin D. Roosevelt invented the presidential press conference. Actually, Woodrow Wilson held the first general one in the White House on March 15, 1913, just 11 days after taking office.

Since the end of World War II, new life-saving drugs have reduced U.S. tuberculosis deaths by 83 per cent, influenza deaths, 90 per cent, and deaths from syphilis by 79 per cent.

Several Years To Fix Entrance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

San Rafael needs a lobbyist at Sacramento.

After several years of study on how to relieve the Irwin Street underpass impasse, we are now told work on this project cannot be started for at least two more years.

Meanwhile it will become increasingly easier to bypass San Rafael than to undergo its unpleasant entrance confusion.

Editorials Helped Marking Ballots

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In behalf of the many confusing issues in regards to the voting public prior to June and November elections, may I take the opportunity at this time to thank all of you in helping me and probably many others to make up my mind to come up with a ballot where each and every issue went through the mental mill of pro and con.

Your ability to explain the issues in plenty of time without the need of the booklet that comes with the preliminary ballot is very helpful to many I am sure. For some time now, I have been saving the editorial page, which I consider the pulse of the public in general and much information to the individual who has limited time on hand.

The booklet in question contains the lingo of professional men, hardly fully understandable to many with a limited vocabulary like myself. To read your paper I don't feel the need for a dictionary to find out the meaning of words so common in the booklet.

On Nov. 6, I felt that I was so well informed about the yes and no decisions on the ballot that for the first time I was able to argue about decisions I have made, in fact I was able to convince my better-half to mark her's the same way, which in reality gave me two votes for sure, and for better or worse.

Anyway, I would like to let you know that I would mark my ballot the same as I did on Nov. 6, even if my decisions didn't pan out according to my wishes on some of the issues.

I noticed that some of your recommendations didn't quite make it either.

Missed The Point Of Miller Vote

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In his column of Nov. 8, Chip Day describes the Democratic victory for the First Congressional District as a cold and calculated effort which exploited the tragic death of Clem Miller and won even Marin County.

The true significance of the victory has completely escaped him. And that was the voluntary outpouring of hundreds of people who loved and respected Clem Miller and asked what they could now do so that Clem Miller would not have died in vain. It was they who turned the tide.

It is much more difficult to regroup and push ahead when your standard bearer is gone.

Mr. Day gives the impression of a phony flag waving. There is a great deal of that in political campaigns, but he was unable to grasp that this was a true grass roots movement and thus the genuine article. The voters responded because they recognized that this was a genuine feeling of patriotic endeavor.

I will never be able to prove my next statement. But it is my own conviction that Clem Miller would have won by a much larger figure had he been alive to do his own campaigning. As is, there were still many people who did not wish to see the county spend additional funds for a special election and hence voted for his opponent.

It is true that newspapermen are notoriously cynical. But let us not go so far as to deny the song of the bird and call it a croak. People are capable of selfless deeds and this was one of them.

A Monument Of Desecration

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It was with regret that I read your article "Approval Granted Hilltop Slicing," Tuesday, Nov. 6.

This article should have been read by every Marin County citizen.

We have seen the hillside scars in Corte Madera and Larkspur and now beautiful Lucas Valley.

At least one planner, Felix Warburg, had the guts to rebel and say "I can't see reason to allow people to shave off the tops of hills just to provide fill." There are other sources.

The people of Marin can look at our scarred and marred hillsides and thank David Van Pelt and the Planning Commission for this monument of desecration.

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael was declared in danger of air attack due to reluctance of male citizens to volunteer as air raid wardens.

Granville D. Whittaker visited his San Rafael family only evenings when he could borrow a third class seaman's uniform because he lost all his clothes in the sinking of the destroyer O'Brien at Guadalcanal. He was provided with "civies" by the Red Cross on arrival at the naval receiving station at San Francisco, but was prevented by Navy regulations from appearing in public out of uniform.

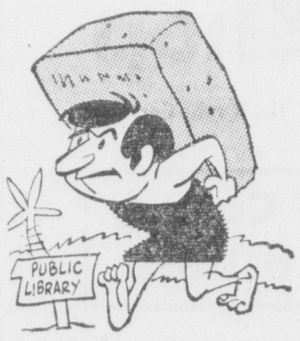
Most incontrovertible statement of the year was made by a 15-year-old on an essay submitted to a students' prize contest on the subject of "Prehistoric Times." "In prehistoric times," he sated boldly, "books were very scarce."



There's a fellow down in Asbury Park who vows he hasn't spoken to his wife in four months. He remains cheerful, however. "I'm confident—and you can quote me on this," says he, "that my turn will soon be due."

Writes Stoddard King:
An author owned an Asterisk,
And kept it in his den,
For his lusty tales (which had large sales)
Of frail and loving men.
And always, when he reached the point
Where carping censors lurk,
He called upon his Asterisk
To do his dirty work.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

It All Depends On Where You Get News And What Day You Celebrate

On election night an I-J reporter was going from precinct to precinct in Tiburon collecting results for the paper and radio station KTIM.

Normally she was welcomed. However, one precinct inspector, obviously devoted to her duties, was reluctant to have her talley-ers disturbed and suggested:

SIGN AT Embee Market, Belvedere:

"Embee will be open Sunday, Nov. 11, Veterans Day. We will be closed Nov. 12 to celebrate Veterans Day."

ENID FOSTER, Sausalito artist, who fell about a month ago, has left Marin General Hospital and gone to a convalescent hospital.

She is "coming along well" it is reported. However, she has asked for no visitors for a few days.

WILLIE YEE of Marin Fruit Co., Sausalito, is 71. He has been in business about 45 years and has one of the oldest businesses under the same management in the waterside city.

However, he may have to move since the ground has been sold from under him for a contemplated development.

Mrs. Raymon Wilson says Sausalito can't get along without Willie and it has been suggested that he sell vegetables on the sidewalk as Willie Kee used to do.

A PUSSY WILLOW on Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, fell the day of the big storm and the Poughkeepsie Journal in New York had a story about it.

Said the Associated Press story headed, "With God All Things Are Possible."

"A strong gust of wind blew a 25-foot pussy willow across a driveway on Evergreen Avenue. A housewife cut off branches in the rain to get her car out of the garage to meet her husband. An hour later another gust blew the tree upright again."

F. S. EZEKIEL of Mill Valley likes old cars and so when he moved to Corte Madera recently, he got special permission from authorities to tow his 1922 black Jewett touring car over Alto Grade, Highway 101.

"Doc" Ezekiel pulled with his car and Hank Pierroz sat in the Jewett, held fast the wheel and, as Hank said, "watched the wind make the fan go around all the way over the grade."

THE OTHER DAY, while we were away, a small sparrow flew in the front door through the house to the kitchen and banged into the window, falling into the sink unconscious.

Aunt Bess, a visitor, advised women and children "pick him up by the tail and put him out-of-doors." But no one budged.

So she picked him up in her hands, warmed him for a few moments until he came to, then took him to the door and he flew away.

"That's what we all need," said Aunt Bess, "to be kept warmed."

Cuban Crisis, India Invasion Coming Together Have Great World Effect

WASHINGTON — We appear to have come to one of those moments in history when the state of things, which for good or evil, was fairly steady, is suddenly shaken up. No one can now see better than dimly what will be the new shape of things.

But we can, though tentatively, see some of the implications and side effects of the two obvious major crises we are now living through — the one in this hemisphere around Cuba and the other in Asia around the invasion of India.

AS FOR CUBA, though the full agreement about verification of the removal of the strategic weapons is still to be worked out, there is no doubt that the United States has the upper hand in this part of the world. If Castro attempts to frustrate the implementation of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, he will lay himself open to heavy penalties from a tightened blockade.

Castro has been deprived of the military protection of the Soviet Union, and if he is to replace it with some guarantee besides the promise of the United States not to invade him, his best course is to invite the Organization of American States to make Cuba a neutralized island which will concentrate its attention on its own internal development.

WHAT IS happening in Cuba is having far reaching effects not only in Latin America but, almost certainly, in Africa and the Middle East and Asia. Cuba itself is not interesting to Africans and Arabs and Asians. But by conjunction with the Chinese invasion of India, the effects of the Cuban affair are compounded.

Both in Cuba and in India the Soviet Union has had to water down or write off the promises of support which it had made.

India's foreign policy under Nehru has, as he himself has confessed, been based on an illusion. But what was the illusion? Not that the Chinese were too kind to hurt India: Red China has been fighting at the Indian frontier for five years. The Indian illusion was that the Soviet Union was the paramount power in the Communist orbit and that it would and could prevent China from committing a serious aggression against India.

IT IS NOT, I think, an exaggeration to say that these parallel and coinciding crises in the Americas and in Asia have reduced dramatically the value of the Soviet guarantee to a distant country.

This will have great reverberations in the underdeveloped and unaligned and newly-liberated nations. They will no longer have India as their leader and their spokesman and their example, for India will no longer be unaligned.

Not being myself a Kremlinologist, I do not know what will be the effect of the two great crises on the internal situation of the Soviet Union. But if we suppose that in the crunch the vital interests of the Soviet Union will be put ahead of the Communist ideology, then, so it now appears, the Soviet Union may be entering upon an internal conflict of enormous proportions.

'49ers Find New Ways To Mess Things Up'—Hickey

Failing to win in three tries on the home turf, the San Francisco 49ers travel to Los Angeles this week battling to even the score with the Rams.

After losing 38-24 to the Detroit Lions at Kezar Stadium yesterday, Coach Red Hickey had some solace as he said, "We got beat by a pretty good ball club. I hope this game might have served one purpose if nothing else. It proved the boys were trying."

The 49ers battled the Lions to a 17-17 deadlock until Dick Lane intercepted a Bill Kilmer pass near the end of the first half and Detroit turned it into the go-ahead touchdown.

Earlier, defensive end Sam Williams had picked off a John Brodie aerial and ran 22 yards unmolested to the San Francisco goal.

"We certainly find new ways to mess things up," commented Hickey referring particularly to the crucial interceptions. "We played a much better game than we did against Baltimore."

The 49ers find themselves gripped by a four-game losing streak dropping consecutive games at Green Bay and to Los Angeles, Baltimore and Detroit in San Francisco.

To date, the Rams have only the one victory in the National Football League — the 28-14 verdict over the 49ers who have posted a 3-6 mark.

Detroit Coach George Wilson was generally non-commital yesterday but did say he couldn't understand why the Lions allowed the 49ers to score more points than other teams and then scored their highest totals against the 49ers. The Lions won 45-21 in the first meeting.

In the see-saw first half, the 49ers scored first on a nine-yard pass from Brodie to Clyde Conner after Leo Nomellini had recovered a Nick Pietrosante fumble at the Lions 23.

Williams' interception quickly squared accounts and the Lions went ahead on Wayne Walker's 22-yard field goal. A Kilmer to Jim Johnson pass netted 73 yards as the 49ers swept back to go ahead 14-10 on J. D. Smith's one-yard smash.

Milt Plum passed 23 yards to Pat Studstill to go into the lead again and Tommy Davis evened the count at 17-17 with an 11-yard field goal.

From then on, it was all Lions as Pietrosante's one-yard smash for a touchdown came four plays after Lane's interception, Ken Webb crashed a yard for the fourth Lion touchdown and Tom Watkins sprinted 29 for the fifth. A Brodie to Monty Stickles pass brought the 49ers their final score.

Abe Woodson, the defensive halfback who also specialized in kick returns, set two team records and tied an NFL mark.

His 210 yards on six kickoff returns was one 49er record and equalled the league mark shared by Herby Adderley of Green Bay and Johnny Sample of Pittsburgh. Joe Arenas set the former 49er mark in 1955 against Cleveland.

Woodson's 935 yards in kickoff returns in nine games to date already has smashed the 49er season mark of 801 set by Joe Arenas in 12 games in 1956.

Stanford To Make A Clean Sweep; 49ers Win Back Some Fans, But . . .

RANDOL

Where there is smoke, there is fire. Two weeks ago, this column brought you the exclusive story on the imminent departure of "Cactus Jack" Curtice from Stanford University coaching scene. When the USC Trojans pasted the Indians last Saturday, the smoke cleared away enough for some of the other metropolitan writers to see the fire.

Now it can be told that the Stanford brass has been receiving applications for some time, and that when the big clean-up takes place, it will be a clean sweep, with an entire new staff taking over.

With rumors spreading rapidly, just about every available man in the country has been named with the exception of Dick Nixon. Prominently mentioned are Frankie Albert of Stanford and 49er fame, Bill Johnson of the 49er staff, Gary Kirkorian, who did some sharp pitching for the Cards but lacks coaching experience, Bill Clerk, who works under Jim Owens at Washington, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, and Cecil Coleman of Fresno State.

WHOEVER IS selected, you can bet that the country club atmosphere down on the Farm will be a thing of the past. Some of the influential old grads, especially in the southern part of the state, would like Curtice to check out immediately, instead of waiting for the Big Game, but the odds are against it.

MEANWHILE, BACK at the ranch, the lines are being sharply divided in the discussions of the future of Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers. Take your choice. Blame the sorry showing of the 49ers on (1) Hickey, (2) the players, (3) the fans, and (4) the front office.

The Detroit Lions hung another one on the 49ers yesterday, 38 to 24, but the game itself was entertaining, and won back some of the fans who were ready to desert the sinking ship.

To his credit, Hickey gave the game back to his number one quarterback, John Brodie, who ran the game well. At the same time, Brodie was mainly responsible for the loss when two wild pitches gave the Lions their two touchdown margin. With a little more luck the Niners might have lifted themselves into a win, but the Lions were clearly the better team and deserved the victory.

IF NOTHING else, Hickey's personnel changes pointed up the possibility that the best men have not been playing in their best spots all year. Carl Kammerer was outstanding as middle linebacker, making tackles all over the field and adding to the 49er pass defense. His work far surpasses that of John Thomas.

Elbert Kimbrough showed the sharpest tackling of the day, even putting big Nick Pietrosante out of commission in a head-on meeting. Tackling by other 49ers left something to be desired on a number of occasions. Rookie Leon Donohue did a great job in his first real test.

For the first time in several games, Brodie "re-discovered" the short pass, which is the obvious key to success in any attack mounted by the Niners, making other plays work. Running some of R. C. Owens' patterns, Jim Johnson broke loose for 11 receptions, a new record for the locals.

AND ABE WOODSON showed again that he is the best in the league on punt and kickoff returns with a total of 210 yards. Abe's runs have to be the high spot of a dismal year.

The 49ers hit the road for three weeks, meeting the L.A. Rams, the St. Louis Cards, and the Minnesota Vikings before returning home against the Greenbay Packers. Strangely enough, the Niners could win all but one of these games if they put out as they did against the Lions. It would help.

Warriors Hold Lead, But It's Precarious

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Perched precariously atop the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn., San Francisco's Warriors take time out for travel today as they head for St. Louis.

The second place Hawks and the Warriors tangle tomorrow in their see-saw struggle for firsts place.

The Warriors took the wind out of the Chicago Zephyrs, 113-108, in their last game Saturday night at San Francisco. It was the 13th straight time the Warriors have beaten Chicago.

The game was highlighted by the battle between centers Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco and Walt Bellamy of Chicago. The Stilt came up with 57 points while holding Bellamy — the league's second best scorer — to 29 points.

Al Attles had 16 points for San Francisco, George Lee 15 and Tom Gola 14.

Terry Dichinger, the former Prudue star, had 28 for Chicago.

The Zephyrs led only once in the game, early in the second quarter, but pulled to a 102-102 tie with four minutes left. However, Guy Rodgers came through with his first bucket of the night, followed by Gola and Chamberlain, and the Warriors pulled away.

IT HASTA BE SHASTA

Tars Knocked Off

The College of Marin Tars, their eight-game victory streak broken, will try to regroup themselves for their big battle Friday night against Santa Rosa Junior College.

The Mariner victory skein was snapped Saturday night in Redding where the gridders of Shasta College edged College of Marin, 22-18. The loss dropped the Tars into a tie for second place in the Golden Valley Conference with Shasta, both with 3-1 league records.

Santa Rosa J.C., winner over Napa College Friday, 40-0, is in first place with a 4-0 league mark.

Shasta scored a touchdown in the first period and two more in the final quarter. Marin fell short in its bid for a come-from-behind victory as the Tars scored three TDs in the final stanza but failed on their trys for PATs.

IDENTICAL TDs

Roger Grant, Shasta halfback, ran all three touchdowns, all in the same place—around left end. His first score was from two yards out, and his second two TD runs were from the 59 and 50-yard markers.

College of Marin came out strong in the final quarter, scoring first on a three-yard plunge over left tackle by Scott Moriarty on the first play of the period. Moriarty helped set up the TD with a 43-yard scamper late in the third quarter. On the play preceding the tally, a 16-yard pass from Curtis Embry to Jim Lucas was ruled complete because of pass interference by Shasta, bringing the ball to the three and paving the way for Moriarty's plunge.

Then with 4:00 left in the game, Embry hit Lucas for a 21-yard aerial good for the touchdown. Two minutes later, Embry threw a string of four passes, the last to Ray Edwards for a six-yard touchdown.

RECOVERED FUMBLES

Trailing 22-18 with only 30 seconds remaining, the Tars recovered a Shasta fumble on the College of Marin 49-yard line. Embry tried a couple of passes before the final gun went off, but they fell incomplete.

Embry completed 20 of 27 passes for the night, good for 282 yards. The tars also rushed for 121 yards, giving them a total of 403 yards gained.

Shasta ran for 260 yards and passed for 29, giving the home town club a total of 289 yards gained.

The difference in the game were the extra points. While College of Marin failed in its three tries, Shasta made two of three tries good for four points, one on an end run by Mik Lidell and the other on a pass to Mike Cicel from his brother, Tom Cicel.

SCORING

Shasta	6	0	6	16—22

College of Marin scoring: TDs—Scott Moriarty, three-yard plunge; Jim Lucas, 21-yard pass from Curtis Embry; Ray Edwards, six-yard pass from Embry.

USC Star Is Big 6 Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Damon Bame, star University of Southern California defensive player, today was named the Big Six "lineman of the week."

It was the second time this year that Bame had won the award. He also has been named the outstanding lineman on the field for the past three Trojan games.

Against Stanford on Saturday, Bame got credit for seven tackles or assists; plus one pass interception which he returned 44 yards to the Stanford four-yard line.

PACKERS ROMP, RATED GREATEST IN HISTORY

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Green Bay Packers are gaining ever-increasing support as the greatest pro football team of all time, although one National League brain strangely reluctant to climb on the bandwagon is their own coach, Vince Lombardi.

After trampling their first nine opponents of the 1962 season, the Packers are attracting favorable comparison to the Chicago Bears "Monsters" of the early 1940's and such post-war powerhouses as the Philadelphia Eagles, Detroit Lions, Cleveland Browns and Baltimore Colts.

One of the strongest of Packer-backers is Nick Skorich of the Eagles, who suffered through "the longest and worst day of my coaching career" as Green Bay annihilated Philadelphia, 49-0, yesterday.

"I think Green Bay is the greatest team of the past two decades with its depth and perfect balance in running and passing," commented Skorich. "Their secret is great blocking and play execution. And with their depth, they can lose players like Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler without suffering."

And what does lugubrious Lombardi have to say about that?

IMPOSSIBLE?

"It would be impossible to go all the way undefeated in this league. Every team is up for us. I thought the Eagles would be inspired and a lot tougher."

Ignoring Lombardi, the Packers appear headed for the first undefeated season in the NFL since the Bears went 11-0 in 1942. Counting the last regular-season game of 1961 and the championship playoff, the Packers now have won 11 in a row, and 24 of their last 28 NFL games dating back to 1960.

While the Packers were piling up a league record 37 first downs in manhandling the Eagles, the New York Giants and the Washington Redskins emerged as the two clubs who will battle it out for the Eastern Division championship.

DALLAS DOUSED

The Giants doused the hopes of the Dallas Cowboys with a 41-10 shellacking while the Redskins just about put the Cleveland Browns out of the running with a 17-9 victory.

The Detroit Lions preserved their forlorn Western Division chances with a 38-24 victory over the San Francisco 49ers, while the Chicago Bears edged the Minnesota Vikings, 31-30; the Pittsburgh Steelers upset the St. Louis Cardinals, 26-17, and the Baltimore Colts defeated the Los Angeles Rams, 14-2.

Jim Taylor, the league's leading rusher, scored four touchdowns and gained 141 yards in 25 carries to help hand the Eagles their worst defeat since 1933. Taylor, with 14 touchdowns and 1,075 yards, appears headed for league records in both departments.

LONG DRIVES

The Packers lost the ball through an interception on their first series of downs, but the next seven times they gained possession they scored 86, 89, 85, 76, 71, 66 and 65 yards. They wound up with a total of 694 yards on offense.

On defense, they held the Eagles to a net yardage total of 54. Green Bay now has yielded only 61 points in nine games for an average of approximately one touchdown a game.

Tom Moore, replacement for Hornung, scored twice and threw a 25-yard TD pass to Dowler. Hornung, who wissed three previous games because of a bruised knee, played only briefly at Philadelphia.

TITTLE STARS

Meanwhile, back in the Eastern Division, Y. A. Tittle, Del Shofner and Frank Gifford were the offensive stars of the Giants' win at Dallas. Tittle's passes gained 315 yards, two reaching Shofner and one Gifford for touchdowns. Gifford also scored on a six-yard run and Shofner caught a third TD toss, this one a 41-yarder from Ralph Guglielmi.

The crowd of 45,668 was the largest ever to watch a regular season game in either the NFL or the rival American League at the Cotton Bowl.

Washington sandwiched a pair of touchdowns by Don Bosseler around a 29-yard field goal by Bob Khayat to take a 17-0 lead and then held off the Browns despite injuries to four defensive players. Three pass interference penalties aided the Redskins in their first two touchdowns, placing the ball on the two and the one for Bosseler's easy bucks.

The victory gave Washington a 5-2-2 record compared to 7-2 for the division-leading Giants.

Almost Win, But Raiders Sink, 28-20

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's luckless Raiders, accustomed to the taste of defeat, lost their most disappointing game of the season yesterday as they sank before the Houston Oilers 28-20 in the last eight minutes of play.

Defying the law of averages —the Raiders have lost 15 in a row in 1961 and 1962 —the Oilers scored twice in the last quarter to come from behind and win what appeared to be a certain Oakland victory. The Raiders remained at the bottom of Western Division of the American Football League.

The Raiders meet Buffalo at Oakland next Sunday to try for their first victory in 10 tries this season.

Outplayed as far as statistics go, the Raiders held their lead against the Oilers until quarterback George Blanda connected with fullback Charlie Tolar for a 35-yard scoring play that took the lead.

A few minutes later, linebacker Gene Babb snagged an Oakland pass and ran 31 yards for the final tally. Oakland's hopes were shot.

Redwood Blanks Terra Linda To Tie Tam For Lead

20-0 Win Gives Giants 4-0 Record In League

BY RALPH CHATOIAN

The Marin Athletic League football race is knotted up today with Tamalpais and Redwood tied for the top spot with four wins and no (0) losses.

The stage is being set for a great season finale when the two teams meet on Thanksgiving morning in a game which could be for the undisputed championship.

Redwood threw the league into a tie Saturday afternoon when the Giants overpowered the Terra Linda Trojans 20-0 before 2,400 fans in College of Marin Stadium.

It was quarterback Jim Troppmann throwing and backs Steve Solinsky, Dave Auerbach and Dav Cox running as the Giants manhandled the Trojans and gave them their fourth loss against one victory.

Redwood scored its three touchdowns on the ground, one in each the first, second and third quarters.

The first score came with 4:10 left in the opening period after a Terra Linda fumble on its own 39-yard line. After a pair of runs by Auerbach and two by Solinsky, Redwood move dthe ball to the Terra Linda 16. Then, on a third and five situation, Auerbach skirted left end, ran through a horde of Terra Linda tacklers and rambled into the end zone standing up.

Troppmann kicked the extra point, giving the Giants a 7-0 lead.

GIANTS DRIVE

The next Giant TD came after a march from their own 37-yard line, a drive which took nine plays. After a 15-yard penalty gave the Giants third and 23, Troppmann, who collected a total of 73 yards in the air, completed a 21-yard pass to Jerry Rumsey. A power play over left tackle by Solinsky gave Redwood a first down on its 48-yard line.

Five plays later, Cox broke through right tackle from the Trojan 25-yard stripe and raced into the end zone. A Troppman place kick was no good, but the Giants had already gone 13 points ahead.

KEY BLOCK

Auerbach broke through a hole over his own left tackle and cut to the outside. There was just one Trojan defender between Auerbach and the end zone by the time he reached the 25-yard line, but the lone defender was cut down on a crunching block by Solinsky, allowing Auerbach to cross into pay dirt untouched.

Solinsky, who had been sidelined a good part of the season because of an injury, had a big day, both running and blocking. The tough fullback picked up 84 yards in 14 carries for an even 6.0 average.

Auerbach picked up 89 yards in nine carries and Cox collected 55 yards in only five carries to provide the Giants with the needed rushing punch.

TERRIFIC DEFENSE

And the Giants defense was terrific, allowing only 52 yards on the ground. In four league games, only one touchdown has been scored against the rugged defenders of Redwood.

Jerry Daniele, hard-running Terra Linda halfback, was again the top ground-gainer for the Trojans, picking up 58 yards rushing, more than the net yardage of the team. Quarterback Dick Schultze was dumped four times behind his own line which resulted in 32 lost yards.

But Schultze remained the league's top passer as he threw 10 completed passes in 28 attempts for 92 yards. But three of his tosses were picked off for interceptions by the alert Redwood defensive backfield.

THREE FUMBLES

Although piling up a total of 321 yards — 248 on the ground and 73 in the air — the Redwood gridders were penalized 100 yards and lost the ball on fumbles three times. But all three fumbles came in the final period when head coach Bob Troppmann was allowing his reserves to see some action.

Before Redwood and Tam meet in the headliner on Thanksgiving morning, the Giants will take on Marin Catholic (0-5) and Tam will oppose powerful Novato (3-1).

GRIDIRON HOEDOWN —Is it a good old-fashion country hoedown? It's a dance illusion that occurred as Detroit defensive halfback Dick Lane (81) tackled 49ers Jim Johnson (37), after Johnson hauled in a third quarter pass in Kezar Stadium yesterday.

Curtice Indicates He Won't Quit, But The Pressure's On

STANFORD (AP) — Football Coach Jack Curtice is on the spot at Stanford.

Being asked is the question, "Will he be rehired?"

For this is the final season on Cactus Jack's five-year agreement and the personable mento hasn't come up with a winner.

There is no official statement yet in the situation since the Indians have two games left, but the Curtice position appears precarious at best.

When the University of Southern California whipped the Indians 39-14 last Saturday, many believed the rug was out from under the man who came here in 1958 and last year was president of the National Football Coaches Assn. He has not had a winning season and his 1962 record stands at 3-5.

In the five seasons to date, Curtice teams have only a 12-36 record.

Rumor has it that Curtice will become a top executive with the coaches' association after this season.

Curtice, however, indicated he won't quite when he said yesterday, "I came to Stanford to do the best job I could. And I've been doing the best I know how. I'm trying to do a building job, and I'm pleased with the way the boys have been coming along. I hope to be able to continue."

On Saturday, the Indians host San Jose State and winning that one will make little difference in the Curtice situation since the neighboring Spartans have won but once this season — an upset over University of the Pacific.

Then on Nov. 24 at Berkeley comes the traditional "Big Games" against California. That afternoon could find two men on spots—Curtice and Marv Levy whose California Bears have only one victory to show for 1962.

Redwood High To Start School Officials Assn.

Nine Redwood High School boys recently formed an organization which will provide elementary schools with student officials to referee elementary school athletic games.

The organization is called the Redwood High School Officials Assn. Student officials are Terry Jarcih, Jim Carr, Phil Weil, Jack Peetz, Tom Vowell, Rick Kline, Dennis Anderson, Collie Janda, and Ken Goodreau.

"We hope this organization will continue year to year for the elementary schools need officials and professionals are far too expensive," Goodreau, head of the group, stated.

The officials association activities will begin next month.

Compare Scores: San Diego Is Big

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Ever hear of San Diego State College? No! Well, comparative scores indicate the Aztecs are 57 points better than Notre Dame.

San Diego State last weekend upended University of Pacific, 32-18. Pacific several weeks ago edged Washington State, 13-12. Washington State dumped Stanford, 21-6. Stanford earlier upset Michigan State, 16-13, and the Spartans smashed Notre Dame, 31-7.

Al Geiberger Sets Tourney Record In Almaden Open

SAN JOSE (AP) — Three years ago, a young professional golfer just out of college won his first money on the tour with a seventh place finish worth $270 in the Almaden Open Golf Tournament.

Yesterday, Al Geiberger, now only 25, not only finished first, but set a tournament record of 273 for 72 holes, 15 under par. The victory for the former University of Southern California star was worth $1,200 and boosted his earnings for the year to over $33,000 in tournaments both on and off the official PGA tour.

His opening round Thursday of 65 was a course and tournament record.

Geiberger chopped six strokes off the old record, 279 shot by Jim Ferrier last year. Ferrier was injured and could not compete this year in the fifth renewal of the event.

Peace In Amateur Sports War Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — Under direct pressure from President John F. Kennedy, the AAU and NCAA are expected to sign a pact today ending the bitter, two-and-one-half-year war for control of amateur sports in the United States.

The President's brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, was here to sit in as mediator at a meeting called by Kenneth "Tug" Wilson, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee.

The President was reported gravely concerned over the effect of the battle between the Amateur Athletic Union, governing body of the many U. S. amateur sports, and rival federations formed with the sanction of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. which runs the college show.

Leaders of the three new college federations — track and field, basketball and gymnastics — issued a statement today in which they said they agreed to the broad principles worked out at an earlier exploratory meeting in Washington, D. C., Oct. 26-27.

FOUR PRINCIPLES

The college federations listed the four broad principles of settlement as the following:

1. The new federations and the AAU would enter into a signed agreement.

2. The U. S. Track and Field Federation would consider ways and means of cooperating with the AAU in regard to international recognition.

3. Dual sanctioning of competition in the United States would be put into operation.

4. Federation members would be asked to make their facilities and personnel available for AAU events in accordance with established sanctioning policies.

L.A. STATE QUARTERBACK CALLS HIS PLAY

Bond went into the locker room with the team at halftime, but as the rest of the club rested he got dressed and left the stadium.

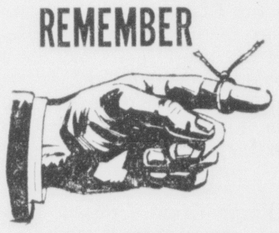
WILL AMERICA REMEMBER ITS MISSION?



America has always set the world an example in science, business and trade, and intellectual progress. But its great mission could fail if we forget the pressing needs of higher education.

Our higher institutions are sharing a crisis. Colleges are in a squeeze. Some face shortages, and all have the besetting prospect of twice the number of applicants in less than 10 years!

We must remember to support our colleges, see to it they have good laboratories, modern classrooms and a staff of competent teachers.

Seventh Straight Win; Cal Bows To Washington

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California's Trojans, patiently waiting for their ticket to be drawn in the 1962 national football championship lottery, are holding their most impressive number of the season—39.

That's how many points USC ran up in smashing Stanford 39-14 Saturday for its highest score and seventh straight victory of the year.

The Trojans stood No. 2 in the Associated Press poll last week, but No. 1 Northwestern washed itself out of contention with a 37-6 loss to Wisconsin.

The poll has seemed like little more than a lottery this year with leading teams losing almost as fast as they reach the pinnacle.

USC, however, looks like an outstanding contender for the West Coast's first national championship since the Trojans themselves won in 1939. Only Navy, UCLA and Notre Dame—all at home—stand between Troy and the eyes of the pollsters.

Elsewhere in the West Saturday, once-beaten and once-tied Oregon smashed Washington State 28-10, once-beaten and twice tied Washington routed California 27-0, the Air Force upset UCLA 17-11, Oregon State blanked Idaho 32-0, Fresno State nipped San Jose 20-14 and San Diego State upset Pacific 32-18.

Stanford Coach Jack Curtice said, "I would personally call the Trojans the No. 1 team in the nation," after he watched three quarterbacks account for the five USC touchdowns.

BREAK ICE

Tom Lupo's field goal broke the scoring ice for the winners. Then Pete Beathard ran 4 and 1 yards for two touchdowns set up by his passes to 6-foot-5 end Hal Bedsole.

Bill Nelsen, Beathard's replacement at quarterback, passed for two touchdowns in the second half and third-stringer Craig Fertig ran 5 yards for a last quarter score.

"Stopping their attack is like squeezing a lump of dough with your first," said Curtice. "You crush it and it pops out between your fingers."

Trojan Coach Johnny McKay didn't want to get involved in a discussion of national supremacy—but he admitted "the boys certainly want that rating."

HOMECOMING WIN

Oregon delighted a homecoming crowd by overcoming a 10-7 halftime deficit with two third period touchdowns and another in the fourth. Mel Renfro scored twice, once on a 76-yard pass play from Bob Berry, and set a one-season school record of 12 touchdowns.

California held Washington scoreless for more than 35 minutes, but six pass interceptions finally caught up with the Bears as Washington scored twice in each of the final quarters. Junior Coffey scored three touchdowns, the last on a 47-yard sideline dash.

This week's schedule: California at Kansas, San Jose at Stanford, UCLA at Washington, Navy at USC, Washington State at Idaho, Oregon at Ohio State, Colorado State at Oregon State, Pacific at Fresno State.

Snead, Palmer Cop World Golf Title

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—The United States possessed its third straight Canada Cup golf crown today but the American tandem of Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead almost lost it on the treacherous 10th hole of the Jockey Club course.

Hole No. 10 is a par 4, 466-yard dogleg to the right which appears harmless enough but it lined with hidden obstacles.

It was there that Palmer three-putted for a bogey 5. Snead did even worse. The Slammer fromm the West Virginia hills hooked his drive near the towering pine trees, slammed an iron shot over the back of the green, hit a bank trying to reach the velvet and wound up with a 6.

Argentina's Roberto de Vincenzo won the individual championship with a final round 68, two under par for the 6,746-yard layout.

Snead, who had led the tournament during its first three days, skyrocketed to a closing 74 yesterday, firing four bogies in addition to the double bogey.

TEAM TITLE

Palmer's 1-under-par 69 protected the lead of the Americans, who finished with an overall score of 557 for the 72-hole test for the cream of the stars from 33 nations. The grand total left Palmer and Snead two strokes ahead of De Vincenzo and Fidel DeLuca, who fashioned a 559 total.

Australia trailed the Argentines in third with 569. England was fourth with 572 and France fifth with 585.

De Vincenzo used 276 strokes in the four rounds, outnumbering Palmer and Peter Alliss of England by two shots. Palmer and Alliss had 278s. Then came the aging Snead at 279, good for fourth.

A year ago, Snead, 50, teamed up with Jimmy Demaret to win in Puerto Rico and with Palmer for a U.S. victory in 1960 in Dublin, Ireland. His 272 in Puerto Rico last year was an individual record.

The United States has also won the title on two other occasions in this 9-year-old event.

Moore Ready For Cassius

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Veteran heavyweight Archie Moore was making final preparations today for Thursday night's elimination bout with young Cassius Clay.

He said he was in "perfect shape" and "could go 20 rounds tonight if I had to."

Columbia Is Conccerned Over Lack Of Progress In Alliance Program

By WATSON SIMS

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Guillermo Leon Valencia expressed deep concern today about lack of progress in President John F. Kennedy's 20-billion-dollar Alliance for Progress program.

"Hungry people are expectant and waiting," he said. "It would be very dangerous to keep them waiting too long."

Government statistics give a gloomy picture of the plight of Colombia's 15 millions:

Most are underfed.

Per capita income is $183 a year; in the United States it is more than $2,200.

Forty per cent can't read or write.

Nearly 700,000 children do not attend school because of a lack of facilities.

The nation needs 280,000 housing units for improved living conditions.

"When I visited the United States last spring, I was told Colombia would be a showcase for Alliance for Progress," Valencia told an interviewer. "The showcase is ready and waiting but there is very little to put into it."

The program is a good one, the president said.

"It could transform Latin America in a magnificent way, to the advantage of the United States and all countries concerned," he added. "But the Alliance for Progress must make more progress if our hopes are to be achieved."

Colombia, with former President Alberto Lleras Camargo at the helm, was the first country in Latin America to submit a long-range plan for the program a year ago.

It proposed 22,000 new classrooms, 43,066 housing units, irrigation projects, agricultural development and industrial programs to create thousands of new jobs. In 10 years, the Colombian planners figured, per capita income could be increased to $286 a year.

The total investment would amount to 8.4 billion dollars, of which 1.7 billion would come from abroad, mostly from the United States.

But Valencia said "all too little" has come Colombia's way so far.

About 49 million dollars was spent in the first year of President Kenendy's program. Another 150 million was committed but has not been disbursed.

Valencia says Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba regime is trying to gain a foothold in his nation by arming and financing bandits in remote mountain areas.

The bandits have been killing an estimated 100 persons a month in isolated northern and western districts.

Widespread banditry has been an outgrowth of political feuds that raged for 20 years until 1958, when a coalition government was organized.

Woman Gives Up -Checks No Good

A tinge of conscience must have prompted a San Rafael woman to ask police to take her into custody for writing bad checks.

Julie Annette Janelle of Carmel Hotel, San Rafael, at 4:45 p.m. Saturday asked San Rafael police to keep her from writing bad checks. She showed them where she had written $437 in bad checks, according to police reports.

When some of the bad checks had been verified, she was booked into the Marin County jail on that charge with bail set at $525.

Scientist Disagrees On Calorie Requirement

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has no really accurate idea of how many calories any person should consume daily in order to be properly nourished despite the widely used scientific charts of daily calorie requirements, said Dr. Henry Borsook who is a biochemist and thinks of nutrition chemically.

Medical science needs few things more than it needs greater accuracy in this regard because, in his opinion, the charts are on the high side, especially in prescribing daily calories for middle-aged and elderly people. The charts allow them 2,500 if they're physically inactive and Borsook believed the accurate requirement would be below 2,000.

He was indulging in some "plain talk about nutrition," (a subject usually engulfed in hogwash as a chemist looks at it) for the benefit of students and faculty of the California Institute of Technology where he is professor of biochemistry.

One plain chemical fact is that chemically the body cares not a rap where essential nutritional substances come from; chemically it makes no difference whether calcium comes from milk or cheese "or from the chalk cliffs of Dover," he said.

"If I were in charge of an orphan asylum, I wouldn't serve the children any milk. I would provide the essential nutrients of milk—the protein, calcium and vitamins — far more cheaply from other sources such as beans, powdered chalk and vitamin concentrates. With the money I saved I would give the kids some luxuries that they would get some fun out of."

Switching his plain talk to protein, he asked and answered the question of how much protein does a person need daily. "If all our protein were meat, the most expensive source, it would be a surprisingly small amount—about two ounces," he said. if only a fifth of the protein in our diet was meat and the rest was a mixture of bread or beans, we would do very well."

As for vegetables and fruits, he said they were urged upon people mainly because of their vitamins. "But as far as vitamins are concerned, a good multivitamin pill makes the eating of vegetables and fresh fruit unnecessary, and it is a lot cheaper and easier."

Bersook was not advocating the substitution of a few daily nutritional pills for eating. In this view that is not practical.

"Let's say we need 2,000 calories, which is 20 per cent below the standard," he said. "Taking only digestible material, and considering only its dry weight, for 2,000 calories we need aobut 400 grams. That is about nine-tenths of a pound. It is impossible to get nine-tenths of a pound into a couple of pills."

Most of the nutritional diseases affect people who eat very few kinds of food, and "nutritional safety is in variety," he said. To cut down on variety in things eaten "is to court the danger of running into a shortage of one or more essential amino acids."

Body chemistry must have amino acids to build the human proteins which operate the body and eight of them are obtainable only in food.

Water District Promotes Two

George T. Eames and Bill G. Grant, both of San Rafael, have been promoted by the Marin Municipal Water District.

Eames, a 14-year employee of the water district, was named superintendent of construction and maintenance. He will be in charge of operations at all construction yards in the district.

Grant, a 11-year employee, was appointed supervisory engineer, taking charge of the district's engineering department. He has been project engineer in charge of design and construction of the district's Nicassio Dam.

Among prehistoric animals known to have existed in the San Francisco Bay Area was a three-toed horse similar to today's modern species.

Two Stolen Cars Quickly Recovered

Quick recovery of two stolen cars was reported yesterday by Marin County sheriff's office.

Kenneth W. Jones of 484 Holly Street, Terra Linda, reported a 1962 Thunderbird stolen from in front of his house the preceding night. It was found at 3:30 p.m. in front of 2658 Las Gallinas Avenue.

Donald Mackay of 36 Juno Road, Tiburon, reported at 8:50 p.m. Saturday that his pickup truck and $1,000 in power tools had been taken from Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School. It was intact at 9:20 p.m. on Miller at Almonte Avenue.

Molly Merrill Becomes Bride Of Bill Sterling In Sausalito

Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito was the setting Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Mary Olive (Molly) Merrill and William (Bill) Sterling.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holbrook Merrill Jr. of Sausalito, and he is the son of Stanford University President Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling and Mrs. Sterling.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 1 o'clock by the Rev. Richard Trelease of Shawnee Mission, Kan.

MOLLY WAS given in marriage by her father, and she received her vows wearing the wedding gown of her great grandmother, Mrs. Frank Moulton of Atherton. It was a full length, simply designed dress of white satin. With it she wore the lace mantilla that had belonged to her late Godmother, Mrs. Silas Palmer of Atherton.

Molly's attendants were her two sisters, Jenefer and Alice Merrill of Sausalito, the bridegroom's two sisters, Susan and Judith Sterling of Stanford, and Cressy Wallace of Kentfield. They were gowned identically in princess styled dresses of soft cream colored wool.

Flower girls were the bride's cousins, Amy and Martha Latham, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Mark Latham of Palo Alto, and Abigail and Anne Carver, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carver of Woodside. Their frocks were of cream colored linen.

BILL'S BEST man was Richard Guggenhime of San Francisco. Escorting guests to their seats were Kemp Crawford and Brian Catlin of New York, Michael Erlin of Palo Alto and Robert Moore of Stanford.

THE NEW MRS. Sterling is a graduate of Dominican Convent Upper School and of Stanford University and studied last year at the Sorbonne in Paris, visiting in Switzerland during the summer. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Merrill of Menlo Park and the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lane Clemans.

The bridegroom was graduated from Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., and Stanford University and spent a year as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford. He is the grandson of Albert Morley Shaver of Ontario, Canada, and the late Rev. and Mrs. William Sterling.

To Write A Book Requires Talent, Study, Practice

By MARGARET COUSINS
Senior Editor, Doubleday & Co.

NEW YORK (UPI) — So you want to write a book? Almost everybody does, if my experience as an editor can be trusted.

And, a surprising number of people plan to write one when they get the time. Time is certainly a basic requirement for writing a book and few who have not tried it will realize how much.

Along with time, there are other considerations before embarking on such a project.

Talent is a loosely-defined term and very difficult to pinpoint, but it is more than a leaning or a desire. Talent is a creative impulse and it is a necessary portion of the writer's equipment.

Talent is innate and cannot be learned. It can only be discovered.

FEW PEOPLE are born without a talent for something, but it does not follow that all people are born with a talent for writing simply because writing is a ubiquitous form of communication.

The means of expressing this talent — that is, the craft of writing — must be learned, as any other art must be learned, by study and practice.

The publication of a book one has written is roughly similar to a concert for a musician. It is not reasonable to expect to publish a book just because you can put sentences together.

Style, which is the writer's instrument, is a distillation of study and practice, trial and error, a familiarity with the nuances of language, which enables the writer to construct a vehicle for elusive thought, to give words to the individuality unique in him. In short, craft in writing, like craft in any medium, is skill.

However, it may look to you, all writing is hard work. It is solitary and confining and it is necessary to love it to pursue it.

WHETHER THE writing concerned is the sort of expository prose which appears in directions on a label, or a long novel, the writer must be committed to a passion for communication of his ideas if he hopes for genuine success.

Considerations of money, fame or status are therefore idle. There are many easier ways to arrive at fortune or celebrity status.

If you want to write a book you should have primarily talent, craft and commitment. If these conditions sound idealistic, I admit it freely. But idealism is intrinsic in the writing profession. Some portion of these three things are part of every good book and surely no one proposes to write a bad one.

IN THE HUNDREDS of manuscripts we examine every year, one or the other of these is often lacking.

However, a gleam of talent will be nurtured by editors indefinitely, in the hope that the writer will learn his craft or get around to committing himself.

THE PUBLISHER gambles hard money as well as the dedication of the editorial staff and a long chain of distribution on every book that he publishes.

Book production is costly and there is no way to persuade a person to read a book. The publisher makes the writer's work available to the reader, but the writer must intrigue the reader by what he has to say. No publisher can do this for him.

A book takes a good deal more than time, but if you write a good one, it is almost certain to be published.

Holiday Bazaar Planned On Sunday

St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild is preparing for its holiday bazaar, and president of the guild Mrs. Robert W. Andrews has appointed Mrs. Edmund J. Coyne and Mrs. Raymond Cerutti chairmen for the Sunday event. It will be given in the school auditorium on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael. Doors will open after the 6 a.m. mass.

Mothers of the school children and women throughout the parish have been busy for weeks making the items, which will include Thanksgiving decorations for the home.

St. Rafael's Catholic Ladies Aid, the Catholic Daughters of Court St. Raphael, the Catholic youth organization and Scout groups are also contributing articles.

Breakfast will be served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Raymond W. Swanson.

Proceeds from the bazaar will be used for equipment for the school kitchen.

Father Objects That Children Have No Clear Idea Of History

"I object to the way history is taught," a father writes. "Nowadays it is combined with many other subjects. I'm afraid the children never get a clear picture of human development. My son is in high school. He doesn't know that anything happened before the Middle Ages. My daughter is in sixth grade. She is almost totally unaware of the past. What can I do to teach them?"

I'm sorry for your experience. I believe your children are unusual. However I can understand your desire to supplement their school history instruction. In my home we had history lessons, for many years. My wife and I taught our children what we thought they needed to know. I suggest you do the same.

The best book for the home history teaching of elementary school children is Hillyer's "A Child's History of the World." It was written long ago, by the headmaster of a famous private school. The publishers have brought out new editions, keeping it up to date. It gives a simple, understandable account of the rise and fall of many civilizations, and of the lives of most of our world leaders. You can order a copy at any bookstore. Your daughter will love it. Possibly your son will, too.

There are many good books for high schoolers. One of the best is Henrick Van Loon's "The Story of Mankind." For teen-agers who read well, H. G. Well's "Outline of History" can be recommended. With the world as it is today knowledge of history is very important.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Should the partisan political bias of an author influence the way he writes history textbooks?" L. D. N.

(A) No, it should not. An exception comes when books or pamphlets are labeled clearly as partisan, presenting one point of view. They can be used by senior high school teachers to show pupils how to judge propaganda. But the basic textbooks should be entirely nonpartisan.

Japanese Tobis Can Be Made From Regular Stretch Socks

By EUNICE FARMER

"I have not been able to locate any Japanese socks to wear with my Japanese flip-flops. Besides being fine on the beach, these rubber-thonged sandals are useful indoors, even in cold weather, if worn with a divided sock.

"I stitched down the center of a pair of stretch socks, from the toe to about two inches down, and back again to the toe, leaving a space of about one-fourth inch between the two seams. I repeated this about ⅛-inch outside the first stitching, for reinforcement, before slitting between the seams. One side has room for the first or large toe, and the other side will accommodate the rest.

"The socks seem even more comfortable than ordinary socks when worn with loafers or tennis shoes."

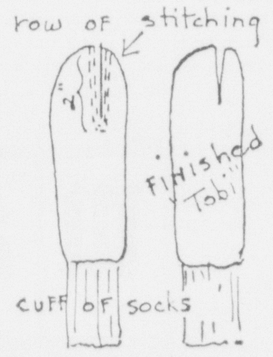
Mrs. Clarice Scott, Norfolk, Va., is this week's winner of a tailor trix pressing board for this helpful suggestion.

"Would you please tell me how to make a 'broomstick skirt?' My mother made one for me many years ago. It was very full and pretty, and it seems to me that the skirt had a permanent pleated effect."
—Mrs. G.M.

Dear Mrs. G.M.:

I'm sorry but I have no information on this type of skirt. If any of you readers have made one, please let us know how it is done. I will be happy to give the instructions in this column.

"I bought some quilted material to make my young daughter a skirt and weskit. Would you please tell me how to finish the seams and hem?"
—Mrs. F. C.



Dear Mrs. F. C.:

There are several ways you could finish these seams. Perhaps the best way is to bind the seams in matching bias binding. You could also turn under about ⅛ inch of the seam allowance and machine stitch close to the edge. Since quilted fabric has a tendency to separate, it is a good idea to finish the seams in some way other than pinking them. The hem may be made in the ordinary way, using hem tape.

The weskit would serve "double duty" if you would make it completely reversible and use a contrasting color to complement the quilted fabric. This type of fabric is practical because it requires little pressing and is sturdy.

"I have a pattern that calls for a rolled hem. I'm uncertain about how this is done and need your help."—Mrs. G.F.S.

Dear Mrs. G.F.S.:

This is a very tiny finish to a garment that is done by hand. There is a little trick that will make this hand hemming easier. Machine stitch about ¼ inch from the cut edge of your garment. Trim the excess fabric to about ⅛ inch from stitching line. Carefully roll this edge and hand-whip with tiny invisible stitches. The machine stitching is especially helpful when hemming sheer fabrics such as chiffon because it keeps the edge from stretching.

Mrs. W. A. F. says:

"I make hundreds of aprons for the Scouts to sell from odds and ends of material left over from sewing for my girls and grandchildren. It is a plain cut apron with a quilted band on the bottom. Since many women use the bottom of their aprons as a pot holder, you can see how handy this would be. The quilting is done all the way across the bottom. However, I make it wider at each end to fit the hand. You can use worn out blankets for padding the quilted sections.

Please send questions and "new ideas" to Sew Simple so that we may share them with all the gals who sew from coast to coast. Send your mail to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

Bayside-Central P-TA Sets Its 'Family Night' Dinner

Sausalito's Central-Bayside Parent-Teacher Assn. will sponsor a "family night" spaghetti dinner on Wednesday as its major fund raising event of the year. It will be held in the school auditorium, with dinner served in two sittings, 6 to 7 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m.

General chairman Mrs. Eugene Huggins is assisted by Mrs. Andre Rouzzier, and in charge of preparing the dinner are Mrs. Alice Evans and Mrs. Louise Souza, who have for many years served the school children their hot lunches.

Other chairmen are Mesdames Roy Starbird, decorations; Benjamin Farnham and Edgar Ross, dessert; and Leon Adams, coffee.

At this time the P-TA will introduce with a display table the birthday book of the month club.

Scholarship Winner To Address P-TA

Miss Ruby Yaryan, a Marinite who attended the University of London for one year on a Rotary scholarship, will be the speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Wade Thomas Parent Teacher Assn.

Miss Yaryan studied for her Ph.D. in psychology while in London. She will speak on the differences between the academic training in England and the United States and on the problems of living abroad.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Social Work Background For Old Mill P-TA's President

Presiding over Old Mill this year is the job of Mrs. M. James Norton, former music chairman.

She and her husband, James, head counselor at San Rafael High School, and their children, Brent, 14, Kirk, 8 and Krista, 5, moved to Marin from Walnut Creek three years ago.

"Lou" Norton was reared in Salt Lake City, where she attended the University of Utah, graduating with major in education. Much of her study has been in the area of speech therapy, and from this grew an interest in the field of social work.

AFTER GRADUATE study in the school of social work she was employed by the Salt Lake County welfare department and the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. Also for a short period Mrs. Norton did speech therapy through the Crippled Children's Assn. Her last "work away from home" was in rural areas of Contra Costa County, where she did foster home study and licensing for the child welfare department.

With the move to Mill Valley came an end to anything resembling a quiet life. Not only did the old home need alterations, but Mill Valley proved provocative. Since the two areas which interest Mrs. Norton are education and mental health, it was natural for her to become active in P-TA and to become membership chairman for the Marin County Mental Health Assn.

MRS. NORTON'S attitude toward P-TA can best be described in her own words — "through P-TA participation we have the opportunity of assuming our share of responsibility for children everywhere."

Others named to serve on the Old Mill board this year are honorary vice president William Lovvorn, and Mesdames J. A. Fuller, vice president; Christopher Dyer-Bennett, program chairman; Richard Nelson, secretary; George Hebert, treasurer; Benjamin Upham, finance officer; and Dennis Trulove, parliamentarian.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Talented Bridge Player Sets Grand New Record For Game

A talented friend of mine set a new record the other day by watching a television program, talking to his secretary on the phone, and mixing a batch of Martinis—all while playing a bridge hand.

It was an historic occasion, so I carefully recorded the hand:

West dealer

	NORTH
	♠ 9 7 4 3 ♡ A J 9 3 2 ◇ A 10 ♣ A 7
WEST		EAST
♠ A K Q J 8 ♡ 7 5 ◇ Q 9 4 ♣ K J 6		♠ 10 6 ♡ 4 ◇ K 8 7 3 ♣ 10 9 8 5 3 2
	SOUTH
	♠ 5 2 ♡ K Q 10 8 6 ◇ J 6 5 2 ♣ Q 4

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	2 ♡
Pass	4 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ K

West led spades until South ruffed the third round.

Declarer gave his secretary some complicated instructions over the phone and drew trumps with the king and ace.

STARTS LEAD

South next started to lead a card from his hand but put it back when we told him he was in dummy. Muttering something about playing bridge with a bunch of lawyers, and stirring the Martinis moodily, South got to his hand by ruffing a spade.

Then he led a diamond and lost a finesse to East's king.

Back came a club to dummy's ace, and South had to lose a club trick. South could get to his hand only once, with the last trump; he needed two entries to set up and cash the jack of diamonds.

SLIGHT ERROR

South made a slight error in his play. He should draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and king instead of with the king and ace.

This leaves him in his own hand to make a diamond play while he still has two trumps.

East wins with the king of diamonds and knocks out the ace of clubs, but South has two entries to his hand.

CASH ACE

He can cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a spade, and ruff a diamond in dummy.

When the queen of diamonds drops South can get back to his hand with a trump to cash the jack of diamonds.

We were so proud of South's new record that we didn't mind his slight error in the play of the hand.

But there was some objection to the way he mixed the Martinis.

We have reason to believe he used castor oil instead of vermouth.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 12, the 316th day of 1962 with 49 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1920, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis was appointed the first "czar" of big league baseball.

In 1948, the war crimes tribunal in Japan sentenced former Premier Tojo and six colleagues to die by hanging for World War II misdeeds.

A thought for the day: Robert Frost said: "Most of the change we think we see in life is due to truths being in and out of favor."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

A 75-year-old person may be sick rather than old. This is an important distinction to make, especially if he is suffering from malnutrition anemia, or a transient illness. But it is not fair to call him old or sick if he simply is acting his age.

According to Dr. Robert Kemp of Liverpool, many men and women of 75 or more years of age are frail, unsteady, forgetful, untidy, selfish, petty, repetitive, boring, or confused about people and places. They doze during the day and are wakeful at night. In addition, they are fearful of death.

THIS IS NORMAL for their age and comparable to the antics of children and teenagers in their age group. It is true that not every oldster has these characteristics and not every child behaves in the same way.

Many of these traits are bothersome to middle aged members of the family but it is surprising how often a cause can be found. Furthermore, they are not medical problems even though the physician usually is called to make Grandpa eat, or to restore zest or an interest in life to Grandma, who prefers to sit in a rocking chair doing nothing. On the other hand, Doctor Kemp suggests that the physician must determine whether a 75-year-old person is "fit though old, fit and old but neglected, old and emotionally unstable, or whether he is old and physically or mentally ill."

IT IS EASY to blame every symptom, peculiarity, or mental disturbance on hardening of the arteries or old age. Many elderly persons are better off without a physician's care, if it implies they are sick or older than they really are. It makes them more feeble, pessimistic, and ill.

We want to avoid misunderstanding by saying that the elderly should be under the care of a physician for bona fide illnesses such as heart disease, high blood pressure, cataracts, or other diseases. But the physician will have just as much trouble as the family trying to convince the old-timer that he needs non-medical help, that he should try to remember, and that he ought to eat. The main thing is to stop worrying about getting old and helpless.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ENLARGED EYEBALLS

Mrs. Z. writes: Is there some disease or deficiency connected with oversized eyeballs? My husband has protruding eyeballs and my 4-year-old son has large eyes.

REPLY

The commonest cause of this condition is an overactive thyroid gland but now and then the condition is hereditary and has no relation to disease. In such individuals, prominent eyeballs are handed down from generation to generation.

WEIGHT GAIN IN PREGNANCY

Mrs. D. R. writes: Should a pregnant woman be alarmed if only nine pounds were gained in the first six months?

REPLY

This is a below average gain but not unusual. If you have been under the care of a physician, and he is not concerned, there is no reason for you to worry.

KNEE REFLEXES

M. P. writes: My 13-year-old daughter has no reaction to knee taps. Is this important?

REPLY

The reflex response to knee taps varies and may be suppressed completely in normal persons. It is more significant when one side is more or less active than the other.

CAN BUNIONS RECUR?

D. K. writes: Can bunions grow back after they are removed surgically?

REPLY

Not as a rule, but the question is difficult to answer because the term, bunion, is misused frequently.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the City Council of the City of San Rafael has heretofore established a prevailing rate and scale of wages for work to be done, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 1770 and 1773 of the California Labor Code. Said scale of prevailing rates so determined is, by this reference, incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

The contractor shall, in the performance of the work and improvements, conform to the Labor Code of the State of California and other laws of the State of California applicable thereto, with the exception only of such variations as may be required under the special statutes pursuant to which proceedings hereunder are taken and which have not been superseded by the provisions of the Labor Code. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered on or before the hour of 2:00 P.M. on the 10th day of December, 1962, at the office of the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, City Hall, San Rafael, California, which said time and place are hereby fixed as the time and place of a public meeting at which said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared, will be calculated by the Engineer of Work of Bret Harte Drainage Assessment District, their report returned to the City Clerk, and the report of the results of the bidding and the calculations of the Engineer of Work will be reported to the City Council of the City of San Rafael at the next regular meeting thereof. The City Council of the City of San Rafael reserves the right to reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this necessary for the public good, and also the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the City of San Rafael.

Plans, specifications and contract documents are available at the office of the Engineer of Work, DAN COLEMAN ENGINEERING, 1255 Post St., San Francisco, California, Suite 1255, upon the payment of $20.00, which sum will be refundable upon return of the plans and specifications in good condition.

DOES YOUR SON SAY,

"WHY CAN'T WE STAY IN ONE PLACE LIKE OTHER PEOPLE?"

No wonder Johnny is bewildered and unhappy. Once again he has had to leave playmates behind, move into a strange neighborhood, enter a strange school. Why don't his parents buy a home and stop this endless moving?

Johnny's father says: "Sure, I'm going to buy a home some day."

Wisdom says: "Buy it now!" Now, when Johnny needs it most . . . when Johnny's father and mother are young enough to enjoy the home with their children . . . when Johnny's father is at the beginning of one of his longest earning periods.

This is a good time to buy a home, probably the best in the history of this county. For the manner in which homes are financed nowadays puts home ownership on a better basis than ever before. The cost of a home can be paid off over a long period of time. Monthly payments are usually LESS than you would have to pay in rent for the same type of property. Give a thought to buying NOW . . . and when you do, be sure and call a Marin County REALTOR, a member of

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Tiburon Travel Service Opens Under Direction Of Bert Talbot

"Talbot of Tiburon Travel Service," a new business at 9 Main Street, Tiburon, has been opened by Bert Talbot, a Marin newcomer now living at 2313 Vistazo East.

Talbot has been connected with transportation for more than 20 years. He held several executive posts with Northwest Orient Airlines, and established its Philippine operation in 1947.

Asked why he chose Tiburon to start his business, Talbot named the combination of scenery and interesting living. "If you must travel to appreciate California, then let me name some of the places of the greatest contrast," he said.

BERT TALBOT
Opens travel agency

ON THE SUBJECT of travel, American Express reports 50,000 Americans will circle the globe this year—55,000 in 1963. Most of them will go by air between the first of October and end of March, averaging six to eight weeks for the trip. Around 3,000 to 5,000 sail to the Orient, then continue by air. Chief interest seems to center around the Far East and South Pacific.

Round the world travel has doubled from two years ago. Reasons are expanded tour programs, stopover privileges and economy fares. A round-the-world ticket costs little more than a round trip to distant points.

VOLKSWAGEN'S one-millionth vehicle to become registered in the U. S. was put on the road sometime during the last two weeks in October and followed closely the usual quiet changeover from one year's VW vintage tag to another.

The only noticeable change in 1963 Volkswagens, and a minor one, at that, is the lining of the interior roof. It's now plastic, easier to keep clean than the former soft cloth. I've always thought this should have been done earlier, but VW doesn't go for numerous annual changes.

Parents Hope To Organize Aphasia Class

Parents of children suffering from aphasia (loss of speech due to brain damage) are trying to organize a special class in Marin County.

Horace Hill of 269 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, explained that the state recommends at least six children before a class is set up.

"We know of three or four children with aphasia in the county," said Hill. "We are trying to find if there are any more so that a class can be started here." Once a class is started, most of the cost would be reimbursed by the state, he explained.

Anyone interested should contact Hill, or Mrs. Dare Morgan at the Marin County Society for Crippled Children.

Hill, an insurance broker, served on the Marin County Grand Jury in 1957. He has a 9-year-old son who attends a special class in Berkeley every day because there is no class available in Marin.

Firm Date For Center Acceptance Due

This will be the first regular session in two weeks, although a short special meeting on Civic Center matters was held last Monday.

Green has indicated his hope that the much-discussed acceptance date can be stated with certainty by tomorrow. Tentatively the date has been set for next Friday. Authority for a compromise deal with the contractor, allowing price concession instead of replacement of least damaged floor tiles, eased the situation.

Taking a long look ahead, Administrator Alan Bruce will place before the supervisors his ideas for the second or Hall of Justice Wing project on the Civic Center.

Though this may not come for four years, Bruce has indicated that he needs authority for starting preliminary work on space, cost and time estimates along with other matters.

A considerable backlog of business promises a lengthy session tomorrow including 26 communications for the morning starting at 9 a.m., and several other items normally on the communications agenda placed with Department of Public Works business starting at 1:30 p.m.

These include the administrator's request for Stage II planning on the Civic Center, his plan for moving into the Administration Building, the county medical director on a Civic Center first aid station, and the county counsel's current views on the Civic Center stop-work order of last year.

Public Works business will include consideration of Division of Highways ideas about the new road connection to the county airport north of Novato, as well as the division's notice of a Shoreline Highway meeting Nov. 29.

After 21 planning matters, the supervisors at 3 p.m. will hear the appeal of Marin County Abstract and Title Co. on its desire to place a filling station on a parcel of land near Trestle Glen and Tiburon Boulevard.

Permit For Church To Planners

A request to build a new church in the Terra Linda section of San Rafael will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

The congregation of Aldersgate Methodist Church, now meeting in the Terra Linda Community Center, has asked for a use permit to build its church on Nova Albion Way near Monticello Drive.

The proposed church site is near the Nazareth House and the new convalescent hospital planned by Dr. Rafael G. Duffy Jr.

Construction of the first phase of the church, a 4,969-square-foot fellowship hall and classroom building, is expected to begin next spring, according to Frayne Fennie, building committee chairman.

The commission also will consider architectural approval for a 30-unit apartment building on Nova Albion Way as part of its agenda of 25 items.

Youth Joins Navy

The club is a new activity at Redwood under the direction of Mary J. Slifer. The club of 25 members is working on themes and dances for a concert to be presented March 15.

Protest Due Over Clemente Playground Shift

An objection to relocating pre-school playground equipon the San Clemente School grounds will be heard by the Larkspur School District board tomorrow night.

The trustees, meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Larkspur-Corte Madera School, will hear a letter from the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn.

The trustees will receive a progress report from architect Burton Rockwell on San Clemente and Neil Cummins Schools expansion and a report on the district's speech program from speech therapist Jan Ryan.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel will report on the fiscal budget and on capital outlay programs.

San Anselmo Council To Consider Road Abandonment At Wade School

San Anselmo city fathers will hold a public hearing tomorrow night on the proposed abandonment of Kensington Road to pave the way for expansion of Wade Thomas School.

The council meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the city hall.

A portion of Kensington, between Ross and Woodland Avenues, would be abandoned to enlarge the school.

A public hearing is also scheduled on the proposed apartment zoning for property at 75 Ross Avenue. Morris Burch wants rezoning from duplex to multiple so that he can put up a six-unit apartment.

Among other items on the agenda are:

An ordinance setting up a seven-man park and recreation commission to serve as an advisory body to the council.

An ordinance to rezone the property of R. E. Nolan at 1202 and 1212 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from single family residential to apartments.

Wallet Is Stolen

A wallet containing $95 in cash and credit cards was stolen from her purse at College of Marin, Mrs. Ruth Elizabeth Schwab of 8 Trexler Avenue, San Rafael, told sheriff's officers Friday. She said the theft occurred Thursday afternoon from the office of coordinator and publications at the college, where she works.

Safeway Opens Tomorrow

(Independent-Journal photo)

Mayor John F. McInnis will cut a ribbon at 9 a.m. tomorrow, officially opening San Rafael's new Safeway Store, a $200,000 building at 700 B Street.

The store, with a total area of 22,075 square feet, is almost twice as large as the former Safeway Store at Third and A Streets, which was closed Saturday.

The new store has eight check stands, modern refrigeration display cases without doors and an electronic "brain" for weighing and pricing meat cuts automatically.

The building was designed by Berkeley architect Arthur Iwata. Contractors were MacDonald, Young and Nelson of Oakland.

Sam Miller, former manager of the Safeway Store in San Anselmo, is manager of the new store. He will have a staff of 50 employees.

This represents an annual payroll of $350,000, Miller said. His assistants are Edward Maharg, assistant manager; Edgar Wright, meat department manager, and James Bianchina, produce department manager.

The refrigerated display cases keep the meats, dairy products and frozen foods at their proper temperatures through freezing units in the shelves, Miller explained. Shoppers do not have to be troubled with opening and closing doors.

The electronic computing scale in the meat department weighs each package, calculates the price and then stamps the package with the weight, price and description of the cut. It can process 15 packages per minute.

The store will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. all other days.

Miller, who lives at 31 Mountain View Avenue, San Anselmo, operated the San Anselmo Safeway for nine years. Richard H. Silvey, 213 El Prado Road, San Rafael Meadows, has replaced him there.

Board Wants Physician's Job Defined

When a successor to Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. is picked as new county physician next spring, something solid should be known about what the job is, Marin County supervisors decided today.

Administrator Alan Bruce disclosed no "job description" for the post has ever been written. He suggested that one should be.

Bruce likewise thought the board should decide whether the post should remain part-time or become full-time, what its salary should be in the future, and possible related organizational and staff changes.

Bruce noted that Dufficy has indicated he will resign "on or about April 1, 1963" when he is ready to start operating the new nursing home in Terra Linda which he has designed largely to replace the present county hospital, if patients can be persuaded to elect it under new freedom allowed by the state.

Supervisor William Gnoss indicated desire to see the physician's job made fulltime.

Victim Of Shark Making Recovery

LeRoy French, 24, of San Rafael, who escaped from the jaws of a shark off the Farallon islands Sunday, faces at least three to four weeks in the hospital.

And he and his fiance, pretty Carolann (Cam) McMenamin, 23, of San Rafael, face a decision. They were to be married this Saturday, but the shark may change the plans.

LeRoy, who is making a good recovery, wants to go right ahead and be married in the hospital, but Cam, who had been looking forward to a church wedding, is thinking about what she'll miss.

"You like to have something you can remember," she said. Cam, a secretary, for a San Francisco law firm, has taken a week off so she can be with LeRoy at the hospital.

"We have to make a decision soon," she said.

LeRoy, a partner in a San Rafael skin diving shop, is an experienced skin diver. He said the shark attack would not keep him from diving again.

LeRoy, son of auto dealer James E. French Jr., fought off the shark with his spear gun. His physician, Dr. Douglas Duncan of San Francisco, said French suffered 20 slashes, most of them to the bone in his left leg. Tendons in the leg and in his left wrist had to be repaired.

Barring complications, Doctor Duncan said, French will be in the hospital from three to four weeks. The doctor said it is too early to tell if French will have any permanent injuries.

"Fortunately, he's a strong boy," Doctor Duncan said. "That's what saved him."

Tam, Tiburon Ask County Fire Zoning

Tamalpais Fire Protection District joined today with the corresponding Tiburon body in the latter's request that county fire zones be established.

Administrator Alan Bruce told the supervisors that his new assistant, John F. Barrows, is already at work consulting fire chiefs, contractors and others interested with regard to the Tiburon proposal.

Clausen Holds Strong; Rattigan Out Of Race

scionable for me to seek another office at this time."

He promised to support whatever candidate is selected by the Democratic caucus which will meet Saturday in Santa Rosa.

Marin's Republican County Central Committee met until midnight last night in a "hair down" discussion of the November campaign, the aspirants for office and the strategy of the special election.

The delegation attending the First District caucus executive board meeting Saturday in Eureka was authorized to act "without instructions." But the three-hour session showed Clausen as favorite of the group for Republican candidate.

James McNab of Ross, one of the last speakers, summarized the meeting by saying that after airing all the problems and the candidates, it "seems the consensus of this meeting is overwhelming" for Clausen.

CLAUSEN STRONG

At least two speakers had proposed backing John A. Busterud of Santa Rosa, who was GOP candidate for state treasurer. One man and one woman had taken the floor on behalf of Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley. But 15 or more spoke in favor of Clausen, who lost the November election by 3,000 votes while polling nearly 100,000.

Marin's official delegates to Saturday's executive session will be Gerald Misner, county committee chairman who presided over last night's meeting, and David Winslow, the immediate past chairman. In addition, Norman G. Livermore has been appointed to attend and Mrs. Lee Sherry, state central committee vice chairman, is eligible. Henry Broderick and William O. Weissich are also expected to attend as observers.

Purpose of the meeting is to lay ground rules for an endorsing session the following Saturday.

SERIOUS CONTENDER

Dr. McCabe became a serious contender for the Democratic endorsement with last night's action by the Sonoma Central Committee. Its meeting also attended by Sonoma members of the state central committee, voted 19-to-2 in favor of McCabe's endorsement. One of the two minority votes went to Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, Northern California chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and the other to William Grader of Fort Bragg, Miller's West Coast representative.

The action was interpreted as meaning that the entire Sonoma County delegation, which may be 28 or 30 strong next Saturday, would vote as a bloc for McCabe, a 44-year-old native of Napa who is dean at Sonoma State. He was Sonoma County chairman for Miller and had said at last Saturday's Willits meeting he was committed to Grader's candidacy.

Education Board Accepts School Job

New buildings and alterations at Terra Linda High School were accepted Saturday at an inspection by San Rafael board of education members.

The work accepted included the music building and assembly court built by W. A. Kubon and Co. of San Rafael, and the administration area contracted by Zoellner Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Bus Service On Commuter Club Agenda

The Mill Valley Commuters Club will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall to discuss ways of improving bus service to Marin County commuters.

James A. Bollier, club president, in announcing the meeting, propounded six questions to be discussed and said the club believes the answer to each is an "unequivocal yes."

Questions are:

"Seating — Are passengers, who are paying for seats, having to stand all the way to San Francisco?

"Schedules — Should present bus schedules be revised and more buses made available?

"Routes — Can existing bus routes be changed with resulting benefits to the commuters and at no additional cost to Greyhound?

"Equipment — Are improvements needed to eliminate unsafe and unhealthy conditions?

"Parking—Would commuters be inconvenienced by current proposals to provide a two-hour parking limit on Miller Avenue between Evergreen and Tamalpais High School?

"Shelters—Are more bus stop shelters required?"

Teamsters Official's Conviction Supported

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a 4-4 tie vote, the Supreme Court upheld today the conviction of William Presser, a Teamsters Union official in Ohio, on a charge of obstructing justice. Presser is under an eight months prison sentence.

The charge grew out of the inquiry by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee into improper uses of union funds. Presser was accused specifically of tearing and mutilating an invoice subpoenaed by the subcommittee.

The invoice from a jeweler bore the names of eight persons who received $100 silver champagne buckets in 1955 paid for with funds of Teamsters Joint Council 41, Cleveland.

In appealing, Presser contended he had not received a fair and impartial trial. The high court affirmed the conviction in a brief order which said it was divided, 4-4, and that Justice Goldberg, newest member of the court, had taken no part in consideration of the case.

The high court also:

1. Refused to reconsider its decision of last June that a California law permitting imprisonment of a narcotics addict as a criminal is unconstitutional. The state's petition for reconsideration noted that the individual involved in the high court's decision, Lawrence Robinson of Los Angeles, died before the June ruling. It also said that at a rehearing the state would explain a new "enlightened program" in effect in California for handling addicts.

Justices Clark, Harlan and Stewart said the court should have vacated its decision since Robinson died before the ruling.

2. Declined to rule on the question whether there is federal power to compel the executive director of the Port of New York Authority to produce records demanded by a House Judiciary Committee. The Justice Department sought a ruling on this federal vs. state power issue in connection with refusal by Austin J. Tobin, Port Authority director, to surrender subpoenaed documents.

San Jose School Board Will Meet Tonight

Drainage and grading at the Meadow Park School site, hiring of three teachers and a custodian, and Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s request for a power line right-of-way across the San Jose Intermediate School campus are to be discussed by San Jose School District trustees at their meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the district administration building in Novato.
